Snell Blanks Portage Park On Two Safeties

Don Snell made an auspicious debut as a starting pitcher on Arlington's Jr. Legion team.

Yielding only two hits over seven frames and striking out ten, Snell was a master on the mound June 17 as Arlington blanked Portage Park, 2-0.

Although Snell had the visitors in control throughout the game, he didn't receive too much support at the plate as Fernstroms' legion nine only collected one hit off Tom Kelly, a first inning single by Fred Empkie.

Arlington pushed over the deciding counters in the sixth thanks to two walks, a sacrifice, and wild pitch. Kelly, who walked 14 in 12-5 loss to Palatine, issued only five free passes to Arlington batters.

Arlington Selected As Site for Project

The Evanston Institute for Ecumenical Studies has chosen Arlington Heights as the site of a pilot project to raise $5,000 for a carpenter shop to be built in Palestine.

The carpenter shop will be used to train Arab refugees. It will be clearly identified as coming from the people of Arlington Heights, Ill., USA.

Last December the United Nations proclaimed a World Refugee Year beginning on July 1, 1959. In order to coordinate the efforts of the people of the United States in this project, President Eisenhower called a conference in Washington of 160 civic and religious leaders on May 21st and 22nd of this year.

IN COOPERATION WITH the conference, the Evanston Institute, directed by Dr. Walter Leibrecht, has asked Rev. Truman Stehr of The Church of Our Lord, E.U.B., Arlington Heights, to be responsible for the Arlington Heights Carpenter Shop project.

Along with the job of raising $5,000, Rev. Stehr will be responsible for distributing information and materials on the World Refugee Year to the churches and interested community groups in Arlington Heights.

Prayers for the success of the World Refugee Year are to be offered the world over during the week-end of June 26-28. The prayers will be called for by Pope John XXIII, the president of the World Council of Churches and the chief rabbis, who intend to make June 27 "Refugee Sabbath".

Further information on this project and the World Refugee Year may be obtained by contacting Rev. Stehr at CL 3-9420 or CL 3-1303. (AF

Carroll Tells Peril Of Printing Sales Tax

Just a few years ago, New York state was the capital of the printing industry. Today, Illinois proudly holds the distinction—and receives many payroll and other benefits from this industry. New York thoughtlessly taxed the business out of its sovereign borders—and now there are some legislators who seem on the brink of making the same costly mistake in Illinois.

Up before the House last week was a bill which, if enacted into law, would chase the "golden goose" of our economy off into other states. It was House Bill 1141, which proposed a 3½ per cent tax on gross printing sales.

The bill was defeated in the House. The suburban legislators, Simmons, Peskin and myself, voted against it. I'd like to give you my reasons for doing so.

IN 1958, the printing industry's dollar volume of business exceeded one and a half billion dollars in the state. The payroll to Illinois citizens ran over $700,000,000—the state's second highest payroll.

From the standpoint of high wages, the printing industry also ranks second in Illinois.

The industry, it is estimated, has some 3,000 printing plants located throughout the state. It spent $30,000,000 in capital expenditures for new plants and equipment, and one-half of the products represented in these capital expenditures are produced or manufactured in Illinois.

THE WHOLE point I am making is that countless thousands of individuals and firms, big and small, are economically tied to the vast printing industry in Illinois.

Some of the biggest magazines of national circulation in the world are turned out in our state, and if we placed a new financial burden on their operations, putting them at a competitive disadvantage, they'll simply take their business elsewhere. They don't have to publish in Illinois, for they have flexible editorial and mechanical operations, and they could just as well get their printing work done in a smaller town in a state which has no such tax, and which incidentally would love to have the big payrolls within their boundaries.

HERE ARE some other significant statistics:

The net profit on printing sales in Illinois is one of the lowest of all industries in the state. The net runs 2.9 of all sales. Twenty-two per cent of the expense represents paper and two per cent in ink. Labor takes the balance, which spells out into payrolls or bread and butter for thousands of families.

In the light of this small margin of profit and the enormous payroll benefits, it would seem foolhardy to me if we slapped a tax of this kind on the industry, which they wouldn't pay anyway, preferring instead to pull up stakes and go elsewhere.

What revenue we would realize would be far offset by the economic havoc we would create. It is estimated that of the 100,000 employees that belong to the Allied Trade Council, some 30,000 would be put out of work by such a tax. We would add to our already crowded relief rolls, and increase our costs of supporting unemployment compensation.

NEWSPAPERS, magazines and other media were exempt from the proposed tax, and so the bill would not hit the Pickwick Newspapers directly. But, there are many little newspapers throughout the state who operate job shops on the side, and who simply couldn't make ends meet without the job show revenue, for contrary to some belief, nobody gets rich in the sole business of publishing a newspaper. Believe me, it's the sport of kings—like owning a stable of race horses.

The threat of such a tax still hangs over the industry, for it is reported that the bill is to be resurrected through the Senate. It is to be hoped that the measure meets a swift death there. I would not want to see Illinois do what New York did — kill the golden goose. (B8

Commercial Firms Support Hospitals

By PAUL C. JOHNSON

Among the most important supporters of hospitals these days are commercial firms. They give money, encourage their executives to serve on hospital boards, and interest themselves in local hospitals having the best modern equipment to take care of employees and their families.

Behind this support is not only a feeling of responsibility for the welfare of the community, but a solid dollars and cents interest in the welfare of their own business. Large firms have thousands of dollars tied up in union welfare programs. Furthermore, absenteeism in office and factory runs into big money in loss of productivity.

IT IS ESTIMATED that 500 million man-days are lost each year in this country due to illness. This represents a cost in wage loss alone of $6 billion, to say nothing of the indirect loss which occurs when assembly lines break down and management decisions are postponed.

More and more commercial firms now have arrangements with big hospitals and clinics to check their top men and women regularly. Large firms also have company doctors and nurses to give first aid and health counsel to all employees. Such firms have found the best is in the long run the cheapest in health care.

Medical records show that women take better care of themselves than men. A recent census of more than 6,000 hospitals in this country showed that there were 77,000 more men than women in hospital beds. This census included the maternity departments. There were also more men than women in mental hospitals.

HOSPITAL administrators now recognize the value of commercial support to voluntary hospitals by assigning industrial physicians to their staffs and consulting business leaders on what kind of physical therapy and other equipment is needed to give the best possible service to meet the specific needs of industry in a particular locality.

New hospitals now under construction in the Northwest Suburban area have had excellent industry support, and in return the hospitals will be able to give quicker and better emergency health service. (B8

OFTEN MISUSED

Avoid the use of such expressions as, "Let's don't tell him," and, "Don't let's eat all the candy now." Instead, say, "Let's not tell him, and, "Lets not eat all the candy now.

Do not say, "The sentry fled away from his post." Since "flee" means to run away, say "The sentry fled from his post."

The words recollect and remember are not interchangeable. To recollect means to make an effort to remember. One may remember without trying to or wishing to. Thus: I remember with chagrin this morning that I did not recollect the tickets when I went to the theater last evening."

Do not say, "Either of these three packages will be satisfactory." "Either" means one of two. Therefore, say, "Any of these three packages."

Do not say, "Mary is nowhere near as old as she appears." Say, "Mary is not nearly so old as she appears."

Area Industry Represented At Moscow Cultural Exhibit

A Soviet cultural exhibit will open in New York Sunday, and by reciprocal agreement a similiar U. S. exhibit will go on display in Moscow a month later with a northwest suburban firm being represented.

Ekco-Alcoa Containers Inc., Wheeling, has been selected as one of the U. S. firms to exhibit at the American National Exhibition. As the leading manufacturer of rigid aluminum foil containers, Ekco-Alcoa will contribute to the packaging display section of the exhibit.

THE EXHIBITION will open in Moscow's Sokolniki park July 25, and will contain cultural, scientific, and industrial displays to further Soviet understanding of life in America.

The packaging display will contain a representative group of the rigid aluminum foil containers manufactured by the Wheeling firm. New wrinkle-free designs and colored containers will highlight Ekco-Alcoa's contributions.

Unlike the Brussels' fair, which was a multi-nation display, this exhibit will feature displays only from the United States.

The Wheeling firm will be attending the first major American exhibition ever held in the USSR. It is expected to draw 3½ million visitors from all parts of the Soviet Union during the six weeks it is to run.

EKCO-ALCOA, which opened for production in January, 1956, is an independent manufacturing company with stock owned in equal amounts by the two firms from which its name is derived. Staffed by a dozen administrators from Ekco and Alcoa, the Wheeling company employs 300 persons, many from surrounding suburbs.

The firm's display will be exhibited in one of the three main buildings now under construction at the 10-acre site in the Moscow park. A 30,000-square-foot building, with an aluminum gold-anodized geodesic dome will rise 78 feet above the park, and will be 200 feet across. A 50,000-square-foot fan-shaped exhibition hall, 28 feet high, is under way with a glassed front and rear. It will be covered by an accordion-pleated aluminum roof. The third structure is to be a 15,000-square-foot all-plastic pavilion, whose cost is being underwritten by a group of leading plastics firms.

PART OF THE $3.6 million authorized by the President for the fair will be returned by the Soviet government which has agreed to purchase the two larger buildings for $375,000. In addition, President Eisenhower said that funds spent at the exhibition would be "about the best investment the government has made in a long time" to show the true image of America to the people of the Soviet Union.

Ekco-Alcoa's exhibit will be displayed with those of 64 other American firms.

The Wheeling firm's display, said the United States information agency, will "project a realistic image of America... How America lives, works, learns, produces...what kind of people Americans are and what they stand for...," will be expressed through the exhibit, said USIA.

EKCO-ALCOA EMPLOYEES sort out the various aluminum foil containers the company will display at the American National Exhibition in Moscow for a six-week period starting July 25. Lucky Harry Pringey, Palatine, is surrounded by Eileen Sundquist and Barbara Bader, both of Arlington Heights. The Wheeling firm will be one of 65 U. S. industries at the Moscow show.

ROW ON ROW, the gleaming colored foil containers produced by Ekco-Alcoa, one of the northwest suburbs' leading industries, are displayed. Here Barbara Bader and Eileen Sundquist, both of Arlington Heights, look down the shelves of their company's products. The containers will go on display at the American National Exhibition in Moscow next month.

GAILY COLORED cakes, a pail of lemonade, ice cream and strawberries and chocolate sauce - these were the makings of an old-fashioned ice cream social on a Sunday afternoon that brought nostalgic memories to many of the adult guests who attended the party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Runyon, 714 E. Euclid. All the neighbors on the 700 block of E. Euclid were invited to the party which was given jointly by the Runyons and by Mr. and Mrs. H. Ayres of 711 E. Euclid.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams spent Sunday enjoying the roses at the Whitehall Rose garden in Hales Corners, Wis.

A meeting of the dance committee was held Friday night at the home of James Salisbury. The committee consists of Adam Kwiecinski, George Lauterer, Frank Bedo, Ken Bedo, George Krizek, and Gene Melvin. The dance is to be held in September at the VFW hall in Des Plaines.

A welcome is extended to Mrs. Charles Wood. Masuko, better known as Micky, is from Fukuko, Japan and has been here since February. The customs and language are very strange, but she is learning fast and likes America very much.

Prescription News

A Message From J. T. Keefer, "Your Pharmacist"

MODERN PRESCRIPTIONS ARE TREMENDOUS VALUES

It is amazing how they can be priced so low, considering the time, effort and expense of perfecting a new "miracle" drug.

EHLRICH DISCOVERED NEOSALVARSAN IN 1910.

He called it "606" because he had previously experimented with 605 other chemicals which were useless.

A RESEARCH SCIENTIST COSTS ABOUT $75,000 PER YEAR.

55 RESEARCH SCIENTISTS WORKED FOR 2½ YEARS.

They tested more than 100,000 samples of soil collected from every part of the world. Finally one valuable broad-spectrum antibiotic was discovered or more than $4,000,000 would have been lost. Yet, the final prescription cost is only about fifty cents per dose.

TODAY'S PRESCRIPTIONS SAVE LIVES AND MONEY.

Your Doctor makes fewer calls, sickness-time is lessened and you need fewer medicines to cure sickness. We always price them as reasonably as possible.

TENTATIVE dates for the play are August 13, 14 and 15 in the Little Theatre of Arlington High school.

Dutch Elm Report Is Awaited

A report on a possible cae of Dutch elm disease in Arlington Heights is being anxiously awaited by village authorities.

Results of the specimen, sent to the University of Illinois' lab two weeks ago, is expected next week. If confirmed as the tree blight, for which there is no known cure, it will be the village's first case for 1959. The tree in question is located in the 500 block on N. Vail.

Six specimens have been sent to the lab thus far this year with negative reports returned on all. The present specimen, however, was termed "a likely case" by the head of Oak Park's tree department, according to Village Manager L. A. Hanson.

AT LAST WEEK'S village board meeting an additional $5,000 was approve for the village's tree program, bringing the amount budgeted for 1959-60 to $20,000. Hanson hopes to hire two tree trimmers and a tree surgeon with a portion of this sum. Village tree work has previously been done on contract.

Village trees were sprayed in the spring against Dutch elm disease, and tree trimming is expected to get underway shortly.

Dutch elm disease was first discovered in Arlington Heights in 1956. There were six cases that year, eight in 1957, and 13 in 1958. The village annually conducts a two-prong attack on the disease consisting of spraying and pruning.

What Image Is The Church Creating?

By MARTIN E. MARTY

Sometimes this column stalks on the editorial page and sometimes it recesses in the Want Ads. One of the week's pleasant little games at our house each Thursday is the quest for its newest location. Last week, perhaps after a party celebrating the newspaper's important citation from "Newsweek" (congratulations!) someone with a sense of whimsey or of haste found a new slot.

The article, devoted to some earnest if not dourly sober comments on American Religion was headlined under the big banner on the restaurant-and-theater page:

PADDOCK BILLBOARD

DINING * DANCING * THEATRES * ENTERTAINMENT

That's not such a bad combination, I suppose. One of our national magazines employs the same editor to head both its "Religion" and its "Show Business" pages. He can draw from experience in each realm to enlighten the other. By the way, if you ever hear of his assassination and my moving to New York, you are on the trail of the prime suspect if you track me down!

Religion and Show Business. More than we often think, that is the role that has been thrust upon or accepted by many American denominations and congregations in a competitive age and spirit. I find myself joining that growing company of observers of this trend, people who ask for a redefinition of the role of a church in a society built on advertising and spectacle. What image is it now creating? In its desire for a hearing it is tempted to take the techniques of the entertainment world without rising above its ethics.

Examples: When a great evangelist calls a press conference to say he hopes to be first to hold a revival on the moon, we know that he knows he is not going to. He is going to get a headline, though, which is what he was after in the first place. But hasn't he therewith also reduced religious concern to the realm of show business? Metropolitan newspapers on Saturdays sometimes carry a pathetic overtone as they announce gimmicky sermon titles. "Will Superman meet Bridey Murphy in the after life?" "Do dogs have souls?" "I can cure your warts." We know the speaker knows no more than his audience on the catchy subject, but we know he also knows about the old phrase that the public wants to be deceived. To "deceive" is one of the most frowned-upon activities in Biblical speech. The complaint here is not against religious advertising but against a form of advertising which promotes not the Church but religious show business.

If by some act of will or courage or intelligence we clarify the churches' role, people who are now inclined toward them will regard them with new confidence. In each community the church becomes then a center of judgment and solace. It may well be the tabernacle of God's holiness, a tent of God for His people on their pilgrimage. But it definitely will not be "The Big Top."

Migrants Pose Aid Problem

Desperate Poverty Cited By National Authorities

Migrant farm workers who do the "stoop labor," the type of harvesting that defies mechanization, now number an estimated 850,000 in the U. S. More than 20,000 are employed on Illinois farms, hundreds in the north and northwest Chicago area alone.

They do the hardest work for the lowest annual income of any group of paid laborers in the United States.

Because they move with the crops, they do not qualify for local services, are not eligible to vote most of the year, must live in barracks, and can not give their children continuous education.

Take an overnight tourist cabin (before the days of deluxe motels.) Subtract from it running water, closet space, toilet, and kitchen facilities. Put into it a family of seven or eight for several weeks' residence. This gives some idea of the type of housing commonly assigned to migrant farm workers.

In many cases the housing is not even so good as this, especially in the truck garden regions of Chicagoland. Many farmers, who employ special crews of workers for relatively brief periods of time, let them use any old farm buildings available, giving little, if any, attention to sanitation.

Efforts needed to better the migrants' status were discussed recently at the Mid-American Conference on Migratory Farm Labor at St. Louis.

Reporting on the meeting in the Christian Science Monitor, staff correspondent Dorothea Kahn Jaffe interviewed four leaders of national and state efforts to tackle the migrant dilemma. Their conclusions:

—Responsibility for improving the conditions under which these people live is shared by the federal government, the states, the employer, and the community;

—Private agencies or government services will not take on the job unless there is an awakened citizenry, public opinion, to back the action;

—The employer has major responsibility for proper housing conditions and wage raises;

—There is a limit to what can be done by local groups and voluntary action. For a time there is great enthusiasm to carry on a program, but it doesn't continue unless there is government support for it;

—Most social movements don't have much permanence, unless some professional people work with them. Volunteers move away, take on other duties. A group with professional leadership keeps pumping in fresh enthusiasm and helps the work over the hump; and —Establishment and enforcement of minimum housing standards should be done by the state.

Wisconsin is one of the leaders in state housing legislation for migrants. As early as 1949, it established minimum standards covering such things as water supply, sewage and waste disposal, camp site, quality of housing.

Since then it has been working to find ways to make the standards effective. In 1951, a law was enacted requiring all camps to be inspected. Those measuring up to the state standards were eligible for certification. The act provided for the employment of two full-time engineers to carry out the program. These sanitarians were to be assisted by six district engineers.

This still was not sufficient to get complete compliance. Another law was enacted in 1957 giving farmers three years to bring their housing up to standard. After that, they would be faced with loss of their license to employ migratory workers.

This summer the law is being put to its first real test. The state health department set up a schedule of improvement over a three-year period and required the farmers to show progress in line with the schedule, leading to full compliance with the state code by 1961. Those who cannot show that they are taking steps to improve their migrant housing by the time the workers arrive this summer will be faced with loss of license.

"Those who have not brought their housing up to standard voluntarily are beginning to understand that the state means business," said Harvey Wirth, state sanitary engineer. "The old argument will no longer be accepted that the substandard housing offered here is as good as that the migrants know in their home state of Texas. 'They live in chicken coops in Texas; why should they have palaces here?' so the saying goes.

"It doesn't hold good. These people are human; they deserve to live as humans. If a farmer cannot afford to provide the facilities the state requires, some other system of shelter will have to be found."

Newsweek Features Paddock Newspapers

Suburban journalism and its growing importance in newspaper publishing was described last week in a special article in Newsweek magazine.

"Suburbia's green pastures are where newspapers have been making hay in recent years," wrote Newsweek in its Press section. "Although the U. S. newspaper field generally has been shrinking, swarms of suburban weeklies, semi-weeklies - even some dailies - have been thriving on the demand for news of . . .local matters."

The newsmagazine told the story of "one of the nation's shrewdest merchandisers of local news, venerable Stuart Paddock."

DESCRIBING Paddock Publications as "one of the fastest growing suburban newspaper chains in the U. S.," Newsweek cited the population growth of the Paddock area from 32,000 in 1950 to more than 120,000 in 1959.

Expansion of plant and equipment as well as personnel was outlined in the two-page article which told how the Paddock papers have converted from country weeklies to "papers patterned along big-city lines."

Summing up the editorial philosophy of publisher Paddock, the magazine quoted him as stating: "The community has to come first in your thinking."

Dulaney Is Named Assistant Editor

William L. Dulaney has been named assistant managing editor of Paddock Publications' 13 suburban newspapers.

Announcement of the promotion was made this week by Charles Hayes, managing editor of the chain.

Dulaney will continue to supervise news coverage for the Arlington Heights Herald in addition to his new duties.

He joined Paddock Publications in October, 1958, while completing work on his Master of Science in Journalism degree at Northwestern university. Prior to his new position, he had served alternately as news editor of the Elk Grove Herald and Arlington Heights Herald.

DULANEY HAS a degree in political science from The Citadel in Charleston, S. C., and is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, and the Chicago Headline club. He is a member of Arlington Heights Lions club and the Arlington Heights service unit of the Salvation Army. He is currently serving as program chairman of the Opportunity Council, Inc.

His new responsibilities will include supervision of a 15-man news staff and assisting with the weekly editorial page.

Worthy Service

A very worthy service is being rendered by members of the 411's Hot Rod club in that they have volunteered to direct and control the traffic during the Sunday morning worship service and Sunday school at Immanuel United Church of Christ, Church rd. near Grand ave., Bensenville.

They are doing a very efficient job and have gained our sincere confidence.

Need for Funds

As general chairman of the 53-Minute March on Cerebral Palsy, I wish to thank your paper for its fine cooperation during our May Drive. You enabled us to inform the citizens of the community about the need for funds, which led to the most successful drive in the history of United Cerebral Palsy.

I would like to give recognition also to the community chairmen who worked long hours for many weeks to make the drive possible. It would not have been a success without the aid of:

Mrs. John Mache, 3N655 Forest ct., Addison; Mrs. Emil Roeske, 407 W. Campbell ave., Arlington Heights; Mrs. Don Pollitz, 526 Thorndale, Elk Grove Village; Mrs. Richard P. Hanson, Irving Park, Itasca; Mrs. Jack Morlock, 4 S. Albert st., Mt. Prospect; Mrs. Warren Mortenson, 344 Parallel, Palatine; Mrs. Robert Klepper, 404 N. Elmhurst, Prospect Heights; and Mrs. Daniel Wallner, 3727 S. Wren lane, Rolling Meadows.

I would also like to thank all of my neighborhood captains, volunteer marchers, the police department, and banks in your area whose efforts were essential to our success.

Last but not least, my sincere gratitude to every person who opened his heart and purse to the cerebral palsied. Each giver has helped to make the future brighter for the 20,000 children and adults afflicted with cerebral palsy in the Chicago-area.

Mrs. Roger Faherty
53-Minute March Chairman

Basic Fairness

It was disturbing to read of the legislative attempts to bar or put a ceiling on damage suits against local givernments, and while the opinion expressed is my own, it is from the vantage point of being an attorney representing one of the local suburban municipalities, as well as plaintiffs and defendants in injury suits.

The Illinois Constitution provides that "private property shall not be taken or damaged for public use without just compensation." Thus a local government could not take real estate for a road or other public use from a citizen without just compensation, yet the proposed legislation would allow the "taking" of life or health by negligence without compensation or with limited compensation.

Several senators are reported to have said that under the Kaneland school district decision, some local governments "might go bankrupt." It must be recognized that no damage can be awarded unless there is fault on the part of the local government. Would any one say that liability should be limited against a small or large business owner because he might go bankrupt if he were careless and a damage award was entered against him?

To my notion, basic fairness requires just compensation to the victim of negligence. Any legislation with respect to this particular problem should be in the form of an authorization for local governments to "spread the risk" by carrying public liability insurance in adequate amounts so that the rights of individual and the rights of the public, in the form of local givernments, would both be protected.

Garbage Pickup

For most families, one pick-up a week would be sufficient. That way, the price could be cut in half.

Who, in these days of high prices, could afford so much garbage?

Itasca Factories

The quiet residential village of Itasca will be changed to a "big city" with approval of the proposed zoning ordinance and the subsequent introduction of factories. The village has been able to get along without factories in the village limits for the past 100 years, but now the wheels of progress are going to run it over.

The proposed zoning ordinance will be presented to the village board of trustees on June 19 at 7:30 p. m. It is worthwhile to point out that this ordinance will not give Itasca a "Campus Type Industry." The proposed yards are: front 40 feet, sides 25 feet, and rear 40 feet. With yards this small it can hardly be classified as "Campus Type Industry."

It now appears the original intent and purpose of this zoning has been overlooked or forgotten. As you recall, the factories coming into our village were to be a source of revenue and a credit to our town.

Now the plan is to zone the property known as the Scheider and Pfluger farms M so a railroad spur can be put into service the proposed heavy industry that will be bordered by Route 53 on the west, Devon Avenue on the north, and Willow on the East. The railroad spur will cut across the farms and end near Devon Avenue. Factories that are to be located directly on the Scheider and Pfuger farms will be of secondary importance and incidental to the railroad spur. They will not be of the "Campus Type" and are being placed in this area merely to occupy the remaining property. They could well be like those industrial developments in the neighboring areas.

From the tax standpoint, it appears the proponents of the zoning ordinance are no longer interested in the tax revenue, but to occupy in any way possible the Scheider and Pfluger farms to prevent homes from being built. Homes bring families with young children that need an education and this, they claim, adds to our tax burden. They fail to recognize that this certainly is a poor reason for zoning any area as M particularly when Itasca has always taken pride in being a residential village.

It is important to remember that while we have glowing promises of tax relief by factories coming into our town, not one piece of information or evidence has been presented proving that this is the answer to our tax problems. It is not likely that there will be as no town or village in this area can boast that factories have solved their tax problems.

Before the people of Itasca give their approval of the proposed zoning ordinance for M districts, please read the zoning ordinance. You will then see that it will not assure us of "Campus Type Industry." A front yard of 40 feet, a side yard of 25 feet and a rear yard of 40 feet is not "Campus Type Industry." The minimum should be: front yard 200 feet, side yard 50 feet and rear yard 75 feet. Be sure the factories will provide tax revenue.

We need industry, but do we need it within our village limits?

People are the most valuable commodity any country, state or village can have and it is most important that people have a clean, quiet residential area in which to live away from factories. Itasca is a good place to live, let us keep it that way.

The Big Stink

Was quite amused to read about the big stink regarding the garbage situation. In the first place, who, outside of a large and going restaurant, has 80 gallons of garbage a week? Second—there is absolutely no reason to go back for cans the householder failed to put out.

The men surely couldn't overlook a large can at the curb. If they did, they shouldn't be driving a truck.

Ninety-five per cent of cans wouldn't be that full that they couldn't be held over another two days.

To me this seems to be a left-handed way to increase the price of the pick-up.

I am sure our trustees will air out this situation thoroughly.

The Way We See It

Blocked Crossings Are Critical Issue

Last Friday 144 Chicago and North Western railway freight cars tied up downtown Mt. Prospect traffic for nearly a half hour. Autos were backed up for two miles on both sides of the tracks.

Arlington Heights' railway crossings have been blocked by inoperative C&NW trains or faulty gate signals five times in the past three months, for a total of 5 hours and 25 minutes. Similar instances have been recorded in Palatine. These obstructions are in addition to the many normal daily train stops and car switchings.

Problems created by the railroad's tracks splitting these three towns are obvious. Surrounding communities such as Elk Grove Village, Wheeling, and Rolling Meadows are also affected by blocked crossings.

As the flow of traffic is disrupted, so is every phase of community and area life. Of particular seriousness is the possibility of an emergency in an area not equipped to handle it, for instance a fire on the southside of Mt. Prospect.

The village's fire-fighting equipment is on the north side, "And, thank the Lord, the railroad crossings have yet to be blocked when it was needed on the southside," says one village official.

As the area continues to grow, the problems created by blocked crossings will become more acute. What is now a minor irritation experienced almost daily by many, will soon become an intolerable nightmare for all.

Picture a line of cars on State rd. in Arlington Heights stretching from the railroad tracks north to Rand rd., blocking all east-west traffic across State rd. Or imagine traffic backed up on Route 53 south of the railroad tracks in Palatine to Kirchoff rd.

The need for action is obvious. The answer, say planners, engineers, and others familiar with the problem, is underpasses. Construction on the proposed underpasses should have been started three years ago, according to Eugene Baughman, planning consultant for Arlington Heights' and Mt. Prospect's master plans.

Today such construction must be given the highest priority.

The master plans of Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights, and Palatine call for a total of nine underpasses. Cost of the underpasses is estimated at an average of $500,000 each, too much for the three villages to bear alone.

The problem is an area one, whose cost of solution should be shared by the villages, the county, the state, and, to a lesser extent, the railway.

County, state, and federal funds, the latter administered by the state, are available for such projects. The initiative in planning and determining means for raising their share of the cost, however, must be undertaken by the villages desiring the underpasses.

Until such projects become a reality, the Chicago and North Western railway can do much to relieve the situation.

The railway is a necessary and desirable adjunct to northwest community life. It has, however, at times appeared indifferent to the problems it creates.

Railway repairmen have caused traffic jams by actuating crossing gates without notifying village authorities. The switching of cars often appears to be done with little regard for the blocking of crossings, and tracks have been raised with no adjustment made to crossing boards.

Illinois Must End Racial Segregation in Its Schools

George T. Wilkins, state superintendent of public instruction, announced recently that his office is making "an independent, factual and detailed" investigation of charges that segregation is practiced in certain Illinois public schools.

Wilkins said he has ordered his supervisory and legal staffs to investigate complaints of racial segregation in 24 cities and villages and one township.

When an official inquiry is concluded, the schools chief will present his findings to local and county school officials. If it is determined that segregation actually exists in elementary and secondary schools, he will request officials to halt such practices.

"If local officials fail to act and make no effort to eliminate outright segregation, then we will enforce our previously announced policy of withholding state aid funds, including school lunch funds," said Wilkins.

His views contrast sharply with those of his predecessor, who claimed he was powerless to act in such cases.

State Superintendent Wilkins deserves the wholehearted support of every Illinois citizen in his program to eliminate racial segregation in our public schools. One of the gravest issues confronting American democracy is that of race bias and discrimination. Too many northerners cluck tongues and wag fingers at segregation in the South while turning a deaf ear to similar practices in the North.

Illinois should sweep its own doorstep clean before finding fault with its neighbors.

A 'Pat' That Really Counts

They say a pat on the back encourages a man to do a better job.

We've had more than our share of "pats on the back" in recent months. Last fall, the Illinois Press Association presented us with four editorial awards and last month honored us with the Editor-of-the-Year award. National Editorial Association presented us with three of their top prizes, and the National Religious Publicity Council conferred its 1959 Award of Merit upon us. Our efforts have been discussed in such diverse publications as Editor and Publisher magazine; Work, the monthly publication of the Catholic Council on Working Life; and Newsweek magazine.

But the pat on the back that meant the most was a phone call Monday morning from a 9-year-old girl who wanted to say "thank you" for our account of her birthday party and to congratulate us for "getting all the facts straight and the names spelled right."

That's the kind of "pat" to keep us on our toes and encourage us to do a better job!

Fox River Development Plan

Members of the Commission for the Development of the Fox River have recommended to Gov. Stratton a plan of development for the Fox river. The program includes construction of dams, completion of a two-year master plan for the river, dredging, engineering survey of the entire river for recreational purposes, extension of the bridge clearance minimum directive, appropriation of $7 million for capital improvements, and establishment of a permanent executive commission. A second phase of the program calls for a land acquistion program for development of boat launching sites and picnic areas.

There has been broad public approval of the program for recreational development of the Fox river. Paddock Publications lends its support to this plan with the hope that it will now proceed without delay so that the children and the people of today and tomorrow may enjoy good healthful outdoor recreation and an appreciation of the beauty of the Fox.

Pet Shop Guest Loathes Confines of His Cage

by JACK MARTIN

A Bensenville pet shop has a special guest who dislikes cages.

Banjo, a two-year-old miniature chimpanzee who moved into the Jan-Lynn shop two weeks ago, has already made three or four breaks from his pen. Although the ingenious animal is being offered for $200, this Houdini may become a free gift if he applies his escape artistry to the front door.

A rather small, innocent-looking acrobat, Banjo made a mockery of his new cage. It took him one day to learn to unfasten the latch, which was soon bolstered by a leather strap. The chimp then drilled a hole through the back of his abode, which was promptly moved against a solid wall.

Not at all dismayed, Banjo found a loose screw in the roof and made his escape with the help of a loose board. At last report he was gnawing his way through the leather strap.

Mrs. Joseph White, who operates the pet shop, says Banjo's dislike for his new quarters stems from the fact that he is accustomed to sleeping on a bed, and with a pillow.

IF LET LOOSE at night, the chimpanzee delights in a midnight snack, but prefers to rob the bathroom rather than the refrigerator. Disdaining his regular diet of oranges, celery, bananas, and monkey chow, he finds such delectables as tooth paste and soap.

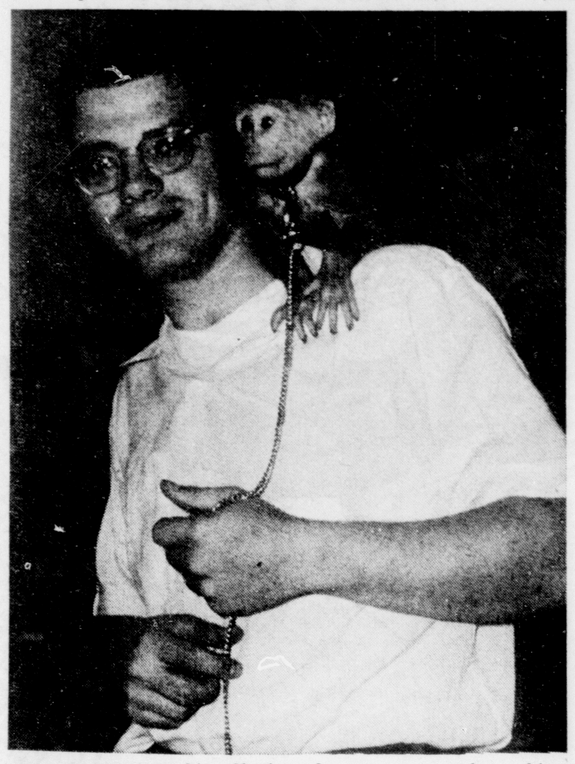
For midnight sport he unrolls the toilet paper.

A lover of children, Banjo has been trained not to bite and, like any two-year-old, understands what "no, no!" means. Unlike most chimpanzees, he walks on all fours. He is an excellent climber and can scale a six-foot man in less than five seconds.

Mrs. White, whose daughter Millicent is Banjo's biggest fan, explained that the chimp's wardrobe consists only of one red and white sweater at the moment, but that more clothing is on the way. Banjo, however, showed a marked preference for nudity; he stripped himself of the sweater in 10 seconds, four minutes and 50 seconds less time than it took Millicent to dress him.

MINIATURE chimpanzees, who carry their rascality into the ripe old ages of 50 and 60, do not care for cameras either. Although quite willing to pose, Banjo felt that he should be allowed to photograph the reporter. Utilizing all four of his active paws, he made several swipes at the Rolleicord, two plunges at the flash bulbs, and one direct attack on the cameraman's person, sending the staff member back to Arlington Heights to ask for a raise. (B13

BANJO INSPECTS his nails. Fond of grapes the pet stores them in his throat and appears to have several wads of tobacco stowed away.



BANJO ASSURES himself of good press coverage by making friends with the reporter. Just two years old, a miniature chimp can expect to live to the ripe old age of 40-60.

CONTEMPLATING ANOTHER escape? The miniature chimpanzee's dislike for cages stems from the fact that he is accustomed to sleeping on a bed, and with a pillow.

Universalists Hold Third Annual Meeting

Countryside Universalist Fellowship held its third annual meeting in connection with its worship service this past Sunday. Donald S. Oppenheimer, chairman, presided. Following the report of the minister, Albert F. Harkins, in which he pointed out that during the last year 27 persons joined formally the Fellowship, officers and trustees were elected.

Dr. Arthur E. Hoover, 396 Pleasant st., Hoffman Estates, was elected chairman; Ray C. Houtz, Inverness Countryside, Palatine, vice chairman; Mrs. Terry Wilkins, secretary; Milton Parker, 652 Bennett st. Palatine financial secretary secretary, replacing Mitchell Schorow whose term expired and who was ineligible for re-election; Mrs. Major L. Younce, Chicago, to a 2-year term on the Board of Trustees and John Fitzwater, Streamwood, to a 1-year term on the Board of Trustees, replacing D. E. Allison who resigned. Oppenheimer declined the nomination to be the Fellowship's chairman because he is moving from the area.

The Fellowhip also adopted the budget as recommended by the Board of Trustees. Countryside Universalist Fellowship meets Sunday mornings at 10:45 in the Parkside public school, Maple and Howard sts., Roselle, and is an affiliate of the Council of Liberal Churches (Universalist - Unitarian). (AB

Do not say, "He came in under the awning." Omit "in."

Do not say, "In the year A.D. 1812." This is redundancy, since the letters "A.D." are the initials of the Latin "Anno Domini," meaning "in the year of our Lord."

Distinguish between the nouns advantage (a condition favorable to success) and benefit (a favor conferred; a profit). Thus: "He sought advantages which would bring him benefits."

Do not say, "We have been doing that right along." Say, "We have been doing that regularly (or, persistently)."

Distinguish between judic i a l (referring to judges, decisions, courts, etc.) and judicious (showing good judgment). "Judicial procedure is often unduly slow." "His choices are always judicious."

Do not say, "If I was him, I would stop being so infantile." Say, "If I were he, I should stop being so infantile."

SUBURBANITES IN THE NEWS

How Dutch Elm Disease Came To Infect American Trees

by JAMES FIZZELL

Dutch elm disease was first discoreved in Holland in 1919. By the mid thirties it had spread throughout Europe. The first cases of elm disease in this country were reported in 1930 when three trees in Cleveland, Ohio, were diagnoised as affected with the disease and were removed. Three years later, the disease was found to be active in the vicinity of New York City.

In the next few years, outbreaks were reported in such widespread localities as New York, New Jersey, Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. By this time, the origin of introduction of the disease had become apparent with the interception of Burl elm logs at the port of New York. These logs, highly prized by furniture makers were found to contain both the Dutch elm fungus, and the European elm bark beetle, one of the carriers of the disease. With this discovery, the U. S. department of agriculture issued a quarantine directive regulating importation of the logs, but unfortunately the fungus and carriers were already well established without the necessity of further introductions.

IN ILLINOIS, the first diseased tree was found near Mattoon in 1950, and by 1954 the disease had hit Cook county.

What is Dutch elm disease? Dutch elm disease is the result of a fungus which invades the water conducting vessels of elm trees. The fungus is carried from diseased to healthy trees primarily by the European elm bark beetle. The close association of this beetle with the fungus is what makes Dutch elm disease so disastrous. At egg laying time, the female beetle seeks out dead or dying elm wood with bark intact, and lays her eggs beneath the bark. The larvae which hatch from the eggs burrow tunnels in the outer wood and inner bark.

The fungus grows and fruits abundantly in these tunnels, thousands of spores being borne in a sticky fluid. By the time the beetles have matured they have many spores sticking to their bodies, and when they cut their way out of the bark, they carry these spores with them.

Upon emergence, the adult beetles immediately fly to healthy elms and begin to feed. Feeding takes place only in the crotches between small twigs on healthy trees. As the beetles chew into the bark, spores are dislodged from their bodies and get into the sap stream of the tree where they reproduce and eventually distribute throughout the tree.

THE FUNGUS, growing in the younger say wood of the tree interferes with water conduction, causing wilting and death of the tree. With death, the tree becomes the breeding place for more beetles, and the cycle begins again.

Control of the disease presents a twofold problem. First, the source of the fungus and the carrier must be removed. This means cutting down and burning all dead or dying elm trees. The bark beetle will not breed in healthy elms and will thus be eliminated. If a stump is left when the tree is cut, the bark must be removed to below soil level. Any logs saved for a fireplace must be completely stripped of their bark.

Secondly, healthy trees must be protected from attack by the beetle. For most adequate protection, healthy trees should be sprayed with DDT yearly. The spray should be applied in April, before the flowers or leaves appear, and must cover all bark surfaces, particularly the crotches of small twigs and branches. Spraying after leaves appear is of little value since the small crotches cannot adequately be covered.

IF IT IS not practical to spray all elms in a community, by all means healthy trees within 1000 feet of a known diseased tree should be sprayed.

With careful and prompt attention to this control program, Dutch elm disease can be controlled and possibly eliminated. For more information, contact your Cook County Farm Bureau Office, Arlington Heights, Illinois. (BB

International Trade Fair To Be Opened by Jet Roar

The overhead roar of jet fighters during the 1959 Chicago International Trade Fair will dramatically underscore this city's burgeoning as a jet aviation center, in the view of Richard Revnes, Managing Director of the Fair.

The Fair, sponsored by the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, will be held July 3-18 at Navy Pier Exhibition Hall in celebration of the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway and the emergence of Chicago as a new world port.

Revnes points out that "the arrival of commercial jet aviation in Chicago coincides with the city's new role as terminal port for the Seaway, and affords the area the most modern air travel capacities."

IN THE MILITARY demonstration, a total of 60 Navy and Marine tactical aircraft from Oceana Naval Air Base, Virginia, including 38 jet fighters never before seen in Chicago in mass flight, will participate in fly-bys July 2-July 8.

Twenty-four turbo-jet Douglas Skyhawk A4D2s and 14 Chance Vought Crusader A4D2s, 24 propeller-driven Douglas Skyraider AD6s and Lockheed Neptune P2Vs as well as Marine helicopters will take part. Two of the Marine A4D fighters will be on ground display.

The July 2 fly-by will be timed to coincide with the noontime steam-by of the flotilla of U.S. Navy vessels scheduled to salute the Fair.

ON JULY 3, 4, 7 and 8, additional noon fly-bys are scheduled by the four Navy attack squadrons, the one Marine attack squadron and the one Navy patrol squadron.

In addition, Marine pilots will fly close air support with 12 A4Ds on July 4 during the amphibious landings of "Operation Inland Sea," the simulated air and ground assault along the Chicago waterfront. The Marine fighters will also demonstrate "over-the-shoulder" bombing techniques.

A special July 4 exhibition at 3 p.m. is expected to include the spectacular close formation maneuvers of the famed Navy jet demonstration team, the Blue Angels. They will fly six F11F jet fighters.

ON JULY 6, the 60 plane air fleet will honor visiting Queen Elizabeth in a 10 a.m. fly-by.

Almost as spectacular as the military air exhibitions planned for Fairgoers is the jet aviation progress the demonstrations signify. The advent of commercial jet service across the nation, coupled with jet airline flights begun here March 22, adds a new dimension to Chicago's greatness as mid-America's transportation center.

Jet-tailored O'Hare Field, nort[illegible] west of the city, now serves the [illegible] giant Boeing 707 jets of American, Trans World and Continental Airlines. Fifteen jet flights enter and leave Chicago daily. United, Northwest Orient, Eastern and Capital Airlines plan to introduce jet services for Chicago in the near future. (BB

FSLIC Celebrates 25th Anniversary

The Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, established by Congress in 1934 and currently celebrating its 25th anniversary, plays a leading role in assuring the safety of savings in savings and loan associations, according to J. A. Eagleson, president, of the First Federal Savings and Loan association of Des Plaines.

Eagleson said that the FSLIC not only makes possible the insurance of individual savings accounts in an amount up to $10,000, but it also performs other functions equally important in keeping savings safe. While the insurance of accounts up to $10,000 is particularly important in cases of emergency, the corporation's performance of a "watchdog" function may be even more important.

Among other things, the FSLIC requires each insured institution to follow safe and sound management and financial policies including the observance of proper safeguards to protect your savings and the making of low-cost quality home loans that will stand up over the years. In addition, the Corporation sets regulations for member institutuions, many of which conform with laws passed by Congress.

Under the Corporation's regulations, for instance, the books of insured associations are examined regularly by qualified civil service examiners. Association directon receive copies of examiners' reports to review, and must make prompt adjustments or corrections in their methods of operation if the need is so indicated. These examinations often aid the institution in improving its practices or strengthening its financial position or management.

The FSLIC also sets regulations pertaining to the reserves of the institutions it insures. Reserves are required to meet any losses which may develop in the everyday course of business.

Other functions of the FSLIC are fixing requirements for corporation membership, setting minimum requirements for employee fidelity bonds, and establishing the areas in which member institutions may make home mortgages.

35,000 Residences To Get Gas Permits

Northern Illinois Gas company began mailing heating permits Wednesday to approximately 65,000 residential applicants who were on the utility's waiting list on May 31.

According to H. A. Diekmann, NI-Gas' vice president in charge of sales, these applicants will have one year to install heating equipment.

AT THE SAME time Diekmann said that the Illinois Commerce Commission had approved the company's plan to modify its space heat restriction order.

The changes will permit NI-Gas to make natural gas available on a limited basis for heating multi-unit dwellings, schools, churches, municipal buildings, plus commercial and industrial establishments. Natural gas for heating has not been made available to these customers since the restriction order went into effect in 1946.

Diekmann said the company was finishing plans to administer this phase of the modified restriction order.

"ALL WHO ARE interested in heating apartment buildings, businesses, etc., should contact the gas company in writing if they desire to be listed," Diekmann explained.

"All installations must be authorized by NI-Gas," Diekmann continued. "Application can be made at any of our stores or offices by using the coupon that will appear in an advertisement soon to be published in local newspapers."

NI-Gas also obtained permission from the ICC to furnish natural gas for all new single family residences, where application is made after May 31, if heating equipment is installed by the end of 1959. Diekmann emphasized that all those building new homes this year who have not applied still must request the company for gas heat and receive a permit before making the installation.

CONFIDENCE that Midwestern Gas Transmission Company's 360-mile pipeline from Tennessee to Joliet will be completed in time for use next winter prompted NI-Gas' decision to send out permits at this time. NI-Gas will receive 60 million cubic feet daily as its share from this new pipeline.

Permits were mailed out earlier this year to 41,500 homes on the company's waiting list as the result of the 50 million cubic feet daily supply it will obtain from Northern Natural Gas Company through an East Dubuque to Des Plaines pipeline NI-Gas is now constructing.

When present permits have been acted upon, about 390,000 of NI-Gas' approximate 640,000 residential customers will be heating with natural gas. This compares with 29,000 who heated with gas when the restriction order first went into effect. (BB

Green Coffee Beans Arrive for Jewel

The first shipment of green coffee beans to arrive in the Port of Chicago directly from South America via the St. Lawrence Seaway was unloaded Sunday morning.

Consigned to the Jewel Tea Co., Inc., the beans were purchased in the Highlands of interior Colombia, shipped by rail to Barranquilla and loaded aboard Grace Lines Steamship Santa Regina May 30. Arriving at the Port of Chicago 14 days later, the ship traveled the Caribbean Sea and Atlantic Ocean to the mouth of the St. Lawrence river, through the Seaway with stops at Montreal, Toronto and several U.S. Great Lakes ports.

The consignment was loaded on Jewel trucks at the dock and sent to the company's Barrington plant, 35 miles northwest of Chicago's loop. Here, Jewel roasts nearly 30,000,000 pounds of green coffee beans annually for distribution as roasted and instant coffee in Jewel Food stores and Eisner Super Markets and through Jewel's Home Service routes in 39 states. All green coffee beans used by the company in Barrington are imported from Central, South America and other coffee producing areas.

The shipment marks a new era for Middle Western coffee roasters. With the expanded St. Lawrence Seaway making the Port of Chicago available to 90 per cent of the world's ocean-going vessels, green coffee no longer need be moved through Eastern Seaboard or Gulf Ports and thence by rail or highway to reach the Great Lakes region.

Ground Broken for Bruning's $1 Million Research Lab

Ground was broken Wednesday, June 17, for a $1,000,000 research laboratory at the Charles Bruning co., on Central road in Mt. Prospect.

Bruning officials expect the two-story building, which will have laboratory rooms capable of duplicating any atmospheric conditions, to be in operation in December.

The new research center containing 27,000 square feet of space, will house laboratories, pilot scale production facilities, administrative offices, library, and engineering, drafting and general service facilities. It will be staffed initially by 50 research people, principally chemists, engineers and technicians.

Herbert F. Bruning, president, said the center will consolidate all the company's engineering work with the research activity now conducted at Bruning's Teterboro, N. J., plant. Research has become a management function at the policy level, Bruning added, in order to improve future planning for the company and its products.

Dr. Carl Botkin, recently appointed vice president in charge of research, will direct the new department.

The Bruning Company is a pioneer developer of diazotype copying machines and equipment for general office use and for the engineering and architectural professions. A large part of its new laboratories will be devoted to research in light-sensitive reproduction systems.

Some of the features to be incorporated in the new building include a special two-level lighting system, complete air conditioning, and photographic darkrooms. Provision has been made for an eventual 40 per cent expansion of the research center.

$100 Million Assets Reached

Continuing to gain savings at the rate of $1,000,000 a month net, St. Paul Federal Savings and Loan Association of Chicago has now passed the $100 million mark in assets, Frank P. Kosmach, president, announced today.

This latest figure, Kosmach said, represents a 350 per cent increase over the $22,000,000 of assets in 1953.

St. Paul recently announced a building program that will double its facilities at 6720 W. North ave., Chicago.

Baidinger Receives Institute Award

Harry S. Baidinger, 205 S. Owen st., Mt. Prospect, was awarded a diploma by the American Savings and Loan Institute at the Chicago chapter's graduation on June 17.

The diploma is awarded to students who have completed a specified course of studies in savings and loan association operations. Baidinger is employed by Bell Savings and Loan Association in their mortgage loan division. (BB

Four Additional Commuter Express Trains Proposed

Suburban service on the Wisconsin division of the Chicago and North Western railway will be increased by four additional commuter trains on express schedules as a result of the proposed elimination of two overnight through trains between Chicago and Minnesota points.

The railroad several days ago announced it has asked the Interstate Commerce commission for authority to eliminate the through trains known as 510-511, operating overnight between Chicago and Duluth, and 514-515 operating overnight between Chicago and the Twin Cities and southern Minnesota points. It said the two sets of trains last year operated at a combined net loss of $2,837,655, and for the first three months of this year were operated at a net loss of $7,500 a day.

With the elimination of the through trains, used to a limited degree by Crystal Lake, Woodstock and Harvard commuters, the railroad proposes to add suburban express trains on the Wisconsin division with approximate schedules as follows:

A NEW suburban train would leave Chicago at 6:30 p.m., the same departure time of No. 511, operating non-stop to Mt. Prospect, with stops at Arlington Heights, Palatine and Barrington, then non-stop to Crystal Lake, Woodstock and Harvard, arriving Harvard at about 8 p.m.

A second new suburban train will be scheduled from Chicago at 9:15 p.m., fifteen minutes later than the present departure of No. 515. The suburban train would operate express to Barrington, with stops at Fox River Grove, Cary, Crystal Lake, Woodstock, and arriving Harvard at about 10:38 p.m.

Inbound to Chicago, a new suburban train will leave Harvard at 7:10 a.m. making all stops to Barrington, then non-stop to Chicago arriving Chicago at 8:40 a.m. Train No. 646 now leaving Harvard at 6:55 a.m., arriving Chicago 8:36 a.m. making all intermediate stops to Arlington Heights, would be shortened to operate from Barrington instead of Harvard. The service from Barrington, and suburbs north, will be speeded up with the new train, and congestion will be relieved on No. 646 with fewer stops, the railway said.

THIS NEW suburban train would not be a counterpart of the early morning through train proposed for elimination. That through train, No. 514, which now stops only at Harvard at 5:25 a.m., averages less than one passenger per day from that town, according to the railway. The new suburban train will be an additional rush-hour run.

To accommodate riders boarding the present through train No. 510 at Harvard, Woodstock and Crystal Lake its only stops en route to Chicago, a second new suburban train will leave Harvard at 9:40 a.m. arriving Chicago 11:10 a.m., the same arrival time of No. 510 at present. This train will offer new, mid-morning express service for Cary, Fox River Grove, Barrington, Palatine, Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Des Plaines, in addition to the three present stops of the through train.

The railway explained the new schedules, in detail, will be announced as soon as they are finalized. Departures from intermediate suburbs would then be known.

Unique Barbecue Clinic Slated for Arlington

A "how-to-do-it" barbecue clinic, especially for men, will be presented at the Jewel food store, 24 N. Dryden ave., Arlington Heights, on Saturday, June 27, with two complete programs at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The clinic, presented by Russell Fifer of Barrington, will feature barbecue cooking on two grills, and the relaxed art of this popular outdoor cookery for and dinner meals will be demonstrated.

Fifer, a business counselor for a number of food companies and related firms, has conducted special cooking demonstrations of this sort on 23 different TV programs in nine states, including Nebraska, Utah, Texas, Iowa, Kansas, Wisconsin, Oklahoma, Ohio and Illinois. He also has appeared on many radio shows as guest chef.

FIFER gained national recognition way back in 1929 when he managed a successful cow-walking derby of two Ayrshires from Vermont to St. Louis. He later served as a photographer on a round-the-world tour and lectured for five years on his travels before school and civic audiences in many midwestern cities. He was also executive secretary of the American Butter Institute for 14 years.

Saturday's demonstrations at the Jewel store will show two grills in operation, one a spit for roasting a pork and the other for salt and butter steaks. Also featured will be "how-to" preparations of shishkebob, grilled apples, corn, and other fruits and vegetables.

Free gifts will be awarded to all those who attend the clinic, and a beautiful barbecue grill will be the grand prize.

The barbecue clinic theme is "Eat better with more variety and less work this summer. Cook outdoors!" Everyone is welcome to come in and see how it's done. (BB

OFTEN MISUSED

Do not say, "You are right about him wanting to help us out." Say, "about his wanting to help us." (Omit 'out").

Avoid the expression, "usual custom." The word "usual" is redundant, since "custom" means a habitual or usual course of action.

Distinguish between all together (two words, meaning in concert) and altogether (one word, meaning wholly). Thus: "They sang all together, which was altogether unusual."

Do not say, "I have an idea that they have left the city." It is better to say, "I think that they have left the city."

Do not say, "He was bold enough to say it in front of me." Say, "He was bold enough to say it in my presence."

Do not say, "They have started up a factory to make these articles." Omit "up."

Children Off to 'Y' Day Camp Tuesday

The first 2-week period of the Northwest Suburban YMCA "Day Camp Adventure" will begin Tuesday, June 30, for boys and girls 7 through 12 years of age in this area. The day camp will meet Tuesday through Friday each week for three periods; June 30 to July 10, July 14 to July 24 and July 28 to August 7.

Seventeen schools in the northwest suburbs will be pickup points for those attending "Day Camp Adventure," with chartered buses covering the entire area. No children will have to cross a major thoroughfare, and all will be minutes away from their transportation. Schools on the schedule are located in Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Prospect Heights, Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Palatine and Des Plaines.

BECAUSE THE YMCA is a non-profit organization, cost of its day camp is kept low so that all youngsters can afford to attend. In spite of its nominal fee, adult supervision and direction is by qualified YMCA staff professionals, junior counselors are chosen for their good character and are given a thorough indoctrination and training period.

"Day Camp Adventure" begins with a morning of outdoor recreation at Deer Grove, where a reserved shelter is used by the 'Y' for its program center. Besides the hiking, fishing, hunting for turtles and other natural activities on the site, the children will learn to develop physical skills. At the start of each camp period all campers will be given a series of six muscular tests, and games and other activities will then be slanted toward strengthening weaknesses and improving coordination. Parents will receive a progress report at the end of each period.

AFTERNOONS WILL be spent at Maine high school pool where the youngsters will be given instructional as well as recreational swim, with no worry about the daily weather. There will be one instructor to each 10 children. Last year a majority of the non-swimmers learned to swim at least 20 feet in their 8-day course.

Campers bring their own lunch, swim suit, towel and blanket or cloth for daily rest periods. Milk, swim admissions, craft supplies, insurance and transportation are all included in the 'Y' fee. Those interested call the 'Y' office, Va 4-4156, for further information or registration.

Bug Marauders Are on the Job

This is the season for outdoor games, swimming, sports, barbecues — and MOSQUITOS.

With long, hot summer in prospect, the Northwest Mosquito Abatement District is set for the customary mosquito onslaught. District director Wilbur Mitchell and his crew are prepared to cover the entire District — from Park Ridge to Barrington — once every 12 days in their annual war with the pesky critters.

Work has been going on all year, says Mitchell, with an extensive drainage campaign throughout the area, and since March all known breeding holes have been inspected and treated at the first sign of larvae.

Spraying operations have been improved somewhat with the addition of two more units for a total of eight trucks. At present each residental street in the district is sprayed once every 12 days, but the addition of new homes in the fast-growing area has made it difficult to maintain this pace.

THE district's ultimate goal, says Mitchell, is to reach every home every week.

Residents can help themselves and the batement crews in the war against mosquitos by following a few simple suggestions.

"Mosquitos will breed in any receptacle that will hold an inch or two of water," Mitchell pointed out. "Typical are tire ruts, bird baths, cat or dog watering bowls, open garbage cans, cans in trash burners and discarded tires.

"Elimination of these breeding sites on personal property will help the program immensely."

Local spraying is encouraged, qand the Abatement District is happy to cooperate with local civic groups as it has done in the past. "We are a public service agency," says Mitchell, "and all inquiries, suggestions or complaints should be addressed to: the Northwest Mosquito Abatement District, 147 W. Hintz rd., Wheeling, or call LEhigh 7-2306." (B8

Use The Want Ads - It Pays

Legislator Has Tough Task, Freshman Finds

by BERNARD M. PESKIN

If anyone ever tells you that this is an easy job, you just tell them to see me - I'll straighten them out in a hurry. We've had night sessions for most of this month, which means that the House convenes at 10 a.m., recesses for committee meetings at 2 p.m., which meetings last until 6 o'clock or 6:30 p.m., we reconvene at 8 p.m. and stay in session until midnight or 12:30 a.m. And, of course, most of us are at our desks by 8:30 or 9 a.m. in order that we might answer the mountains of correspondence we've been receiving all year.

Believe me, when I say that by the end of the week, tempers are rather short, especially at the night sessions. You can provoke a heated debate by looking cross-eyed at someone. If it weren't for the fact that by now, most of the men are on tranquilizers, no bills would ever be passed.

It's no small wonder, therefore, that the debate on the sales tax broadening bills took 3½ hours last week, or that eight amendments were proposed to the sales tax increase bill and debated for almost two hours.

AS YOU KNOW, the Administration proposed to increase the sales tax revenue by broadening the base of the tax to take in all special order goods, such as tailor made clothing, wall-towall carpeting, special order printing and machine tools, repair parts, building materials sold to contractors, newsprint and other materials used in printing books and newspapers, and other materials used in printing books and newspapers, and other things of that nature. I've been in favor of this and intended to support the bills - until the sponsors amended them to exempt the materials that go into the making of newspapers, books, peridicals and phonograph records. In my opinion, this exclusion not only cast doubt on the constitutionality of the law, but also made it grossly unfair to tax one segment of an industry and not the rest.

Now, it's very true that only the Supreme court can say what is constitutional and what is not. But I firmly believe that the General Assembly must use the same criteria in determining what is a good revenue measure; that is, the tax must be fair, equitable and uniform. The broadening bills, after the exemption amendment was adopted, failed to meet the last named qualification, so I voted against the first two, along with Reps. Mikva, Scariano, Elward, Hurley, Simon and several others who felt the same way. We all, incidentally, voted for the other four bills in the series, which applied the tax uniformly to all segments of the industries which they affected.

THE OTHER revenue measure which provoked lengthy debate was the ½ cent increase in the sales tax. When it was advanced from second to third reading, a group of us introduced amendments aimed at knocking out the new provision providing for a rebate of 2 per cent to the merchant to cover his cost of bookkeeping. Our objection here is that the average small merchant will only benefit by less than $2 per month - certainly not enough to warrant the loss to the State of some $14½ million in revenue for the next biennium. The only ones to really benefit will be the large food chains and department stores.

As a matter of fact, the Department of Revenue supplied us with figures which indicate that four companies will receive back some $600,000 - a nice windfall for something that may cost them $10,000.00 per year each.

It is significant to note that the appropriation for the Department of Public Welfare is short some $15 million in the personal services account, that portion of its budget which provides for the employees in the mental hospitals and other welfare institutions. Under this budget, the Department will have to further reduce the already short staffs at each institution, and forego much needed pay raises for these people. We're going to attempt to amend the appropriation bill to add the needed money this week, and when Rep. William Pollack (R-Chicago), the minority whip, gets up to sing the same old song: "Here we go again - where are we going to get the money?," as he has done with every attempt by the Democrats to advance some piece of progressive social legislation, this time he'll know the answer beforehand. Cut out the rebate provision under the sales tax bill - the amount is there, almost to the penny. (B8

Boating, Marines Featured in July

Boating is fast becoming America's number one sport. The July "Suburbia Today" supplement casts off and tours the country's waterways, dropping anchor here and there at some of our marinas—those dock-side marvels that are virtually suburbs-on-their-own, providing both mooring and servicing facilities for boats and a myriad of other services for the boat owners, including laundry, baby sitters, secretaries, and interior decorators.

Other features in the color-grayure magazine distributed in all Paddock Publications are notable for their variety both in content and location. There is a story on Cranbrook, the fabulous Suburban Art Center in Bloomfield Hills near Detroit, with its nationally famous schools, church, gardens, art galleries, and science museum that are the pride of the neighboring communities.

FROM THE EAST Coast comes the hilarious lament of Jerome Weidman, author of such best-sellers as "Enemy Camp" and "What's In It For Me?" Weidman is leaving the suburbs, but he stops packing long enough to tell us his reasons for doing so.

From the far West comes a story about a young suburban family that lives high on a mountain ridge only a few minutes from San Francisco and has built a round house made of redwood and glass to take the very best advantage of their fabulous views.

Of course, there are several features that apply to any place and almost to any time. One small piece of sheer, concentrated fun is an outline on how one goes about crashing a party. We cannot, in all honesty, recommend some of the methods outlined, but we certainly can recommend your reading about them. And cast an eye on "Suburbia—Any Day!"—a group of cartoons highlighting some of the everyday experiences that sooner or later are the lot of most dwellers in the pleasant places.

THE FOOD PAGES offer easy-to-follow, kitchen-tested recipes for "Salads—Special and Satisfying."

Our regular departments, "Books, Movies, & Records", and "Cross-Country Classified" are full of useful vacation helpers that will enhance your home, your library, and your pleasure long after you return—from Vip cartoons and Mitch Miller's Folksongs to a traveling first-aid kit, a coffee travel kit, a feed-bag handbag, and many others.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

by Edward Rentz

Latin America starts in Mexico and works its way south . . . so does the cooking. Mexican is about the hottest school of cooking in the world, and the spices gradually thin out until we get to the Argentine where most dishes are almost as placid as a New England boiled dinner.

In between, please believe me, you will find a degree of spiciness to please all tastes. Actually it is Indian cooking overpowered by that of the conquerors — mainly, but not entirely Spanish. In some places the Indians were pushed out entirely, and the cooking shows it. In others, like Equador, the newcomers, after five hundred years, have little more than "A Foot In The Kitchen Door." Springfield Sidelights

Last Days of Legislative Session Are Hectic Ones

By REP. PAUL SIMON

The last days of any legislative sessions are hectic. The final committee work is completed; and those of us in the legislature remember the many things we wanted to do but have not done, and this adds to the confusion of the final two weeks.

I don't know what the record will be this time, but in previous sessions more bills actually have passed during the final two weeks of the session than in the previous five and one-half months.

During the strain of those final weeks many bills do not receive the attention they should, many proposals which should pass are defeated, and many bad bills are passed which should be killed.

MUCH OF THIS is just the result of human beings being what we are. Students in high school and college don't study for their finals like they should regularly but have a tendency to do a great deal of studying at the last minute. "Deadline time" at a newspaper tends to be a time when there is a burst of activity.

The two weeks before July 1 are our "deadline time" and that's when we have our "finals."

As a result, not only is action taken very quickly on many bills, but the legislators have such a heavy schedule, that we are not able to give measures as alert an attention as we could with a little lighter schedule.

FOR EXAMPLE, let's take a look at one House member's schedule for Monday of the week in which this is being written:

9:00 a.m. to 1 p.m. Committee meeting.

1:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. General session of the House.

5:30 p.m. to 7:45 p.m. Committee meeting.

7:45 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Free time for evening meal during which you discuss bills with other legislators.

8:30 p.m. to 12:15 a.m. General session of the House.

12:15 a.m. to 1:45 a.m. party caucus.

After that a quick sandwich and then sleep before an 8:15 morning appointment.

That day's activities are unusually heavy, but on most days now our official activity carries us past the midnight hour. The worst sound of the day is the telephone call in your hotel in the morning. Then you wonder how it could possibly be morning already.

THESE DAYS when people in Springfield ask you how you are, the usual "just fine" is replaced by the word "tired"—and some of our legislation shows it.

A bill which should help this situation somewhat is one making it possible for legislators to file bills prior to the convening of the session. This bill has passed the House and is now in the Senate.

That will permit earlier committee work and should help to make the final weeks at Springfield a little less hectic.

It is in the interest of better health for the legislators and better laws for the public. (B13

THIS TIME THE DAMSEL rescues a hero in distress. Hugh O'Brian, TV's Wyatt Earp, swamped with unanswered mail from fans and personal friends, called upon the services of Nancy Nelson, secretary for Stivers Office Service, Chicago, suppliers of temporary office help. While playing a two-week engagement recently at Drury Lane theatre in Evergreen Park, O'Brian kept up with his correspondence between performances of "The Rainmaker" and personal appearances. "It was a dream come true," said Nancy, "and no secretary could have a more considerate and appreciative boss."

Here Are Helpful Hints For Vacation Travelers

More people vacation in July, August and September than during any other 3-month period of the year.

Most people who travel those months will make the trip by car.

About three out of 10 trips during the period will be less than 100 miles. More than half will be less than 200 miles.

With these facts in mind, the National Safety Council issued these helpful hints for vacationers:

BEFORE YOU start your trip—

1. Jot down the items you want to take along. You'll think of more things to add to the list as the Big Day approaches. And you'll probably eliminate a lot of the excess baggage.

2. Have your car serviced thoroughly. Pay special attention to lights, brakes, tires and steering.

3. Make sure you take along such items as a first-aid kit, spare tire and jack.

On the way to your vacation spot, the Council says:

1. Pay strict attention to your speed. And obey traffic signs — they're your signs of life.

2. Look out for the other fellow. A good driver is a defensive driver.

3. Don't overdo it on the road. Take rest stops often, and limit your day's driving to 300-400 miles.

AND WHEN you arrive at your destination—

Don't overdo it!

"Fun is fun," the Council agrees, "but too much exercise can be dangerous. Play in moderation—and rest when you're tired." Other suggestions:

1. Swim only as far as you know you can.

2. Look where you're diving. Before you dive, find out about underwater obstacles and the water's depth.

3. Enter cold water gradually.

4. If your boat capsizes, stay with it till help arrives.

5. When it's hot, drink lots of liquids.

6. Better be pale than parboiled —don't get half baked under the sun. (B13

'Clutterbuck' Is Shady Lane Comedy Bill

There will be a turn to the high seas and things nautical — and slightly naughty—at Shady Lane next week.

Author Ben Levy has concocted a situation wherein two couples are enjoying a sea voyage until they discover that they both cared for the same paramour before their marriage. The plot is then complicated by the appearance of Mr. Clutterbuck, the man in the case. When a very luscious blonde appears on the scene the action gets torrid and tempestuous.

"Clutterbuck" will utilize the artistry of Robert Baines, Scott Griffin, Robert Carlson, Mary Jane Kersey, Fran Ryan, Ervil Kay Hart and Marlene Paulette in the principal roles.

The run of "Howie" closes Sunday night and Tuesday evening will bring the opening performance of "Clutterbuck," which will be played through July 5. Shady Lane theatre is located at Marengo.

Des Plaines VFW Plans Anniversary Festival

Independence Days festival activities for the Des Plaines Veterans of Foreign Wars post 2992 should be just a bit happier — and a bit prouder — than usual this year.

Along with its sponsored weeklong festival, the Des Plaines Post is celebrating its 25th anniversary and a proud history of service and growth in the community.

So the eighth annual festival, from June 29 through July 5, promises to be bigger and better than ever. Festival grounds are located south of Des Plaines on Oakton blvd. between Illinois and Center sts. and will be open starting at 7 p.m. each night. Special matinees are scheduled for July 4 and 5 starting at 2 p.m.

GAMES, RIDES, refreshments and beautiful prizes, including a 1959 Pontiac catalina station wagon, air conditioner, stereo hi-fi phonograph, electric eye camera, bicycle and appliances, are all part of the week's entertainment.

A special night has been designated for Des Plaines Little Leaguers — Major and Minor — and Pony Leaguers, on Tuesday, June 30. Two rides and a bottle of pop will be free on that night to these guests of the VFW.

For the 360 members of post 2992, the year marks an important milestone. Back in 1934, about 35 veterans met in the home Adolph Lanctot to form the Des Plaines post, with Lanctot installed as first commander. Today 13 charter members of that group are still active in VFW affairs.

For six years, the group met in the homes of various members. During World War II, until 1949, the post found quarters in town and then in the Rand Park fieldhouse. As membership grew with returning veterans, the post shifted, in 1949, to its present Memorial Home, east of Rand Park on Miner st.

Last year, additions to Memorial Home were completed, and Post 2992 now boasts one of the finest clubs in the country in beauty and scope of facilities. The Home also has become a leading community center for dances, entertainment and meetings of many Des Plaines groups.

The Ladies Auxiliary of 2992 got underway in 1935 with a nucleus of 35 members, and present membership is 50. In 1935, too, came Post 2992's first —and often best remembered — contribution to the community.

IN THAT somber Depression year, the Des Plaines VFW sponsored its Milk Fund Benefit to provide milk for the children in the schools. Since that time, Post 2992 has been active in civic affairs and service activities involving deceased and disabled vets and their families.

Another proud chapter in the history of 2992 dates back to the years immediately following World War II. Housing was scarce, and many veterans could find no homes for themselves and their families.

Post 2992, other service organizations and the city decided to do something about it. Result was formation of the Des Plaines Veterans Homes, Inc., a non-profit organization devoted to setting up low-cost housing in the area.

The group raised some money of its own, then arranged for a loan from the Cook County Housing authority. Out of this came the fine low-cost homes on the south side of Des Plaines which helped to ease the housing problems of those times.

THE POST and Ladies Auxiliary are also engaged in extensive work with the local veteran's hospitals, and cooperation in other VFW projects of national scope.

And the post's rifle and pistol club, with first place trophies in just about every competition throughout the state in recent years, has brought Des Plaines added recognition.

In its Silver Anniversary year, more than 300 of the club's 360 members, under commander Carl Schutzmann, are World War II and Korean vets. Three of its members, past commanders Walter Lang, Henry Harm and Herman Deisenroth, are life members of the VFW.

Deisenroth is marking his seventh year as general chairman of the Independence Days festival. (Bill

RUSS TAMBLYN, playing the title role in "Tom Thumb," screen version in color of the famed Brothers Grimm fairy tale, is captured by villains Peter Sellers and Terry-Thomas. Screen magic has reduced Tamblyn to the five-inch hero of the George Pal production for MGM, combining live action, animated cartoon characters, songs and dances. Opening Friday for one week at Des Plaines theater.

LANA TURNER has more than 30 wardrobe changes, all designed by Jean Louis, and wears $1 million worth of real jewels in her starring role in "Imitation of Life." The Universal-International production, in color, which is based on the famous Fannie Hurst novel, plays for seven days beginning Thursday, June 25 at Star View Outdoor Theater, Route 20 east of Elgin. Also featured is "The Mating Game" with Debbie Reynolds, Tony Randell, and Paul Douglas.

College Seniors Wed In June 20 Rites

Both seniors at Indiana university, Sue Ann Oldaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Oldaker, 405 Can-Dota, Mt. Prospect, and Michael Collin Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Harris, 1408 Kensington, Arlington Heights, were joined in marriage June 20 at the First Methodist church of Arlington Heights. Dr. Hughes B. Morris officiated at the 2 p.m. double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of embroidered nylon net over taffeta. The dress featured a scalloped, sweetheart neckline and five tiers of ruffles over a hoop skirt. The seed pearl crown and veil had been worn by the bride's mother. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white stephanotis and white orchids.

THE MAID OF honor, Miss Carolyn Cook of Boswell, Ind., wore a gown of blue silk organza with a cummerbund sash of aqua and royal blue with a large royal blue bow in back. Her matching blue petal band hat had a circular veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations.

The bridesmaid, Miss Jane Oldaker, the bride's sister, was dressed the same as the maid of honor.

Best man was David Schimmel of Arlington Heights and ushers were Patrick and Terrell Harris, brothers of the groom, William Oldaker, the bride's brother, and Jack Johnston.

Mrs. Harold Bechman of Carbondale was the organist and Miss Patricia Tesar of Arlington Heights was soloist in the church which was decorated with palms and baskets of white flowers. (Community Camera

A GARDEN reception for 300 guests was held at the home of the bride. The bride's mother received guests in a blue linen sheath and matching accessories with corsage of miniature pink roses. The mother of the groom wore a dusty pink embroidered mousseline de soie sheath with dusty pink satin cummerbund. Her accessories matched her gown.

After a 4-day honeymoon at the Wagon Wheel, Rockton, the couple made their home in West Lafayette, Ind., where the groom is employed by National Homes corporation.

At Indiana the bride was a member of Delta Zeta sorority and the groom belonged to Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

How to Remove Wallpaper Spots

Grease, crayon and ink spots on your wallpaper are not always "fatal." Catherine M. Sullivan, University of Illinois home management specialist, advises applying proper treatment immediately.

A fresh grease spot may be removed by blotting with a clean tissue or blotting paper. Then cover the spot with a mixture of fuller's earth and carbon tetrachloride. After the mixture has thoroughly dried, brush it off. Test on a small inconspicuous area first, because some pigments "bleed" when carbon tetrachloride is applied.

CRAYON MARKS can be removed with a grease solvent, says Miss Sullivan. First scrape lightly to take off as much crayon as possible. With a cloth dampened with carbon tetrachloride, sponge with a light touch. Do not rub.

If possible, blot up ink immediately. Apply an absorbent powder, such as cornstarch. Brush off as soon as it takes up the ink. Repeat.

Ink eradicator may remove color, so it's a good idea to test it first on a piece of wallpaper you may have saved, or in an inconspicuous area. (S

Just Around the Corner from Patty McArdle

These Are Happy, Fun Days!

Dear Peg:

With the wonderful help of Aunt Dot—who drove up from Indianapolis a week ago—we are just about settled in our new home. As a matter of fact, the only boxes left to unpack are those containing all the little things that normally stay in boxes in the attic or basement: baby books, antique lamp bases, etc. in need of repair, old piano music and boxes of old letters to you, dear, which some day may find their way into a scrap book. Until now, I never could understand why people thought that it was easier to keep house in a large house than in a small one. It is pure joy to have more than enough room for everything and so easy to put and keep things in order. For instance, the linen closet upstairs has more shelves than I'll ever have linen and several of the cabinets in the kitchen look like "old Mother Hubbard's cupboard"—those that are partly filled have plenty of room to arrange the items neatly and easily. Speaking of the kitchen, it's enormous (compared to what I've been used to for the past eleven years). It's so pleasant to cook dinner and have so much counter space that it doesn't even show (and when I think how, just a few days ago, I was still setting an occasional pan on the radiator for lack of counter space!)

It's been a thrill to see how well our furniture and "knick-knacks have fitted in and how pretty the new slip covers look. One of the most exciting thing to happen while we were working on the living room was to have Mary Clark offer us some drapes that she had no use for—they are exactly the right length, the correct number of pairs and dyed to match the carpet perfectly!

The only rooms which need anything done immediately are the breakfast room and adjoining TV room—Bob has already finished painting the woodwork in both rooms a soft yellow to match the background of the yellow and brown, provincial print wall paper that Mother and Dad McA had left over and gave us after some papering they did at the farm. It will be so attractive with the antique walnut dropleaf table and chairs in the breakfast room and the maple furniture in the TV room. One of the first places we cleaned and arranged was the basement. Although not a decorated recreation room, it is large, dry, has a bathroom and outside entrance and with a big carpet on the floor provides a very nice place for the children and their toys. These are happy, fun days for the McArdles!

My love,
Patty. (Soc

It's a Bride's World All Year 'Round at Carson's

"It's a bride's world at Carson's," not just in June, but all year 'round. For although June is still the traditionally favored month for weddings, it's also the time when brides-to-be of coming months make their wedding plans. And it is for these happy planners that Carson Pirie Scott and company, Edens Plaza, announces its fall and winter bridal promotion offering ideas by the score for appropriate shower and wedding gifts, for well-chosen trousseaus, for the wisest selections in silver, china, stemware, linens and household items and, of course, most important of all, for beautiful and memorable weddings.

The Joan Adair advisory service and the Joan Adair wedding gift service are Carson's answer to what every bride seeks — expert advice and counsel that will make her wedding all she's dreamed of. With the experienced help of her bridal secretaries at both parent and branch stores, Joan Adair will be happy to advise on every phase of wedding preparations down to the smallest detail, from the bridal dinner to the reception following the ceremony and the thank-you notes for gifts. Through the Joan Adair wedding gift service, she will help the bride select and list her preferences in china, silver, crystal, linens and home furnishings, as well as assist in choosing decorative schemes.

THE BRIDE'S room at Carson's offers a selection of romantically lovely bridal fashions featuring the wide shoulder look with magnum, leg-o-mutton or pouf sleeves and graceful bertha or wide Nina Ricci collars. Wedding party gowns are gorgeous in rich, glowing jewel tones.

Four fashion shows featuring fall and winter bridal fashions will be given, two at the downtown store, one at Edens Plaza and one at Hillside, in which wedding gowns and bridal party costumes as well as trousseau clothes will be modeled. The schedule for bridal fashion shows is as follows: Thursday, June 25, Edens Plaza, 7:30 p.m. second floor; Saturday, June 27, Carson's downtown, 3:30 p.m. North Tea room, eighth floor; Monday, June 29, Carson's downtown, 6:15 p.m., North Tea room, and Tuesday, June 30, Hillside, 7:45 p.m.

One of the brightest highlights of the fall and winter bridal promotion is a group of table settings in the linen department created as a "Salute to Brides" during this month of June. The display features tables appropriately set to represent the bridal table and the important anniversaries.

Visitors to this anniversary exhibit will find many interesting ideas for unusual, colorful and attractive table settings.

The Bridal promotion will continue through June 30.

Lois Rosa, Charles Abramson Married in Evening Ceremony

In a church decorated with white gladioli, peonies and roses, Lois Fabrianne Rosa became the bride of Charles Peter Abramson in an evening, double ring ceremony June 13 in First Methodist Church of Palatine.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand F. Rosa, 319 Prospect Manor, Mt. Prospect, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Chester Abramson, 55 Elmwood, Palatine.

Wearing a gown of white silk organza and lace and a veil with crown of iridescent sequins and pearls, Miss Rosa was given in marriage by her father. Her bouquet was a cascade of white rosebuds and ivy.

Mrs. Robert Christianson of Palatine, the matron of honor, wore a gown of pale blue dotted silk organza and carried a nosegay of pink carnations and forget-me-nots. Bridesmaids were the bride's twin sisters, Susan and Judith Rosa, and another sister, Mrs. James Barushok of Orono, Me. The attendants wore gowns of pale pink dotted silk organza and carried bouquets identical with that of the matron of honor.

GEORGE PALMER was soloist at the ceremony and organist was Merce Heise. Rev. Harold E. Olson officiated.

Miss Jean Barushok, 5, of Orono, Me., the bride's niece, was flower girl and was dressed like the bridesmaids. The groom's nephew, John Rasmus, 5, of Park Ridge, was ring bearer.

David Abramson of Palatine was his brother's best man and Gerald Meyer and Robert Maruster, fraternity brothers of the groom from Bowling Green, Ohio, and Paul Christianson of Arlington Heights served as ushers.

A reception for 125 guests was held following the ceremony at Farman's hotel in Lake Zurich.

Mrs. Rosa, the bride's mother, wore a dress of beige lace and silk organza and a corsage of beige cymbidium orchids. A corsage of white cymbidium orchids complemented a dress of blue silk chiffon over taffeta worn by the groom's mother.

(Community Camera

AFTER A WEEK'S honeymoon in Fond du Lac, Wis., the couple took up residence in that city.

The bride was graduated from Crystal Lake high school. The groom attended Palatine high school and has a bachelor's degree from Bowling Green university in Ohio. He is employed by Sears Roebuck in Fond du Lac.

In Summer, Thoughts Turn To Annual Hospital Fair

June may blow hot or June may blow cold but the thoughts of the Northwest Community Hospital center, women's auxiliary are on autumn and Christmas.

The auxiliary's third annual fair will take place in the fall with emphasis on Christmas gifts and decorations.

Mrs. G. Ronneberg, 868 S. Plum Grove, Palatine, fair chairman, entertained members of the planning committee recently.

Discussion centered around the site of the fair, its theme and decoration. Another planning meeting is set for July 14.

PROCEEDS from the event will be donated by the auxiliary to the hospital now under construction immediately south in Arlington Heights. Committee members emphasized the fact that none of the items prepared for sale at the fair will be available for sale prior to that time.

An exhibit in of sample items was a highlight of the recent meeting.

AMONG THOSE present were Mrs. William Kotel, 223 S. Louis, Mt. Prospect; Mrs. J. G. McCartney, 1953 W. Thornhill, Inverness, Palatine; Mrs. Carl Fahse, rt. 1, Roselle; Mrs. John G. Kronseder of Des Plaines; Mrs. Clyde Schuetz, 1 E. Willow, Prospect; Mrs. Edward H. Strand, 160 S. Plum Grove, Palatine; Mrs. Herbert O. Barten, 56 S. Pine, Palatine; Mrs. Henry O. Luebke, 602 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, Mrs. George Orescan, 307 Waverly, Palatine; and Mrs. P. A. Wannagat, 339 N. Plum Grove, Palatine.

Mrs. Joseph Strecker, 3200 Hawk, Rolling Meadows, president of the auxiliary, also attended the recent meeting.

I'm Sick of Being Happy!

I wish I could either recall more about Pollyanna, the Glad Girl, or find the book. I can remember Elsie Dinsmore just as though I had read about her only yesterday. This is because I did read about her only yesterday. I found the book in the attic. And, things were dull.

Elsie was so pure she was sickening. But, not, as I remember, as nauseating as Polly. Way back in the dim reaches of recollection, I seem to see Polly, a victim of adversity after adversity, always finding some little thing to be glad about. It was mostly being glad over some other person's good fortune. She was without anything to be glad about on her own hook. Right here, even at the tender age I read about her, I bogged down.

But, now I wish to locate the book because I have spent the summer, the amount of summer we have had, being glad about everyone's trips. And, the toothy smile that I have had glued to my lips is beginning to take on all the aspects of a snarl. I am growing weary of being happy for the other fellow. Fiddle on my fellow man; I want to go away. Way, way, way away.

I've been delighted to give going away parties for the neighbors. I've watched them drive away with their car all loaded with golf clubs, fishing rods and children. I have gaily welcomed them home. I am cheerily helping one of my young get ready to go out to the West coast. I sew, advise, help with lists, shop and make reservations and tell her how glad I am for her. And, I guess I am. Another child is planning on going South to visit relatives and won't she have a good time.

A friend of mine is busily making plans for a trek to Arizona, and I told her how happy I was for her because she has wanted to go so badly. Other neighbors are going fishing in Wisconsin. How gay for them. Certain relatives of mine are at Colorado Springs having a ball. Isn't that dandy for them?

Finally I called my Mother knowing how she would commiserate with me on my plight. I never got a word in edgewise because, of all things, SHE is going around the world shortly and didn't I think that will be fun for her and am I not glad, glad, GLAD for her?

Twenty Records Newlyweds Must Tuck Away Forever

The freshly signed marriage certificate will be among the newlyweds' most precious possessions which they'll tuck away in a safe place.

But other records merit their attention and care too, according to University of Illinois home management specialist Virginia Guthrie. She lists 20 of the most important records that young couples should keep either temporarily or indefinitely.

Besides the marriage certificate, eight other records fall into the "save indefinitely" category.

THERE ARE military service records, birth certificates, social security records, real estate deeds and papers, personal property inventory, investment records, an up-to-date employment record and wills—although they may not make wills immediately.

Eleven records are key "temporary" records to keep.

High on the list are cancelled checks, most of which should be kept about two years. However, all checks for which income tax deductions will be filed should be kept for as long as the income tax returns (five years.)

Other canceled checks to keep are those for insurance; rent as long as the couple lives in a certain place; payment of debt; payment of securities, investments or real estate; and any that might be needed to confirm a date of purchase or price paid for such things as home equipment or furnishings.

OTHER TEMPORARY records to keep are:

Both income tax records and check stubs that relate to income tax—about five years in case the Bureau of Internal Revenue has questions.

Duplicate deposit slips — until deposit appears on bank statement.

Receipts and receipted bills—about six months.

Sales slips—until product has proved satisfactory or has outlived its guarantee.

Guarantees—until invalid.

Insurance policies—only those currently in force.

Income record—especially valuable for couples who have irregular incomes.

Miss Guthrie points out that a systematic method for keeping records will save much frustration. If they start by keeping records a young couple will find that it requires little effort and they will know where necessary records are when needed.

THE LINE FORMS to the right for refueling time in this Rolling Meadows home. Youngsters look eagerly at the cookies offered by Mrs. Walter Schoenfeld to assorted children from the neighborhood who congregated at her back door. Mrs. Schoenfeld, who has five children, says their ultimate dream for the summer is a wading pool in the backyard. She adds that it's really nice to have them home for the summer, they are a big help around the house.

Mothers Observe Vacation Time

Two weeks ago teachers breathed a sigh of relief as children left the classrooms for the summer. As one teacher waved goodbye to her class a mother was heard to say, "You may be happy about this, but I'm not." Summer means that mother must be available throughout the day for taxi service, popsicle money, medical aid, dry clothes, food, escort service, food, consultation and food.

In all honesty, however, most mothers agree that the earlier weeks of vacation find children spending most of their waking hours outdoors. "It's toward the middle of August that the going gets rough," one mother remarked, "and we are plagued with 'what to do.'"

One deviation from schooltime routines for mothers is the steady flow of traffic to the kitchen. All the energy expended in play and rough-housing requires fuel. A continual flow of requests for milk, lemonade, cookies and sandwiches is the norm.

ONE MOTHER of a pre-schooler said, "All I have to do is make a pitcher of koolade and there are 20 kids in the backyard. I don't know how they know, but they know."

Eating lunch in the backyard and impromptu pop and potato chip parties rate high with youngsters.

Then, of course, summer brings mother's ability as a nurse to the fore. Banged-up knees, cuts, bumps and bruises become almost daily occurences.

Summer, too, is hard on the clothes closet. Baseball, wrestling matches, making mud-pies under the sprinkler, hiking through forest preserves and similar pursuits are not condusive to the impression of newness in clothes. Vacation time can mean that the pedal pushers that were new the day school let out will be threadbare by the Fourth of July.

FOR SOME LUCKY mothers vacation time means that there will be help around the house, a watchful eye to ride herd on younger brothers and sisters and someone to run errands.

In return, backyards of accommodating mothers take on all the aspects of a convention hall particularly if the home is blessed with a wading pool.

Not only school children become wild and wooly in summer. Preschoolers, after a winter of being pent up in the house are unleashed on the neighborhood.

THIS AGE group seems particularly intrigued by the wonders of mud and bring evidence of the fact back to the kitchen floor, or worse, the living room rug.

Despite the hazards of vacation time, mothers always seem to bring forth that certain quality of forbearance and resignation. They always seem to be able to be a combination of Florence Nightingale, the All-Seeing Eye and when necessary, the town marshal and a referee.

And then suddenly, when the breaking point is near, it's September. (S PRE-SCHOOLERS gather at the home of Mrs. Richard Andrew, back right, in Arlington Heights for a koolade and potato chip party. "It isn't unusual for this type of group to gather two or three times a week. We just have everyone bring his own glass," she says. After eating the youngsters all crowded into the perimeter of a hula hoop that was lying on the ground and sang, laughed and shouted. (S

Contributions to the American Heart Association have increased at the rate of about $2 million a year for the past 10 years, and currently some $23 million annually is donated.

Carol Edelblute Married In Childhood Hometown

The Walter G. Edelblute family, 209 S. Pine, Arlington Heights, traveled to their former home town of Moscow, Idaho for Carol Marie's marriage to Bill Bonnichsen June 4. Carol and Bill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bonnichsen of Filer, Idaho, met as students at the University of Idaho and were attended by the bride's Delta Delta Delta sorority sisters and the bridegroom's Delta Sigma Pho fraternity brothers.

The double ring service took place in First Methodist church, Moscow, at 7 p.m. with Rev. Floyd Chapman officiating. "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Billie Sommers with Don Royster as organist-accompanist. Pink and white gladioli formed the background for the candlelight rites.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of chantilly lace over taffeta with full-length, hooped skirt of the taffeta. The dress was fashioned with low, scalloped neckline, fitted bodice with buttoned back and long sleeves. She carried a silk handerchief from France that belongs to her maternal grandmother and a cascade of pink Elfe roses and stephanotis with a white center orchid.

Her veil was trimmed with appligued lace matching her dress and fell from a juliet cap of lace and seed pearls. Both her gown and veil were made by her mother, as were the attendants' gowns.

MISS LOUISE Vandenbank was maid of honor and bridesmaids were the Misses Barbara Branam, Sandra Fritz and Martha Banks. Miss Vandenbank's gown was in light blue and the bridesmaids' in pink. They were fashioned identically of a blend of cotton and silk with full skirts, short sleeves and matching cummerbunds.

The maid of honor carried a crescent of white roses and the bridesmaids carried pink roses with stephanotis and small white daisies. Their bouquets were tied with ribbons to match their gowns.

Flower girl was 4-year-old Debbie Arnold, daughter of the bride's cousin, who wore a blue nylon dress with white hat and gloves. She carried a blue and white crocheted basket with a small bouquet of flowers. The bridegroom's 9-year-old sister, Janet Bonnichsen, was candlelighter and wore a blue nylon dress with full skirt of tiered ruffles. Carrying the rings on a white satin pillow was the bride's 5-year-old brother, Kenneth.

BEST MAN was Gerald Metcalf and Paul Webb, Dick Williams and Stan Lamb were ushers.

One hundred guests attended the reception held in the church parlors where Mrs. Edelblute received in a blue lace dress with blue hat of rolled organza petals and a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother chose a navy blue and green chiffon dress with green accessories and a white rose corsage. Guests of honor at the reception were the bride's grandmothers, Mrs. Elma Edelblute of Rathdrum, Idaho, and Mrs. Eva Wakefield of Moscow.

Before attending the University of Idaho, the bride attended Moscow public schools, was graduated from Arlington high school and attended Cornell college. Her bridegroom attended Filer public schools and was recently graduated from the University of Idaho in geological engineering. He was also recently commissioned as a second lieutenant in the army and will report September 22 for a 6-month tour of duty at Ft. McClellan, Ala. Until that time, he and his bride will be at home in Filer.

Myra Landmeier Is Now Mrs. Mike Shanklin

Denver, Colo., will be the first home of newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Shanklin, who repeated their marriage vows May 30 in Faith Lutheran church of Arlington Heights. The couple, whose families both reside in this area, were united by Rev. Edgar H. Behrens at 7:30 in the evening in the church sanctuary with a reception for 350 guests immediately following in the church parlors.

The bride is the former Myra Landmeier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Landmeier, 107 S. Kennicott, Arlington Heights. The bridegroom's parents are the John Shanklins of 890 Martin dr., Palatine.

MEMBERS OF both families served the couple as attendants. Mrs. Renata Robertson of Denver, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Mrs. Mary Arnold of Arlington Heights and Mrs. Kathy Califf of Omaha, Nebr., both sisters of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. The bride's 5-year-old cousin, Nancy Koenig, of Arlington Heights was flower girl, and the bride's 5-year-old brother, Danny, was ring bearer. All the bridal attendants were gowned in beige silk organza. The adult attendants carried red gladioli and lavender lilacs.

Best man was Dave Williams of Arlington Heights, and ushers were Dan Califf of Omaha and Richard Robertson of Denver.

For her wedding the bride chose a pure silk peau de soie embroidered bridal gown trimmed with alencon lace and sprinkled with crystal beads and pearls. Her fingertip illusion veil was held in place with a crown of leaves which matched her gown, and she carried a bouquet of lily of the valley, stephanotis and a removable white orchid, which she later wore as a wrist corsage.

ORGANIST FOR the ceremony was the bride's uncle, L. Stolper of Madison, Wis., and soloist was G. Schrader, who sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Landmeier wore a lilac nylon chiffon dress with a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Shanklin chose a french gray-blue taffeta and lace sheath dress and had a pink orchid corsage. Among the guests at the ceremony and reception were the couple's grandparents, Mrs. H. Koenig and Mrs. G. Sander, both of Arlington Heights, and Mr. and Mrs. T. Davidson of St. Petersburg, Fla.

The new Mrs. Shanklin attended MacMurray college and Fashion Merchandising school, and Mr. Shanklin was graduated in business administration from Northwestern university. Both attended Arlington high school.

Float Away with Lime Banana Float

Float away from heat and fatigue on a hot summer's day when you drink a diaphanous Lime Banana Float. It's one of those delicious drinks that combines unusual ingredients in just the right proportions for complete success. The mysterious ingredients? Lime sherbet, ginger ale, a little milk—and the mellowing secret—a whole ripe banana, mashed right into the other ingredients. Doesn't that sound cool as a crystal fountain in a dark green pine forest? It is, too, but it's much more accessible to you than the forest.

Just combine all the ingredients, beat well, and your Lime Banana Float is ready to serve! You'll love this to revive your own wilted spirits on a hot day, to delight the children with a delicious, wholesome surprise, or to show guests that you're a whizz at awfting away the heat.

Dave Helfers Weds Former Classmate

Her bridegroom's sister and nieces as well as her own cousin, served as attendants in an early June wedding when Miss Myrtle Cameron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cameron Sr. of Des Plaines, became the bride of David Helfers, son of Mrs. Harry Heffers, 1124 S. State rd., Arlington Heights. The service took place June 6 in First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights with Dr. Hughes B. Morris officiating.

The bride's cousin, Howard McElhose was soloist.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father, wearing a full-length gown of white organza and chantilly lace with square front lace bodice and an orange blossom crown with fingertip veil. She carried white daisies with pink roses.

Miss Carol McElhose, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a light pink ballerina gown of organza lace with small jacket. Her flowers were white and blue daisies. Bridesmaid was the bridegroom's sister, Miss Edith Helfers and junior bridesmaids were the bridegroom's nieces, the Misses Bonnie Helfers and Linda Sue Monda. All wore gowns like the maid of honor's and carried the same flowers.

(Times Candid

One hundred fifty guests were entertained at a reception in the church parlor following the 7:30 p.m. service. Mrs. Cameron received in a pink lace dress and Mrs. Helfers in blue lace. Both chose corsages of roses and white carnations to complement their dresses.

Mr. Helfers took his bride on a week's wedding trip to northern Michigan and they are now residing at 788 Center st., Des Plaines.

Both young people were graduated in 1952 from Arlington high school. The new Mrs. Helfers is employed at Marshall Fields in Evanston and Mr. Helfers, also a graduate of Northwestern university, is with Tractomotive Corp. in Deerfield as an industrial engineer.

Children's Home Benefit, Friday

Mrs. Sam Sherman of Palatine and Mrs. Clarence A. Livingston and Mrs. Stephen Jurco of Arlington Heights, were among chairmen and committee members attending a recent luncheon to make final plans for the Starlight Dinner dance to be held Friday, June 26, at McHenry country club. The luncheon was given by Mrs. Herbert L. Anderson of Park Ridge, president of the northwest chapter of Lake Bluff Children's Home Service league, sponsors of the dinner dance.

Members and guests will dance to the music of Win Buettgen and his orchestra. Proceeds of the affair will go toward the clothing fund at the children's home.

Food Fabs Rob Americans Of Money, Good Nuitrition

Food fads rob the American public of thousands of dollars each year and, more important, they rob them of good nutrition.

According to University of Illinois nutritionist Harriet Barto, these fads usually stem from twisted conclusions drawn from scientific findings. Fads persuade people to avoid foods they should eat and foods that are usually moderately priced.

The result is that these misinformed people usually have expensive and poorly balanced diets.

To help straighten out some of these tangled notions, Miss Barto disproves the following food fads with scientific facts:

FAD Senior citizens shouldn't drink milk. In fact, milk is bad for them.

FACT. A recent dietary study of elderly women showed that a shortage of protein was one of the most common deficiencies. The recommended two glasses of milk a day for adults supply almost one-fourth of their protein requirement.

FAD. Potatoes and milk are fattening.

FACT. There's no such thing as a fattening food. No one food travels through the blood stream and settles in the fatty tissue. All foods supply calories. If you consume more calories than your body uses, fat is formed from the surplus carbohydrates, food fat and proteins.

FAD. A big dose of cod liver oil, rich in vitamin A, taken at the first sign of ticklish nose or throat, will kill cold germs.

FACT. This idea has no truth. A shortage of vitamin A will result in unhealthy mucous membranes that line the body cavities and in unhealthy skin. Thus, these tissues cannot resist disease-promoting viruses well. But large amounts of vitamin A will NOT prevent colds.

FAD. Margarine is more difficult to digest and is less nutritious than butter.

FACT. Fortified margarine has the same nutrients as butter and is as easily digested. Neither one is superior to the other.

FAD. Pasteurization reduces food value of milk.

FACT. The only nutrient that is affected in pasteurization is vitamin C, and milk isn't a rich source of this vitamin. That's why tomatoes, citrus fruits and other raw fruits and leafy vegetables should be eaten.

FAD. Flour ground at home is superior to commercially ground flour.

FACT. The two flours have exactly the same nutritive value.

FAD. Gelatin in quantities strengthens fingernails.

FACT. It's true that gelatin is pure protein, but so far there's no real evidence that protein of any kind (not just gelatin) affects the condition of the nails. The actual formation and maintenance of strong, sturdy nails is a complex process. It involves a person's nutrition and his endorcrine glands. Some diseases also affect the condition of the nails. Probably even water, soaps and other solutions in which the hands are immersed have some effect too.

FAD. Foods grown on poor soil are less nutritious than those grown on fertile soils.

FACT. Crop quantity, not quality, is affected by soil conditions.

FAD. Rare meat is either more easily or less easily digested than well-done meat.

FACT. This idea is nonsense. The degree of doneness doesn't determine how easily meats are digested. Eat it rare, medium or well done, as you like it. From a health standpoint, however, all pork should be well done.

Elegant Dessert Features Tasty Seasonal Strawberry

by LOIS SEILER

It's strawberry season once again. And here is an exciting and elegant dessert featuring that luscious summer berry.

The dessert is called French Strawberry Pie and the recipe is a favorite of Mrs. Arnold E. Freise of Arlington Heights.

The pie consists of a baked pastry shell, the bottom of which is spread with cream cheese. This is topped with fresh strawberries and a cooked strawberry mixture.

The pie is refrigerated and served with whipped cream.

VERY SPECIAL and very rich, this delicious French Strawberry Pie is excellent to serve for a dessert luncheon or as a dinner dessert.

The strawberry season is short, so you'll want to try it soon and make it often. Serve this pie following an outdoor barbecue—then sit back and enjoy the compliments!

The good cook who has shared this appealing recipe with us has had considerable experience in the culinary department. In fact, she plans menus and does a good deal of the baking for 250 to 300 children each day!

As manager of the cafeteria at St. Peter Lutheran school, Mrs. Freise buys all of the food for the lunch program too, shopping at a local market to hand-pick fresh vegetables and fruit.

She directs the activities of the mothers of school children who volunteer their help in preparing the noon meal.

"The attendance in the cafeteria during the week is a barometer of children's tastes," says Mrs. Friese. "We can always expect a good turnout on the days when hamburgers or fried chicken are served, for children love both of these."

THEY ALSO favor such desserts as cherry, apple or peach crisp, but are not especially appreciative of pie.

Mrs. Friese bakes most of the desserts, rolls and cookies for the children herself. Because she loves to cook, she thoroughly enjoys her luncheon work and still has lots of enthusiasm left over to tackle meals for her own family.

The Freises live at 1004 N. Highland in Arlington Heights. They have two children: Carol, who is 17, and Roger, 15.

French Strawberry Pie

1 baked 8-inch pastry shell
1 large package cream cheese
2 tablespoons cream or Half and Half
1 quart strawberries
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
½ pint whipped cream

Blend the cream cheese with the cream or Half and Half. Spread in the bottom of the baked pastry shell.

Wash and hull the strawberries. Slice one pint of the berries and arrange over the cream cheese.

Mash the remaining berries until the juice is well extracted. Bring juice and berries to a boil.

Slowly add the sugar and cornstarch which have been mixed together. Bring to the boiling point and cook about 10 minutes, stirring constantly, until thickened.

Spread the cooked mixture over the other berries in the pie. Place in refrigerator to cool.

Serve topped with whipped cream.

Serves 6.

Queen's Visit to Provide Sparkling Contrast to 1860

Queen Elizabeth's visit to Chicago in July will provide a sparkling contrast to the city's first experience with royalty nearly 100 years ago.

Chicago's budding society was itching to show off its finery, imported from the East, and to display the fancy drills it had practiced for a grand parade, when the Prince of Wales came to town in 1860.

But Albert Edward, later King Edward VII, came incognito as Baron Renfrew. According to the World Book Encyclopedia, he squelched the plans for celebrations in his honor and insisted on being treated like an ordinary Englishman.

Mayor "Long John" Wentworth saved face by declaring that the prince was merely following the wishes of most Chicagoans, who did not like "kow-towing to royalty."

THE CITY GOT its chance to entertain in the grand manner in 1893, when the Duke and Duchess of Veragua arrived for the World's Columbian Exposition.

Back home on the farm, the duke quietly raised prize bulls for the Madrid bull ring. But in Chicago, he was wined and dined as the only living descendant of Columbus.

The festivities overwhelmed the duke, and he was reluctant to leave. The national commission that was paying his expenses was just as reluctant to see him stay. After a month, the commission declared that his visit, so far as the national pocketbook was concerned, was at an end.

CHICAGOANS hoping to meet Queen Elizabeth might take a tip on etiquette from the debate that raged over the visit of the Infanta Eulalia of Spain in 1893. The crucial question was: Is it proper to shake hands with a princess. Mr. Potter Palmer, whose word was society's law, decided that it was up to the princess.

Mrs. Palmer needn't have been so solicitous. The late entrance wasn't yet fashionable in Chicago, and the Infanta created a social scandal by daring to arrive late and leave early at a reception given for her, by Mrs. Palmer.

OLD ORCHARD'S 3-piece orchestra provided music for dancing Saturday night when the ladies Auxiliary of Arlington Heights Elks held its first dinner dance. Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon McCandless of Palatine were among the 89 couples at the affair. Mrs. McCandless was dinner dance chairman. Newly-organized, but one of the most active groups in the area, the auxiliary's board recently sponsored a Flag day luncheon at which Congresswoman Marguerite Stitt Church was honored guest. The luncheon preceded the Elks' parade June 14.

FIRST DINNER DANCE sponsored by the ladies Auxiliary of Arlington Heights BPO Elks 2048 was held Saturday, June 20 in Old Orchard country club. The group, formed only last fall, already has a membership of more than 50 and donates part of its proceeds toward the new club house. Happy table group above includes Mrs. Richard MacDermott, president, Mrs. Robert Warnecke, program chairman, and Mrs. Robert Hutchinson, treasurer. Husbands of the women are directly behind them.

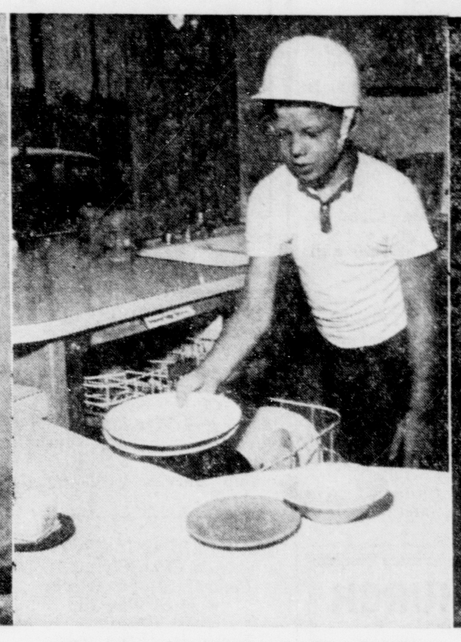
THE SWING'S THE THING

ROAMING IN THE HAY

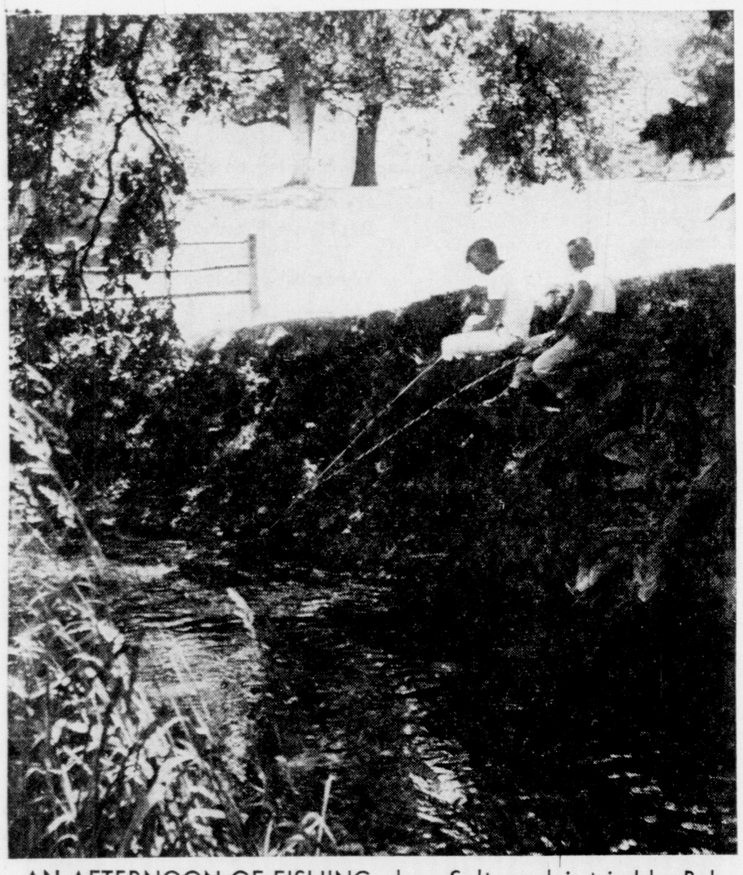
SLEEPYHEAD NOW THAT THERE'S NO SCHOOL



MOM'S MODERN DISHWASHER

SWINGING LIKE A MONKEY

School's Out! School's Out! Teacher Let the Monkeys Out!



AN AFTERNOON OF FISHING along Salt creek is tried by Bob and another buddy, Bob Strauss.

...A Boyhood Dream

Boyhood is the happiest time in any man's life. Webster calls a boy "a lad in school or preparatory years of life," but any youngster knows that it's the days between school years which are the "most."

School is work which in not too many years the boy will be performing as a man. Summer—that's heaven. This is the time of year—without any cares of homework or exams—he can go swimming, hiking, traveling, and lie in bed without a nervous alarm clock at his ear.

Summer is it, and to an 11-year-old the likes of Bobby Harris, being a boy is fun. Sure, he has his chores around his home at 224 E. Briarwood in Plum Grove Estates, but Bobby and his friends have "organized" so that they do their chores in the morning and have the rest of the day to themselves.

Bobby and his buddies can spend the afternoon playing baseball around the neighborhood or if it's too hot, go swimming in the "ole swimmin' hole." If that isn't to their liking they can hike a short ways to a friend's farm, where they play in the hayloft, feed horses or chase sheep. If they're too tired, they can just "sack out" to their heart's delight.

Summertime is the dream of boyhood. The days of being a baby or child is past. Boys now know the world about them or like to think so. Ahead lies the days of manhood and a life of work, cares, and worries.

We say to boys in a fatherly way, "Enjoy yourself. These are your happiest, carefree days. Soon you will join us in an adult life of work."

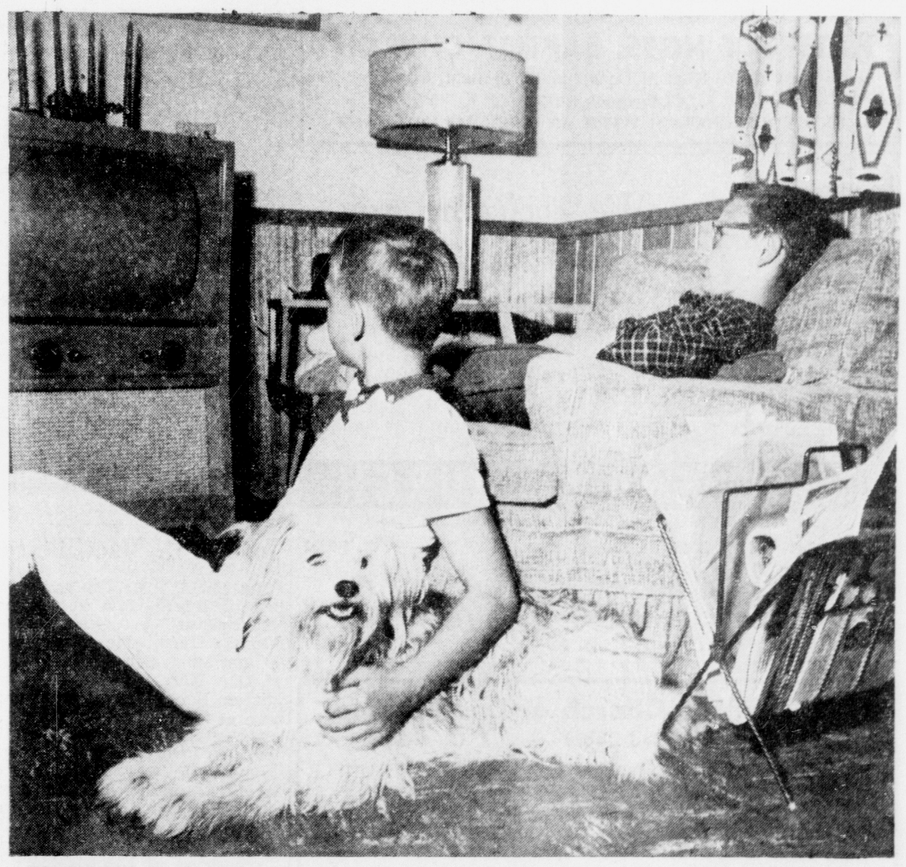
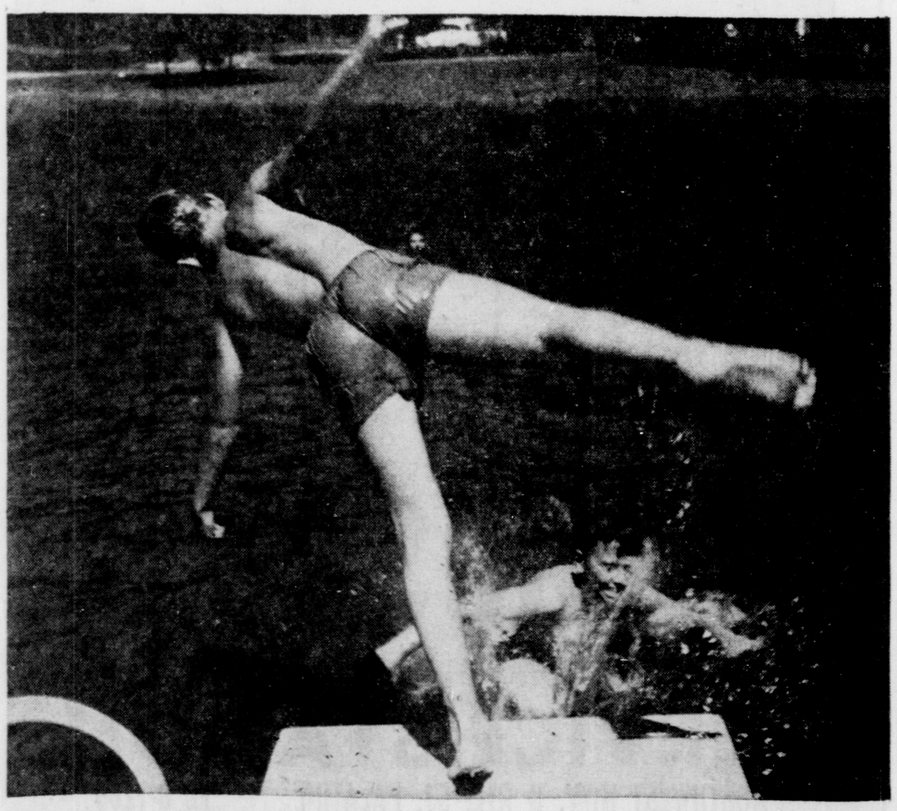
KEEPING IN PRACTICE, Bobby Harris plays catch with one of his buddies, Jamie Anderson, 9.

A SHORT HIKE to Plum Grove farms on Algonquin rd. find Bobby Harris and Bob Strauss feeding a mare and her month old colt.



TELEVISION IS STILL popular in the summer time as Bobby watches the baseball game with his brother Frank and friend Panda.



THE 'OL SWIMMIN' hole turns out to be a near-by lake as Bobby, flippin' off the pier, is splashed by Jamie Anderson in "just good old horse play."

GIRLS! BAH! seem to say Jamie Anderson, Bobby Harris and Bob Strauss as they pay no attention to "friend" Donna MacLea of Plum Grove farm on Algonquin rd.

LAZY DAYS are ahead for the next few months for these boys. The Strauss brothers, 10-year-old Bob (left) and 9-year-old Dick, sun themselves while enjoying a mid-day barbecue on Bobby Harris' patio.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

ALTHOUGH THE EXPANDING Little League organizations serve as the best illustration of the tremendous growth of summer baseball, another program helps to exemplify this development.

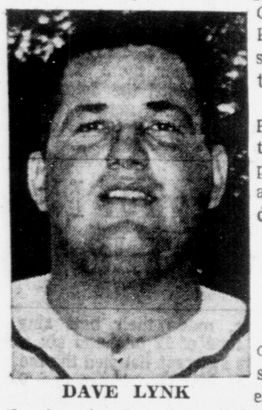
American Legion Junior Baseball teams are flourishing over the country with thousands of boys actively taking part every summer. In the area served by Paddock Publications four teams operate within six miles of each other: Arlington, Mt. Prospect, Rolling Meadows, and Palatine.

A program set up for molding the future of our American youth by utilizing baseball as a powerful factor in the social, moral, and economic development of the younger generation, the legion organization has sent a number of its "graduates" into the Major Leagues.

Included on this roster are such names as Stan Musial, Ted Williams, Warren Spahn, Sherm Lollar, Richie Ashburn, Hank Bauer, Al Dark, Johnny Antonelli, Yogie Berra, and Gil Hodges among others.

The work of the legion and the men who handle the teams, including the sponsors, deserve all the kudos which can be handed out. A lot of time is put in every week by the respective managers who must mold an outfit from boys representing various age groups and, of course, various ability levels.

The head men at the four neighboring towns in this area include Dave Lynk at Arlington, Fred Peterson at Mt. Prospect, Claude Bailey at Palatine, and Charles Kelly at Rolling Meadows. A great responsibility rests on the shoulders of the adults leading these legion teams.



DAVE LYNK

Junior baseball was initiated in Pennsylvania in 1926 with only three teams competing. The idea for this project had developed during a National Convention of the Legion in Philadelphia in 1926.

Only fifteen states competed in the first national competition and New York's Yonkers club won the first Junior World Series.

And so this was the start of the outstanding summer program. It blossomed into an expansive operation after Dan Sowers, National Director of the Americanism Commission in the late '20's, had paved the way for adoption with the Major Leagues agreeing to underwrite the program for up to $50,000.

The Junior World Series turned into an impressive spectacle each year with Illinois' Chicago team capturing the championship in the 1931 affair in Houston, Tex. Chicago turned back Columbia of South Carolina in the finale and bested the loser's Kirby Higbe, who ten years later was one of the National League's top moundsmen.

Chicago won again in 1933 when Phil Cavarretta, who later starred for the Chicago Cubs, paced a 7-6 victory over the New Jersey champions from Trenton. Cavarretta, a first baseman through most of his Major League career, was a highly-regarded legion pitcher.

With each passing year, the American Legion summer baseball program has experienced some additional growth and now is an impressive operation.

Legion teams from Illinois haven't had as much success of late as those Chicago outfits although the Winnetka Post did finish third a few years ago with Chuck Lindstrom, son of a former Major Leaguer, acclaimed as the Legion Player of the Year.

Fans in this area should support the local legion teams. Men like Lynk, Bailey, Peterson, and Kelly spend hours working with these youngsters and appreciate fan support at the contests.

What makes Junior Baseball a great American movement is the realization by the public that it is first of all an activity for building of character. A high standard of character and conduct is maintained throughout the more advanced teams in the American Legion Junior Leagues, which firmly implant the ideals of good sportsmanship, courage, honesty, loyalty, and reverence, and the qualities of good citizenship of boys of every community.

The partnership between the American Legion and baseball has lasted for many years. Boys who have played on the teams have learned more than baseball—they have learned the essentials of manhood.

As the National Commission sums it up: "The bringing together of thousands of boys into one gigantic, nationwide program and then getting them back home safe and sound, imbued with a more thorough understanding of American ideals and principles, is the problem the American Legion solves each year!"

Arlington Seeks Rebound After Slow Start

Fernstroms, Legion Post 208 Sponsor Heights Nine

By BOB FRISK

Arlington and Mt. Prospect are both represented by Jr. Legion baseball teams in the ninth district this summer.

What boys make up the squads? Who handles the coaching? What do these coaches think of the teams' chances for the remainder of the first round and during the second?

These questions and others will be answered in separate appraisals of the two clubs, starting this week with Arlington Heights.

"I felt at the beginning of the year that we would be a strong second half club. Now I only hope I was right."

The speaker was Dave Lynk, manager of Arlington's Jr. Legion baseball team, after his club had dropped three of its first five games in ninth district competition.

"I still say we have the best pitching staff in the league, and I feel the hitting will come around. This is a young club which should profit by experience. Defensively, the boys have the ability though they have let me down at times."

ARLINGTON BLANKED Portage Park and crushed Franklin Park for its two victories but fell to Mt. Prospect, Palatine, and Northlake. If the club has any title aspirations, it will probably have to win at least eight of the remaining nine district contests.

With the announcement earlier this week that Elmwood Park had dropped from the league, each team will now play only 14 games with a combined record for both the first and second rounds determining the champion. Lynk feels that the district champ will absorb at least three losses and possibly four.

Arlington is sponsored by Merle Guild Post 208 of the American Legion and Fernstroms Storage and Van Co.

FERNSTROMS IS A NEW sponsor this year, thanks to Robert Fernstrom of 1219 Watling in Arlington. The firm specializes in commercial moving and operates 100 coast-to-coast trucks out of its ultra-modern terminal at 5600 River road.

In appraising Arlington, Lynk is high on his pitching staff of Gene Dahlquist, Don Gerken, Don Snell, and Jack Lane. Dahlquist, who has also been operating in the outfield, and Gerken were mainstays on the high school nine, but Snell and Lane have been pleasant surprises.

Snell, a husky right hander who will be a senior at Arlington, was effective in limiting Portage Park to two singles, and Lane, a 15-year-old who doubles behind the plate, tossed a one-hitter in a 3-1 loss to Palatine.

THE INFIELD shapes up with Mark Thorne at first, Lee Nelson at second, Keith Voigt at short, and Gary Erwin at third. Erwin enjoyed the biggest day of any Arlington batter this summer with four singles against Franklin Park.

Fred Empkie and Lane have the catching in good hands, and Dahlquist, Fred Froyd, and Fred Lussow patrol the outfield when Gene isn't pitching. Jack Erlander and Terry Kups fill in for Dahlquist and Lynk is also considering using Gerken in some other capacity besides pitching because of his improved showing at the plate.

Mel Aukamp and John Rush are two other Arlington reserves.

ASSISTING LYNK with the club this summer are Paul Miller, Ken Lane, and Lloyd Meyer. Dick Bokelmann has been helping out with the pitchers.

Arlington is slated to meet Park Ridge Saturday in a 2:30 p.m. game at Hinckley field with a home affair Sunday at Recreation Park against Rolling Meadows. Lynk hopes to move Sunday's game up to 1 p.m.

"These boys are easy to coach," Lynk added in summing up, "and are willing to work. If hustle pays off, things will pick up from here on out!"

Next week: Mt. Prospect.

The 50 pros, all representing their home courses, will be playing for $2,300 in prizes in morning and afternoon 18-hole rounds.

In addition to Class "A" meet for head professionals, two other tournaments also will be held. There will be a Class "B" tournament for professionals who do not make their livelihood at teaching golf, and a Class "D" tournament for assistant professionals. Only 10 to 15 entries are expected in the Class "B" and "D" tournaments combined.

Elmwood Park Nine Drops Out Of Legion Play

Elmwood Park, expected to be one of the stronger teams in the ninth district Legion junior baseball league, has folded.

Coach Sam Brusa informed C. O. Michaelson, district chairman, that the team was dropping out due to managerial and coaching personnel problems.

Michaelson said Brusa told him that Elmwood Park's manager, Art Glad, has been ill and been instructed by his physician to discontinue all physical activities. Brusa told Michaelson he often works evenings and it would be impossible for him to assume control of the club.

Michaelson asked Brusa to reconsider and see if he could find his way clear and to notify him early this week. Through Monday night Michaelson had received no notification.

The Elmwood Park team, due to the illness of Glad, who is Elmwood Park high school's baseball coach, reportedly has "lost interest" and at one game boys had to be "rounded up" in order to field a team.

Michaelson reported that Brusa also had informed the league's chief umpire, Norbert Hope of Mt. Prospect, that Elmwood Park was cancelling all its games.

As a result, Michaelson said all Elmwood Park games will not be counted in the standings though the team has beaten Rolling Meadows, 8-2 and Franklin Park, 9-0.

Padres, Owls in Top Junior League Slots

They're starting to separate the "men" from the "boys" in Arlington's two junior leagues.

With over a month gone in minor league play, it's becoming more evident as to what teams constitute the strength in both divisions.

In the Southside Juniors league the Padres, Oaks, and Wrens are running 1-2-3 although Jim Millay's Padres are definitely the class of the loop at present. The league-leaders have piled up an 8-2 mark and possess a 1½ game lead.

Three teams have captured seven decisions in the Northside Juniors division with George Herbert's Owls holding a slim half game lead. Other clubs with seven victories are the Badgers and Gophers.

Four runs in the fifth inning enabled the Southside Beavers to gain a temporary tie with the Atoms but they still fell, 11-10. Machacek had a homer for the losers.

Arcardo hurled steady ball in the Beavers' 10-6 victory over the Angels, and Timson picked up the win for his 2 2/3 innings of work in the Buckeyes' 16-9 triumph over the Atoms.

A BRILLIANT defensive performance by the Wrens was responsible for a 13-11 win over the Padres with McDougall going five innings for the win.

Taylor and Crossin of the Wrens combined to stop the Angels, 10-9, and a two-run triple by McMillan keyed a six run Oaks' rally in a 10-8 conquest of the Spartans.

Epperly's grand slam homer was the big blast in the Padres' 19-10 victory over the Spartans.

IN NORTHSIDE action, the Sox scored in every inning, capped by an eight run sixth, in crushing the Blues, 24-8, and Scott Guilfoil fanned 12 and scored three runs himself in the Owls' impressive 12-4 win over the Bisons.

Stocking bested Ungaro in a free-swinging affair which saw the Robins score twice in the last inning for a 13-11 victory, and Kushner and Schmidt collected homers as the Gulls walked over the Larks, 15-8.

A brilliant relief performance by Bobby Edgerton aided the Owls in an 8-3 victory over the Gophers, and Edgerton also collected three hits, including a homer.

MIKE LANGHOURT drove in five runs with two hits and Steve Shawhan twirled a creditable game as the Badgers erupted for a 10-5 victory over the Sox.

Trailing 11-6 going into the last inning, the Larks exploded for 15 runs and a 21-11 decision over the Blues, and the Gulls used an eight run first inning as a starting point on the way to a 13-8 triumph over the Blues.

The Millers out-slugged the Gulls, 15-12, and the Gophers slipped by the Millers, 5-4, in the final reports.

AH Tennis Club Tops Elmhurst

The newly formed Arlington Heights Tennis Club opened its dual meet competition with other town clubs with an impressive 6-3 victory over Elmhurst Tennis Club.

The Arlington players swept the "open" division matches as Jim Erickson dumped Ken Jensen, 4-6, 6-0, 6-2; Dick Courtney defeated Jim Wood, 6-4, 7-5; and the doubles team of Bob Inman and Paul Eckley turned back the Elmhurst duo by the scores of 6-2, 6-3. The next match for the Arlington Club will be with Des Plaines Tennis Club on July 5.

This was the first of several matches which will pit the Arlington Heights Club against The Berwyn Tennis Club, Elmwood Park Tennis Club, Des Plaines Tennis Club, and the Elmhurst Tennis Club.

THESE FIVE organizations have recently joined together to form the "North and West Suburban League." League matches will be played on Saturdays at 1:30 between June 21 and August 23.

Alan Blomquist was the winning pitcher while Neiweem was the losing pitcher. Bob Gewecke led the Braves at the plate with a home run and a single while Keeley of Wheeling hit a home run with one man on base. This gives the Braves an even firmer clasp on first place in their league.

The Prospect Heights Dodgers came through with two victories this week, one of which was on June 14 over the Yankees 13-5. The winning pitcher was Richard Gay and his catcher was Larry Gebhart, while the losing battery was Kuhn and Norm Dahlgren. Both Gay and Gebhart hit home runs for the Dodgers. Gay had six strikeouts to his credit also.

ON JUNE 16 THE Prospect Heights Dodgers again won, this time beating the Cubs, 10-7. The Cubs had ten hits while the Dodgers had thirteen. The winning pitcher, Chuck Halverson, struck out seven men; Larry Gebhart was his catcher. Losing pitcher was Bob Busse and Mike Phillips was his catcher. Tommy Krupa, the Dodger first baseman, had a good day at the plate with four straight hits.

The Tigers had 14 hits, with the fifth and sixth inning their big scoring efforts, getting five runs in the fifth and four runs in the sixth. Ken Groh was the winning pitcher while John Orr was the loser. Groh again pitched his team to victory on June 11 when the Tigers defeated the Wheeling team by a close score, 7-6. The losing pitcher was Neiweem.

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

Law Breakers Not Permitted in Sports

We spent the Fathers Day weekend in Northern Iowa visiting our 82-year-old father who is a rabid New York Yankee fan. As a result the column this week is a last minute effort.

Community sponsored baseball teams of the adult type are scarce in Northern Iowa compared with past years but like the Chicago area everyone is going all out on baseball for boys. Every community has a couple of Little League teams playing in competition with other towns in night doubleheaders. The Junior Legion setup is strong as ever and Iowa's state high school association sponsors a summer baseball program working up to a state tournament in August.

We were reading in the Iowa press of a new state rule for high school sports which prohibits a school to use a boy on an athletic team who is involved with the law and charged with delinquent or criminal activities. Boys who are punished and return on probation may be permitted to go out for sports competition. Judges of Iowa courts are very much concerned about this rule and opposed to it. They argue that athletic competition is the best therapy they can prescribe for delinquent boys and they should be encouraged to participate in sports activities.

Illinois Takes Different Attitude

WE FEEL THAT MOST school people would disagree with this point of view. We have no rule in Illinois but few school administrators, athletic directors or coaches would permit a law breaker to represent their school during the season when the act was committed and then would expect to see evidence of a change in attitude before consideration was given. Most school people do not look upon athletics as a special device to reform delinquent boys though many who have tendencies in that direction are helped to avoid trouble through more wholesome interests in athletics. We feel that representing the school on a team is an honor and a privlege to be earned. It is earned through hard work, a cooperative attitude, training, regular practice, respect for authority, along with ability to excel in sports skills. If the delinquent plays, a more deserving boy sits on the bench and the basis for team membership represents something different than those items mentioned above. On the contrary, a boy who has been in trouble and proves that he really wants to go out for sports later during his probationary period should be given a chance to redeem himself.

Buck Passing, However You Look At It

IN OUR OPINION there is too much of a tendency in recent years for judges, police, social and welfare workers, child psychologists, and government and community groups to pass the buck to the schools and ask them to take over the problem of reforming nonconforming young hoodlums at the expense of the other 99 per cent of the school students. This has not been the case in the Palatine community but as a school administrator we are very conscious of trends in this direction. On the other hand local law enforcement authorities sometimes wonder if the schools, in expelling problem boys and girls, are not passing the buck to them. It makes a difference from what angle you look at such problems.

Tuesday evening of this week a testimonial dinner was given in honor of Stuart Paddock Sr. publisher of this paper in recognition of his selection by the Illinois Press Association as "Editor of the Year." We have been associated with Paddock Publications in a very small way as a correspondent since 1931. In all that time Mr. Paddock has consistently been the champion of the schools in their efforts to improve education in the suburban area. As a result the schools of the Paddock circulation area are better than those in some areas not far away where a very critical and often hostile press operates. We are happy to see Stuart's long and outstanding period of community service gain well deserved recognition.

To Play 36 Holes At Arlington C.C.

keepers at Arlington are toughening up the course. The grass in the roughs is being let grow much to the consternation of "every-day golfers."

Taggart said the tees will be placed as far back as possible with the pins, in most instances, on the back sides of the greens. The greens, acording to Taggart's son, Dan Jr., are exceptionally fast and may provide plenty of trouble for even the professionals.

In 1956 when Arlington country club hosted the Illinois PGA medal play for the first time only four of the 88 golfers competing were able to hit par or better.

This time several pros are taking no chances. Taggart reports that Bobby Harris carded a 69 early this week and that Sam Bernardi and Bill Ogden each had par 70's.

Indians Win Two Contests

Russ Walter' Indians picked up two more victories last week in Arlington's Senior League and are now threatening to make a one-team race out of the division.

The closest team to the pacesetting Indians are Henry Haiduke's Bears but the leaders hold a comfortable margin of 2½ games.

In the Varsity League three teams are keeping in contention, the Vikings, Eagles, and Phillies, and only the Orioles are definitely out of the pennat picture at the present time.

MacGOW BLASTED a triple and also turned in a brilliant mound performance as the Indians clubbed the Browns, 13-1. The Indians' ace picked up his third victory and is still undefeated.

Jay Freitag hurled a two-hitter in stopping the Redlegs, 3-0, as the Indians piled up nine hits, including three by Bob Vosskuhler.

Gary Spencer twirled a three-hitter in the Brown's 6-1 win over the Bears, and the Lions' Williams received credit for an 8-1 triumph over the Hawks. The loser's Brodnan collected three hits in the latter contest.

In the final two games the Redlegs topped the Lions, 6-2, and the Bears dumped the Hawks, 9-1.

IN THE VARSITY League, the Phillies, with Kaye getting the decision, topped the Falcons, 8-7, as Proud slapped a solo homer for the winning margin.

Grothe's hurling highlighted the Eagles' 12-4 victory over the Rams, and the Vikings had no trouble routing the Orioles, 12-4.

The three final reports found the Eagles edging the Phillies, 9-8; the Vikings topping the Rams, 6-2; and the Falcons dumping the Orioles, 7-5.

Erwin's Four Hits Spark 13-3 Victory

Exploding for 16 hits off two pitchers, Arlington's Jr. Legion nine rocked a visiting Franklin Park team Sunday, 13-3, at Recreation Park.

With all the regulars getting at least one hit, Arlington scored in every inning but the fifth and pushed over a trio of markers in the first, third, and fourth.

Third baseman Gary Erwin sparked the attack with four singles in five trips. Keith Voigt, Mark Thorne, and Lee Nelson each collected two safeties with Voigt delivering a triple.

THE CUBS lead off the printing of Rolling Meadows Little League teams by the Rolling Meadows Herald. Team members (left to right) are in the front row, Warren Stacey, Johnny Schinka, Dennis Lynch, Mark Krammer, Jeff Jacoby, Gary Cirincione; second row, Mike Gersie, Bob Erlander, Bob Dorn, Ed Brown; back row, Manager Ed Burmeister, Ken Burmeister, Gary Grenlie, John Phillips, Bob Hickey and Coach John Schinka. with story—

On June 15 the Lions trounced the Indians 11-2. The winning pitcher was Ryan who pitched perfect ball for 5 2/3 innings and was tagged for three hits after two were out. Marty had 14 strikeouts to his credit. The big guns for the Lions were Ricky Durgin who hit two home runs, Steve Mueller a triple, and Dennis Wilkinson who had two triples.

JUNE 19 SAW THE Lions score their fourth straight win by defeating Union Realty 16-14. Tom Neukranz was the winning pitcher and Steve Carponelli was charged with the loss. Home runs were hit by Ken Traversone and Steve Mueller of the Lions. The big guns for Union Realty were Ward with a two bagger and a single, Patnode a three bagger and a single, and Thomas a two bagger and a single.

Union Realty bagged two important victories when they defeated the Schwans 17-4 with Jim Ward giving up only five hits and topped the Bankers 8-6 with Craig Thomas pitching a one hitter. Jim Ward and Jeff Heiden each hit a home run for Union Realty.

The Bankers defeated the Builders 5-1 on the two hit pitching of Ira Goldstein with Chuck Engelson doing the catching. The losing pitcher was Doug Locke with Mike Zadel doing the catching. Dave White of the Bankers continued his hitting streak. He has hit in every game played. The Bankers' Dick Allen had a perfect day at the bat with four hits.

Tight Pennant Chases

The two pennant chases in Arlington's National and American divisions bear a strong similarity to the Major League dog-fights going on right now.

Although the Red Sox and Dodgers have moved out to league leads, anything can happen in the two loops. Three teams are battling for the top slot in the AL with any of five clubs capable of gaining the National league lead.

Paul Splittorff put on a one-man show as the Athletics crushed the White Sox, 12-1. In addition to turning in an unassisted double play, he also cracked two homers to spark the eleven-hit attack.

A THREE-RUN HOMER by Johnny Parker keyed the Yankees to a 14-6 victory over the Senators as Jerry Fink went the route for the triumph. Fink allowed only five hits, but experienced control trouble, issuing ten walks.

Rosholt twirled an effective five-hitter as the league-leading Red Sox bounced the Tigers, 12-3. LeStarge absorbed the loss after yielding six runs and eight hits in one inning.

The Senators turned in an impressive performance June 20 to dump the Red Sox, 6-2, with Darrell Burket and Dave Cook sharing mound duties.

THREE-HIT pitching by Ronnie Larson paced the Yankees to a 7-2 victory over the Athletics for second place in first half play of the American League. Larson fanned 14, eleven in the first four innings.

In the National League the Cubs and Dodgers had no trouble disposing of the Cardinals. The Cubs piled up eleven runs in an 11-4 victory while the Dodgers pounded out 15 hits in a 12-6 triumph.

Gary Brown fanned eight and walked only one in pitching the Braves to a 5-2 decision over the Pirates, and six runs in the second provided all the scoring in the Cubs' 6-0 whitewashing of the Pirates. Pat Martin twirled the shutout, allowing only two hits.

Hamilton fanned 12 in a masterful 5-2 Dodgers' victory over the Giants with Jasper contributing a long homer for the winners.

In the final report the Braves erupted for six runs in the fourth inning to erase a 3-2 deficit on the way to an 8-3 triumph over the Giants.

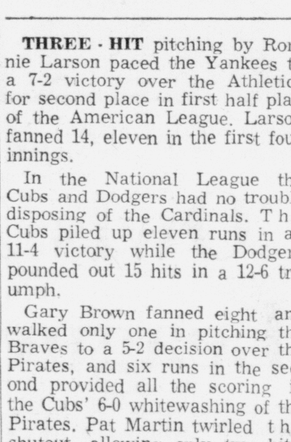
Webber On Varsity 9 At Beloit



LARRY WEBBER

A former All-West Suburban Conference third baseman at Arlington high, Larry Webber earned his varsity monogram on the Beloit College nine this spring.

Weber switched from the hot corner to second base on the Beloit squad.

Although not a prolific hitter, Webber is an aggressive performer and an impressive defensive infielder. At Arlington he was regarded as one of the top bunters in the West Suburban loop.

Webber gained All-WSC honors in 1957 as the Cards landed four slots on the post-season team.

Plans Formed For Prospect Boosters Club

The athletic Knights of Prospect high school will have their own Boosters Club shortly. Preliminary plans have been set by a committee of interested parents and an open meeting has been scheduled for the Prospect High Theatre on July 7 at 8:30 p.m. All persons living within the Prospect high school district are invited to attend and participate.

Howard Lester, Athletic Director for Prospect, will explain the 1959-60 athletic program and will also tell the parents about the Interim Association in which the Knights will compete next year. Adoption of By-laws and election of officers for the Boosters Club will also take place at this meeting.

The Boosters will have among its purposes the encouragement of school athletics and hopes to help in building a fan following for the first Prospect High teams to participate in varsity athletics next year.

The temporary committee for the formation of the Club is headed by Mr. E. J. Rogers of Mt. Prospect and this group has been holding weekly meetings preparatory to the open meeting scheduled for July 7.

Bruins, Comets Move Past Saints; Seals Hold Lead

There's a new look in Arlington's Northside Intermediate league this week.

Don Hutchins' Bruins and Bert Van Duzer's Comets swept past Bill Hotze's Saints, former division leaders, and now hold the top two rungs in the loop.

The Saints ahd been riding high in the Northside league until bowing to the Comets and Bruins last week.

IN THE SOUTHSIDE Intermediate league the Seals have moved out to a commanding lead though the Huskies are still very much in contention.

Tossi pitched and batted the Comet past the Saints with a four-hit yield and three-run homer. He fanned 14 and walked five. The loser's Alm fanned 13 and walked just two men for an impressive stint.

The Bruins' victory was more convincing, 9-3, and Hutchins' club also routed the Lancers, 18-5.

BARGAIN TOSSED a two-hitter and was backed by some excellent infield defensive play in the Hornets' 5-2 decision over the Colonels.

A 13-strikeout performance by Ciscowski highlighted the Mohawks' thrilling 9-8 victory over the Doves, and Ken O'Keefe hurled the Hornets past the Broncs, 17-7. Bob Splitberger slapped his fifth homer for the losing Broncs.

Other league results: Doves 8, Colonels 6; Colonels 13, Mohawks 5; Doves 15, Redbirds 8; and Comets 18, Redbirds 10.

JOHNNY MEYN picked up his fifth mound decision for 1959 as the Seals slapped the Ravens, 6-0, in the Southside Intermediate loop. Meyn yielded only two hits, fanning 12 and walking none.

Down gained the victory in the Seals' 9-7 win over the Terriors, and the Huskies and Rangers battled to a 9-9 tie with Jamison and Dick Smith blasting homers for the Rangers.

Six runs in the second inning were more than enough for the Stars in a 9-8 decision over the Solons, and Ainsley cracked a homer and double and hurled the Dons past the Ravens, 8-4. Wolf had a single, double, and homer for the Dons.

WITH A TEN-RUN blast in the fourth, the Huskies crushed the Terriors, 16-10, as Schneider went the route for the victory.

In the three final reports the Rangers bounced the Dons, 13-5, thanks to the pitching of Lindsay and a homer by J. Smith; the Terriors edged the Solons, 14-13, with Peterson getting the triumph; and the Seals whipped the Stars, 7-4.

Mount Prospect Legion Nine Drops Two District Tilts

by BETTY KIRCHHOFF

Mt. Prospect's American Legion nine lost two of three games in last week's ninth district competition. Fred Peterson's boys suffered defeats at the hands of Park Ridge and North Lake after whipping neighboring Arlington.

The locals came out on the short end of a 5-4 score Sunday at North Lake. Ron Schaeffer started on the mound for Mt. Prospect but was quickly replaced by John Lind after allowing four hits and three runs in the very first round. Lind held North Lake in check until the third when the victors broke loose for their final two runs. George Bork then took over and had smooth sailing for the remainder of the game.

Mt. Prospect tallied all four of its runs in the fifth inning and, although they fought desperately to the finish, were unable to score thereafter.

ON THE PREVIOUS afternoon the locals were stopped by the brilliant three-hit pitching performance of Jim Humay from Park Ridge. Humay, who led Maine's 1959 baseball team to the state title, fanned six of his opponent batsmen while walking only two. His teammates, meanwhile, made their bats sing to the tune of 12 hits and six runs. Fritz Peterson handled the mound duties for Mt. Prospect. The Humay brothers, Jim and Danny, and Bill Wagner led the winner's offensive attack with two blows apiece.

Mt. Prospect tallied their lone run of the day in the first round when Fred Boedeker reached first on a bunt, was sacrificed to second, and from there stole third and home.

ON FRIDAY, June 19, the Mt. Prospect nine encountered Dave Lynk's Arlington unit at Lions Park. Mt. Prospect came out on the long end of a 3-1 score.

George Bork twirled a six-hitter, fanning 10 Arlington batters to raise his league total to 23 in two contests. Gene Dahlquist, a teammate of Bork's both in high school and in league play, handled the pitching chores for Arlington, and, although he gave up only four hits, he was tagged with three runs and the loss. Bill McMillan led the hitting attack for Mt. Prospect with two safe blows in three trips to the plate.

Saturday the Mt. Prospect nine will travel to Portage Park and will then come home to host Devon-Higgins on Sunday afternoon at Lions Park.

Leading Money Winner Enters Women's Tourney

Betsy Rawls, currently leading money winner among women golf professionals, has turned in her application to participate in the $20,000 World Women's Golf Tournament at Mount Prospect Country Club July 23-26.

Miss Rawls, winner of more than $10,000 this year, heads the list of more than 20 entries already recived for the mid-summer links classic for women's pros.

Owner Richard Hauff of the country club, also promoter of this richest golf outing ever staged for women, states that Louise Suggs, runner-up for leading money winner among women golf pros, has likewise agreed to compete.

MISS SUGGS, whose earnings this year total nearly $8,000, has joined Betsy Rawls; Mary Lena Faulk, Gloria Armstrong, Jackie Pung, Bonnie Randolph, Ruth Jessen, winner of $3,700 this year; Fay Crocker, Mickey Wright, whose earnings run over $6,000; Joyce Ziske, $5,600; Mary Ann Reynolds, Mary Lena Faulk, $3,900, and Betty Dodd.

First prize money in the Mount Prospect Open is $8,000.

Besides the final placement money prizes, Hauff has some 20 prizes for individual golfing achievements during the four-day tournament. More than 80 women professionals and amateurs are expected to enter.

The final day of the tournament, July 26, will see the closing hours of play on a national TV hookup, states Hauff.

A LARGE NEW dining room, golfers' grill, additional well for continuation of watered fairways, improved sand traps and other club improvements are being rushed to completion for the tournament.

LOUISE SUGGS

Season tickets for $8.00, providing admission to all of the competition, will soon go on sale at the country club. Admission will be $2.00 for Thursday and Friday and $3.00 for Saturday and Sunday.

Advance guard of the golfers is expected to arrive in two weeks, starting practice on the tricky Mount Prospect course.

Aim in Front of Ball For Sand Trap Shots

THE CLUB HEAD should go through dead in line toward the flag after a sand trap blast and the golfer should not move his head throughout the swing. Here E. R. Larson, of 400 N. Lincoln lane in Arlington Heights, demonstrates the sand trap shot.

(This is the fifth in a series of golf columns by Chuck Pedersen, Class A PGA professional at Rolling Green country club.)

The secret of success of a good sand trap shot is to position the ball dead in line with the left toe. We do this to make sure the club head follows through—and that by the time it has reached the ball, taking lot of sand, it has started to follow through.

We address the club a good two inches behind the ball, because this is where the club head must strike the sand.

In this shot you must not try to hit the ball. Ignore the ball and aim to begin hitting the sand two inches behind the ball.

THE REASON WHY we do not play the ball from this position, with the ball dead center between the two feet, is because you will dig straight into the sand and the ball will stay in the trap.

The swing for the correct sand shot follows: You start the club back normally with no wrist work until the club reaches the position of right hip high. Do not attempt to open the club face at any time.

The "opening" movement that results automatically from the pivoting from the body is sufficient from the top of the back swing.

Coming into the ball, you should strike the sand two inches behind the ball. The left wrist is firm, and it is essential to let the club head go through dead in line to the flag. A divot of sand should also fly straight toward the flag.

Through the whole swing, the head is not moved at all, even at the stage of the follow through, and the chin is still pointing to where the clubhead first hit the sand. To play this shot one must acquire complete confidence so that you know exactly what is going to happen. This is something which can only be gained by intense practice.

Teams Bunched in League Action at Chevy Chase

The Wayside-Colette Golf League at Chevy Chase on Wednesday nights has really turned into a dog fight. Three teams have shared the lead in the past two weeks, Arlington Milk had been leading since the first night of play but Garden Liquor on June 10 gained a tie with the dairy team by trouncing them, 4½-2½. Then Quadriga Mfg., on June 17, by taking a 6½- decision from Roll King, projected themselves into the picture by getting up there to tie Arlington Milk. Garden Liquor absorbed a 6-1 licking on June 17 from last place Continental Can Co. to move them into third place. Arlington Milk couldn't do much better as seventh place Jim's Service Station defeated them 5-2.

Lauterburg & Oehler stayed in the first division by taking 2 points from Roll King and 4 points from T. A. Catino Bldrs.

THERE WERE many individual stars on the night of June 10. Howie Jack of Roll King had low net with a 48-19-29. Howie Johnson of L & O had low gross with a 39 on the back nine. A total of eleven men had birdie that night, by far the best showing of the year. They were Jordan Italia on two, Oscar Dolleslager on three, Don Engstrom on four, Al Austin on four, Mike Sweeney on six, Lou Stefanik on six, Earl Scherrer on nine, Fred Townley on 12, Howie Johnson on 13, Merle Kingsley on 14 and Mert Taylor on 16.

Earl Scherrer on Quadriga Mfg. Co. came in with eight pars and one double bogie for a 38 low gross on June 17. His 32 net tied Bob Wirth of Continental Can for low net honors. Jack Boland also had good net score by shooting 48-15-33. Birdies were shot by Homer Cokenhower on 1, Jordan Italia on 4. Chuck Cronin on 10, Augie Bonucchi on 10 and Frank Piennert on 1.

VFW Golf League

The Walls team of the VFW Golf League, held onto their lead Monday night, adding a couple of points for insurance. The rest of the teams are ½ to 1 point apart which makes a really interesting race.

Stu Sage came in with a nice 36 gross which he needed to tie his match with Walt Isaacson. Bud Kreusch topped him with his gross of par 35. Sandbagging Irv McDougall is still in the 40's.

Perhaps the men are getting in shape for the annual VFW 4th District Golf outing which will be held at White Pines August 9th. Golfers who are interested may check with the secretary about tickets.

Pharmacy Falters Again

Mt. Prospect Electrical Construction did it to Keefer's this week, 8-2, as the Pharmacy continued its slump for the second consecutive week in the Tuesday division of the Mt. Prospect Twilight league. The defeat dropped the Pharmacists into a tie for first place with Wille Lumber & Fuel who continued their winning ways, this time with a close 6-4 victory over Golden's Food Shop.

The only victory for Keefer's took two points from alternate Bob Kramer playing for Red Barrow in the "D" position. Fred Jilek coasted to an easy victory as ace Ron Hawkinson soared to a 49. Dave Shean likewise coasted in on father Roy Hawkinson's 47. Big gun for the Electricians was Alex Sekus who took two points from Rudy Rechter and also captured a point for low net.

DESPITE ITS defeat by Willes, Golden's Food Shop moved into third place as Nelson Realty, bent, dropped to fourth after succumbing to Kersting's Garden earstwhile second place incumCenter, 8-2.

With the nine top teams bunched only seven points apart, the stage is set for position night few top-heavy victories by one which comes up this week. A complete realignment of the of the first nine could mean a league.

Koops Mustard Maintains Lead In Friday Golf

Koops Mustard continues to lead the field by one point in the Arlington Heights twilight golf league at Mt. Prospect country club.

Friday night was a night for the birds. Jim Campbell turned in birds on the 17th and 18th. Fifteen other men posted one bird each: Len Haines, Don Odbert, Art Hansen, Ken Magnuson, Chris Tessem, Al Baugous, Ernie Simmons, Ralph Panek, John Pergler, Mike Pompilio, Bud Horcher, Chuck Jevne, Don McGowan, Bill Kufeldt, and Bob Kreutz.

Low net was split four ways at 31 by Jim Campbell, Bud Van Ness, Don McGowan, and Ernie Simmons. McGowan and Simmons tied for low gross at 37.

The GOLFERS' DIRECTORY

Foursome Records Eagle, 3 Birdies On Second Hole

Three birds and an eagle deuce on the 315 yard second hole highlighted last Friday night's play of the Old Orchard Scratch League.

The foursome involved included Dave Borgardt, Jim Keane, Bill Schwerin and Len Arnold. After starting the first hole with four pars they drove off the second tee and proceeded to acomplish this feat when Dave Borgardt hit his second shot four feet from the pin, Jim Keane bettered Dave's shot then by about a foot and after Bill Schwerin stroked his ball dead to the pin, Arnold who had the longest drive of the four calmly proceeded to knock his ball into the hole for his eagle deuce. The three putts were then stroked into the hole for the unprecedented score of three birds and an eagle on one hole.

Arnold then continued his game for a 36 score to best Bill Schwerin's 37, while Borgardt's 35 score won a match point over Keane's 36. While Len was showing Schwerin the finer points of the game, his teammates were floundering along the fairways and his score couldn't abate the point onslaught of Bill Hugo, Fred Steinken and H. Jackish who carried the McLennon Tile team to a 5½-2½ point win over the Arlington Pharmacy five.

THE FINEST example of team spirit and cooperation was shown by the Lohr's Pharmacy group of Dan Musser (37), Bruno Warra (35), Ed Spacapan (38), John Eiler (38) and Joe Lohr (41). Needless to say, they won each match and Lefty Bruno Waara's shining 35 that included two birdies was good for low ball. The team's solid technique sparked Lohr's Pharmacy to a thre epa mrisnln cfree ohtoit three place rise from ninth to sixth place.

This Friday night of unusual events couldn't overshadow the brilliant play of the scratch leagues tow head sensation, Ed Moehling, who missed his opportunity to play in the U.S. Publinx finals by losing out in the alternates play off. Moehling was still seething over this defeat when he arrived Friday and turned in a three under par effort on the par 36 back nine. Ed's performance included and eagle, three birds, four pars and a double bogey on the tricky par three twelve hole. A score such as this calls for only one comment—WOW. Nevertheless one man does not make a team and Ed needed the winning assist of H. Bartholomew to carry his Kamp's Sign team to their 5-3 defeat of the Griffith Insurance quintet.

WAYNE ROLFS' 36, Norm Prellberg's 37 and Carl Berlin's 37 were the over whelming factors in L'Nor Cleaners 5½-2½ point mop-up of the Flaherty Jewelers five who salvaged 2½ points with G. Blaar's 37 and Homer Cokenhower's 39. Roto Mercury took the count on the leaders when they downed the Budweiser team 5½-2½.

Friday night the 26th is position round, and we also were reminded to sign up for the mixed two ball foursome special event at Roselle on July 12 at 2 p.m. See John Andrup for sign-up.

Riviera To Battle Webber

Webber Paints again came up with a seven point whitewash, this time over Arlington Pharmacy to strengthen their lead on first place in the Friday night league at Arlington.

Next week, however, the Webber team meets second place Riviera Tavern and the results should be interesting. Gunnell's Bowl is steadily climbing to the top and they will be happy no matter how the Webber match turns out.

Scores were good Friday with better than half the league coming in under 45. Wallace Wilkerson took low net honors with a 42-12-30 while low gross went to Bud Barnett, 37, followed by "Cider" Vogt, 38, and Bob Sabin, 39.

Birds went to Snell on the 18th; Barnett, 2nd; Wilkerson, 6th; Vogt, 7th and 8th; and LeStarge, 8th.

Congratulations to L-Nor Cleaners. They're out of the cellar at long last!

Ever hear of Herb Pruett? Probably not, but this pitcher fanned Babe Ruth 19 out of the 23 times he faced him in his limited career.

Handicap Play Will Prevail In Tournament

Handicaps will be used in Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap golf tournament at Glendale country club Sunday, Aug. 16, giving all foursomes an equal chance at the medals, golf balls and trophy.

First place teams of the fourteen local twilight leagues will be eligible for the big event August 16. All league secretaries have received entry blanks and copies of the rules of the tournament.

Sports staff of Paddock Publications will compute the handicaps on this basis: 80 per cent of the difference between a player's average 9-hole score for his five best nights and par for the course on which he plays, including fractions, is to be multiplied by two to obtain the 18-hole handicap. The nearest figure under, at or .5 will be used.

ONCE AGAIN IT is the hot golfers who will probably decide the meet. The trophy and first place medals usually go to the foursome with three golfers hitting their average, and one member burning up the course. Whether the hot one is a high handicap or low handicap man is unimportant, though the high handicap duffers usually draw the headlines when hot.

Deadline for entries is August 8 with greens fees of $16 per foursome due with entry. Prizes include a large traveling trophy, 12 individual medals for the first three teams, and one dozen golf balls as a special prize for low individual net.

Old Orchard Ladies

The event of the day, June 23, in the Old Orchard ladies golf league was Puttless.

Winner from the first flight on the first nine was Gloria Wille. Peg Amann captured honors for the second flight.

Cleaners Move Into First Place Tie With Horath

L'Nor Cleaners, sparked by P. Cook with a net 29, won five points to go into a tie with Horath Shell Oil co. George Carelly had a very fine net 31 for the night. Birdies were scored by G. Glow on No. 4, B. Bryant on No. 1, J. Sauter on No. 8, B. Rapp on No. 6, and R. Alm on No. 8.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, George F. Gaare, who passed away one year ago, June 26.
Broken is the family circle,
Our dear one is passed away;
Passed from earth and earthly darkness
Into bright and perfect day;
But we all must cease to languish
O'er the grave of him we love.
Strive to be prepared to meet him
In the better world above.

Long Range Air Defense To Be Evaluated Soon

How adequate is America's long range air defense? The nation will get a full report when observers view the United States Air Force's Air Defense Command evaluation of its latest all-weather jet interceptors at Tyndall Air Force Base, Florida in October. For ten days, October 14-23, air force men from across the nation and overseas will pit their skill and the performance of ADC's newest all-weather interceptors against near-sonic targets flying high over the Gulf of Mexico test range.

The targets will be jet-propelled radar guided drones designed to test the accuracy of America's long arm of defense. The speedy drones are one-fifteenth the size of a modern bomber and can take evasive actions similar to those of attacking bombers as the interceptor pilots streak into the sky at supersonic speeds.

RADAR operators on the ground will direct them toward the tiny targets flying at altitudes up to 50,000 feet nearly one-hundred miles off the Florida coast. "It's like hunting a needle in a haystack," say the interceptor pilots, but America's long range defense is no longer dependent entirely on vision of the pilots.

The interceptors, both manned and unmanned, are directed by ground radar to the target areas where airborne radar locates the tiny drone, after that it's automatic. The interceptor is guided by its radar and complex electronic computing devices to a point where the defensive weapons are launched automatically to hit the invader.

The ten-day maneuver is named William Tell II to commemorate the long-range accuracy demonstrated by the legendary archer who split an apple perched upon his son's head.

AIR DEFENSE Command officials emphasize that survival of our nation may well depend on our ability to stop an aggressive force at long-range where neither bomb blast nor lethal radioactive fall-out will destroy our key industrial and military installations.

Colonel Broun Mayall, Air Defense Command Information Services Director, says, 'The world public should be apprised our our long-range defense or protection abilities." (BB

$1000 in Donations Marks 25th Year

Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club celebrated the end of its 25th club year with donations to local and federation charities totaling over $1000. The majority of this money was earned through four annual benefits, three dances and a fashion showcard party.

Topping the list of local recipients were the Northwest Community hospital fund, and the club's own annual scholarship fund used to help two outstanding Arlington high school seniors prepare for careers in teaching.

THE CLUB also donated $400 to projects sponsored by the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, of which it is a member. The majority of this money was given to the Brain Research Foundation.

In Arlington Heights the public library and the Boy and Girl Scouts received donations. The dental clinic, public health nurse and the Northwest Suburban YMCA were also given contributions.

In addition to the money, the Arlington Juniors annually give many hours of service. Among those that benefited this year were Lawrence Hall for Boys, Ridge School for Girls, Christopher House, Clearbrook school, Great Lakes hospital, Cook County hospital, and the Arlington Heights Guided Missile base chapel.

Lesson in English

by W. L. GORDON

Do not say, "He was scared of the consequences." It is much better to say, "He is FEARFUL of the consequences."

Do not say, "The whole of the congregation sang." It is better to say, "The ENTIRE congregation."

Distinguish between PERSPICACITY (keenness in seeing or understanding a thing, especially in the sense of having foresight) and PERSPICUITY (clearness to the understanding). Thus: "The president showed perspicacity in respect to the needs of his people," and, "There was great perspicuity in his explanation of the cause of the catastrophe."

Do not say, "I figure that the house will cost thirty thousand dollars." Say, "I ESTIMATE that the house will cost, etc."

Women who are writers should be called AUTHORS. The only justification for using AUTHORESS is in finding it absolutely essential to make the gender where doubt would otherwise exist.

Do not say, "Tony did not have a car, which disappointed her greatly." It is much better to say, "It disappointed her greatly that Tony did not have a car."

Industry Seeks Men With Ag Background

The college graduate with training in both agriculture and business is being actively sought by American industry.

The man who meets these qualifications can answer one of the strongest demands made on the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says Warren Wessels, assistant to the dean. And he finds the door open to some interesting and rewarding careers.

AGRICULTURE students who also take courses in accounting, management, advertising, law, journalism and sales are among those for whom industry presents its strongest demand.

Such industries as the chemical, dairy products, feed, seed, fertilizer, machinery and others in the fields of agricultural business and sales are in need of these men.

According to Wessels, a farm background, is not necessary to get into these fields. It is desirable, however, because it represents valuable training that cannot be obtained in college.

Many graduates start as sales representatives, Wessels said, and in that way gain experience in the basic operations of the firm. This experience becomes a solid foundation for later advancements.

WESSELS STATED that banks, insurance companies and agricultural loan agencies were also seeking agriculture graduates with business training in economics, finance, appraisals and marketing.

Many fields of agricultural business and industry will continue to grow and to offer a strong or even greater demand for college graduates in the years ahead, Wessels believes.

Ion-Resin Removes Radioactivity—AEC

A University of Tennessee — Atomic Energy Commission research team has shown in experiments that up to 94 per cent of radioactive strontium - 90 can be removed from milk.

B. J. Demott and D. G. Easterly, University of Tennessee dairy scientists, have treated radioactive milk with an ion-exchange resin similar to that used in cylinder-type home water softeners.

AMOUNT OF strontium - 90 removed depended upon experimental factors, they said. But it was possible to take up to 94 per cent of the radioactive material out of the milk by adjusting these factors.

Results of this experimental work were reported to members of the American Dairy Science Association at the 54th Annual meeting at the University of Illinois.

The process is not yet ready for commercial use, the Tennessee scientists reported. There are many questions about it yet to be answered. However, they believe that, should the need arise, commercial dairies could use the basic process that has been developed to get most of the radioactive strontium—90 out of milk.

MOST OF THE strontium - 90 that a dairy cow might get from a fallout-contaminated pasture passes from her body to the feces, the dairy scientists reported. However, some of it does get into the milk.

Findings of the Tennessee-Oak Ridge scientists indicate that the dairy cow will remain the most important source of calcium—especially for children—even if continually larger amounts of radioactive materials contaminate air, water, soil and plants from fallout. (Fm

CARL F. MEES
with Your Farm Adviser

By: CARL F. MEES
Farm Adviser

It is soon time to spray your sweet corn for corn borer. The way to determine is as follows: Check each day on the under side of the leaves to see if there are any corn borer egg masses. Under normal conditions, eggs will hatch in about three to four days. Cool weather would delay the hatch. When the first eggs hatch is the correct time to apply the insecticide.

DDT is still the insecticide most commonly used for corn borer. Apply 1½ pounds per acre as a spray or ¾ to 1 pound per acre as granules. Arrange two or three nozzles over the row to cover the upper one-third of the plant, particularly the whorl zone, when spraying.

OTHER INSECTICIDES approved for the use against corn borer include endrin heptachlor and toxaphene.

Cutworms:—These insects contine to be a problem. If a spray is necessary, apply ½ pound of dieldrin or 3 pounds of taxaphene per acre, preferably by ground sprayer with the nozzles directed onto the soil at the base of the plant, and use as much water as possible.

Occasionally, I have calls from people relative to the lesser peach tree borer a spray for lesser peach tree borer control is due at this time; 15% parathion is effective when used at three pounds per 100 gallons of water. Dieldrin 50 W in one spray at six pounds per 100 gallons of water is an alternative spray. There is some evidence that two sprays of 50 W, three pounds per 100 gallons of water, three weeks apart might be more effective than one spray of six pounds.

HOUSE FLIES: Adults are becoming abundant and will increase noticeably from now on. This is the time to mobilize forces and attack the house fly problem before a build-up occurs. Practice good sanitation, followed by residual sprays of diazinon, Korlan, or malathion used according to manufacturer's directions. Supplement the spray with a bait application of the same material or Dipterex.

"Hog butcher for the world"—so wrote the famous poet, Carl Sandburg, about Chicago over four decades ago. But even poetry must give way to the persistent and powerful pressures exerted by economic forces. The recent announcement by Armour and Company that slaughter operations will be discontinued in Chicago signals the end of an era. None of the so-called "national packers will then operate slaughter facilities in Chicago.

To those familiar with the industry, this event merely marks another milestone in a long trend. Markets such as Chicago were built around rail terminals. Yards to handle the livestock and giant multistory packing plants sprang up at rail terminals and junctions. The location of the meat packing industry was tied closely to the railroads.

But the motor truck and hard surface roads have now replaced the railroad as the principal means of transporting livestock to market and are important also in the distribution of the meat. With rising wages and advances in mechanization, sprawling single story packing plants have come into their own. (Fm

Illinois Wheat Price Prospects Are Related

by L. H. SIMERL

Wheat harvest in Illinois is about ready to start. Whether to seek storage space and hold or to sell is a pressing question at this time.

As of June 1, the USDA estimated winter wheat production at 941 million bushels and total wheat production at 1,181 million bushels. Last year the winter wheat crop was 1,180 million bushels, and the spring wheat crop was 282 million, for a total of 1,462 million. Lest anyone be encouraged by the decrease from last year, this total is still more than 100 million bushels above the 1948-57 average. The 1948-57 period included five years of severe drouth in the principal wheat-producing areas.

WHEAT PRODUCTION far exceeds wheat requirements at a price above that of feed grains. We currently consume about 485 million bushels of wheat for flour for domestic use. It takes about 100 million bushels for feed and seed. Commercial exports for dollars, heavily subsidized to make our wheat competitive with that of other exporters, amount to about 175 million bushels. About 250 million bushels a year are currently under the various gifts, barter and foreign currency schemes of the USDA.

Adding these several things together gives a total of 760 million bushels of wheat in real markets and 1,010 million as the absolute maximum that can be disposed of. At this time it sppears that the carryover will again increase.

East of the Mississippi river the situation is a little more favorable than it was last year. Production in Illinois is currently estimated at 50 million bushels compared with 54 million last year. Total production for Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan is currently estimated at 158 million compared with 153 million last year. This decrease should put the price of wheat a little higher next spring than it was last spring.

BECAUSE OF the excessive production, the harvest price will depend on the loan. Wheat will be priced at a sufficient discount below the loan to encourage farmers to store rather than sell.

On the basis of historical average discounts, the July futures price at Chicago will fall to $1.80 a bushel before the cash price is low enough to encourage a heavy movement into loan. It may be that farmers will not now accept such large discounts as formerly and that the price therefore will not go so low. On the other hand, it may be that last year's rather bad experience in storing will encourage farmers to take greater than usual discounts. (Fm

Sprays Urged For Conrol Of Housefly

Houseflies are an annual problem. They spread diseases and annoy both animal and man. But every so often researchers develop new and better insecticides to help farmers battle these pests.

For 1959 housefly control, entomologists at the University of Illinois and Illinois Natural History Survey are recommending malathion, diazinon or korlan.

These residual sprays may be used in all livestock shelters and around the house. Malathion and korlan are relatively safe, but dizinon is more toxic and requires greater caution. Neither diazinon nor korlan should be applied directly to animals. However, malathion is usable for such use and will control lice and mange on cattle.

DIAZINON AND KORLAN will control houseflies for three to five weeks; malathion, for one to two weeks. For best results, apply early in the season.

All three of these chemicals are sold under commercial trade names. Be sure to follow directions and precautions listed on the containers.

Although these insecticides will effectively control houseflies, they are only a supplement to good sanitation. Moist, decaying organic materials, such as rotting straw, manure and garbage, attract houseflies and provide ideal fly population. (Fm

Chemical Weed Control Urged for Soybean Crop

If past cultural practices have failed to control weeds, and yields are cut, chemical weed control should be used in soybeans, says R. L. Gantz, crops specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

In general, pre-emergence herbicides have been found to be better for soybeans than post-emergence treatments. Of the pre-emergence chemicals tested at the U. of I., soybeans show the most tolerance to Randox. Alanap is being recommended on a trial basis.

RANDOX IS MAINLY a grass herbicide and should not be expected to give good control of broadleaf weeds. Alanap kills many broadleaf weeds as well as grasses. But here's a word of caution: Alanap can damage crops under certain conditions of rainfall. This injury is usually not extensive, however, and is hard to detect at harvest time.

Pre-emergence chemicals should be applied at planting time, or within a day or two after, Gantz says. Band spraying at planting time has been found to be the most satisfactory method of application. Spraying in a row-centered band 13 inches wide is designed to keep the weeds down in the row. Weeds between the rows can be controlled by cultivation.

Moisture is the important factor in the use of Randox and Alanap. If the soil stays dry for two or three weeks, these pre-emergence treatments are usually not successful. About one-half inch of rain seems to be needed within the first week to make them effective.

BOTH RANDOX and Alanap lose their toxicity to weeds within two or three weeks. Therefore, the first cultivation should be delayed as long as possible so that a new supply of weed seed will not be introduced into the clean band.

Gantz recommends applying Randox and Alanap at the rate of 1 1/3 pounds of acid in at least seven gallons of water per acre for a 13-inch band. He does not advise using these materials on sandy soils, because when it rains they will leach below the level of effectiveness. He adds that it's best to try the chemicals on a small area the first year.

The agronomists emphasize that, although pre-emergence chemical treatments can be used, good, sound cultural practices are still the best way to control weeds in soybeans. Preparing the seedbed early and destroying one or more crops of weeds before planting is the most effective practice.

Plastic Works Well For Pipeline Milking

Plastic hose has worked as well as stainless steel for pipeline milking systems in experiments at the University of Illinois.

That's what more than 1,500 dairy scientists from all over the country heard as Professors M. H. Alexander and E. E. Ormiston reported results of their experimental work here today during sessions of the American Dairy Science Association. This was the 54th annual meeting of the association, held June 15-17 at the University of Illinois.

VISITING RESEARCH people in the field of dairy production from all over the United States and Canada heard Alexander and Ormiston tell about the 12-week study in which a plastic milk pipeline was compared with a stainless steel pipeline. The study was designed to determine the possibilities of cleaning a flexible pipe line with the same flushing method that has proved satisfactory for several years for cleaning rigid pipelines.

Routine procedure for cleaning and sanitizing both the plastic hose and the stainless steel pipeline is as follows:

1. Rinse thoroughly for five minutes with clean water at a temperature of about 90 degrees to 100 degrees F. Immediately after milking.

2. Wash with a hot synthetic alkaline detergent solution for about 20 minutes for three milkings. On the fourth milking, use an acid rather than an alkaline detergent. Both types of detergents are adapted to the hardness of the water.

3. Sanitize by rinsing for five minutes with 200 parts per million of chlorine solution at 90 degrees to 100 degrees F.

4. Rinse with a similar chlorine solution just before next milking.

ALEXANDER and Ormiston told the visitors that the results of this study clearly showed that milk of satisfactory quality could be obtained when transported from cows to the milk house through a plastic hose that had been cleaned as outlined above. They cannot predict how long the plastic hose will last in such an operation. They do know that it will be softened considerably if water of 170 degree temperature or higher is used for cleaning. However, when water at 140 degrees to 145 degrees is used, the hose stays firm.

Dairymen in Illinois can get more information on whether a plastic hose can be used on their farms for conveying milk from the barn to the milk house by contacting the Division of Milk Control, Department of Public Health, Springfield, Illinois. (Fm

Summer X-Ray Survey Slated For Northwest Area Suburbs

Summer life in the suburbs will be sparked with picture taking. In addition to the usual beach beauties and "watch me up here, Mom" snapshots, there will be a summer X-ray survey for a health checkup for adults, to see what the "inside" picture is on tuberculosis.

This picture taking is entirely confidential. No one but the person X-rayed is told the results. No final diagnosis is made from the small X-ray film, used in the mobile units. Any suspect TB cases are advised to get a larger X-ray made by their own physician or a clinic.

THE MOBILE units' suburban tour is part of the summer survey for discovering unknown cases of TB. It is sponsored in suburban Cook County by The Tuberculosis Institute, the Christmas Seal organization, and The Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Sanitarium District.

A mobile unit will be in Mt. Prospect in front of the National Tea company, 21-27 Prospect ave., June 24 through 26. Wednesday, June 24, the unit will be open for X-raying from 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. On Thursday, June 25, operating hours are noon to 7 p.m.; and Friday, June 26, from 2 to 9 p.m.

The mobile unit moves to Arlington Heights, the Ben Franklin store, 9 N. Campbell, for June 29 and 30. On Monday, June 29, free chest X-rays will be given from noon to 7 p.m. The schedule Tuesday, June 30, calls for X-raying from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

An X-ray unit will be in Prospect Heights one day only, Friday, July 3, giving X-rays from 1:30 to 8:30 p.m.

No X-rays are taken on weekends.

The Suburban Drug company, Rolling Meadows, will be the location for a mobile unit July 2 and 3. The unit will be parked at 3010 Kirchoff road. X-rays will be given July 2 from 2 to 9 p.m., and on July 3 from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

THE MT. Prospect Woman's club sponsored the three day stay of the mobile X-ray unit in the city. The sponsoring organization helps inform the public of the location of the unit and furnishes from its membership the volunteers necessary to assist the staff of the unit with registration and with urging passers-by to get a free chest X-ray.

Mrs. Kenneth E. Johnson, 301 S. Wille, was chairman of volunteers. On June 24 workers at the unit were: Mrs. Charles Kimball, 309 N. Emerson; Mrs. Russell E. Miller, 313 S. Wille; Mrs. H. A. Kreith, 218 S. Elmhurst; Mrs. W. K. Martin, 401 S. Wille; Mrs. N. T. Esmond, 1730 Verde; Mrs. B. Taylor, 206 S. Wille; Mrs. Myron D. Weigle, 302 S. Wille; Mrs. W. Mace, 815 Dresser; Mrs. M. Huisenga, 400 S. Main; Mrs. J. V. Burkart, 317 S. Wille; and Mrs. Arthur Johnson, 501 Na Wa Ta.

On June 25 at the unit volunteers will be Mrs. J. Kenneth Hamann, 311 S. Wille; Mrs. R. Stade, 314 S. Main st.; Mrs. H. Harendon, 302 S. Main st.; Mrs. K. Reynolds, 300 I-Oka; Mrs. Ralph J. WORK NOW UNDER WAY ON NEW BANK

UNHAPPY PICKET ATTEMPTS to hide face from Herald cameraman in front of Dryden Cleaners, Inc., 200 S. Dryden pl. Minutes before picture was taken union man threatened to smash camera and attack photographer. Arrival of Arlington Heights police permitted the photo to be taken. Other pickets are sitting in car at right. None of the business's workers were on picket line. The strike was called Monday evening when the business and Laundry, Cleaning, and Dye House Workers International Union Local 46 were unable to get together on a contract. The strike was settled and pickets withdrawn Tuesday afternoon.

Ground Breaking Ceremonies Held

Construction of the new bank of Rolling Meadows was under way Tuesday with official ground-breaking ceremonies held at the bank site. A large group of bank officials and local dignitaries were present for the ground-breaking event.

The building will be located adjacent to the Crawford Department store at the west end of the Rolling Meadows shopping center. Cost of the building and equipment will be in excess of $150,000. Completion of the building and official opening of the new bank for business has been set for November.

Contractor for the structure will be Joseph T. Carp, Inc. iMttelbusher and Tourtelot, Chicago architectural firm, designed the building.

All standard banking services will be provided by the new bank including checking and savings accounts and personal and business loans. Drive-up windows for motor banking will be included.

BANK SPOKESMEN indicated the structure would have the "ultimate in safety features" for depositors including the latest design heavy vault doors. Safety deposit boxes will be located inside the vault. Also designed into the building is an elaborate alarm system.

Deposits will be insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation. Capitalization totals $400,000. Stock is available to residents of the Rolling Meadows area for purchase at the original issue price. Information regarding the bank or stock is available from all bank officials.

Professional counsel on color, lighting and interior decoration will be utilized. The bank will be carpeted. A unique feature of the building will be a community meeting room available to local organizations.

PRESENT FOR the groundbreaking ceremonies were Marshall Hewitt, bank president; John W. Baird, chairman of the bank board of directors; and directors Mayor John J. Woods, Police Magistrate Robert T. Casey, Attorney Joseph Townsend and William Dean of the Northwestern Industrial park.

Also attending the ceremonies were George Bollenbacher, partner of Mittelbusher and Tourtelot, architects; Joseph T. Carp and Donald Carp of the Carp Contracting firm; City Clerk Gertrude Darnall; William McFarland and Theodore Roberts of Harris Trust and Savings; Bill Bond, Bert Trager and Michael Sica of the Rolling Meadows shopping center businessmen's group; Ald. Jack Mackin, Mrs. Hewitt, Harold Carlson of Baird and Warner, shopping center operators; and Mrs. Robert Bristol of Paddock Publications.

A SPECIAL chrome-plated shovel supplied by the Arlington Plating company was used in the ground-breaking ceremonies.

A luncheon marking the ground-breaking event was held at Rolling Greens Country club following the ceremonies. (KF

PRINCIPALS IN THE CONSTRUCTION of the new Bank of Rolling Meadows happily broke ground for the bank building Tuesday morning. To be located adjacent to Crawford Dept. store in the shopping center west end, the bank will include all standard customer services as well as drive-in deposit windows. Participating in the ground breaking were Joseph T. Carp, contractor; George Bollenbacher, architect; Rolling Meadows Mayor John J. Woods, bank director; Marshall Hewitt, bank president; and John W. Baird, chairman of the bank board of directors.

City Library to Rent Former Sales Office

Actual start of public library facilities for Rolling Meadows appeared to be "in sight" this week with the announcement of the city library board that arrangements had been completed for rental of a building at the corner of Martin lane and Meadow dr.

The former Hill Homes sales office—a 3-bedroom home with attached finished and heated breezeway and garage—is located at the southeast corner of the intersection. The library board has pointed to the central location as being "ideal" for the start of library services to the community.

Tentative plans call for start of rental July 1. Books collected from city residents in the Lions book drive last year and now stored in the basement of the Behlke appliance store in the shopping center will be moved to the new location. Before actual start of library services an extensive program of sorting, cataloging and preparing books for library circulation will be done by volunteer workers. Volunteer help for all possible projects will be utilized, according to library board spokesmen, in an effort to keep expenses to an absolute minimum.

MAJOR PROBLEM of the library board is a drastic need for funds, with no tax money available until summer of 1960 and no present funds available from the city.

In order to raise money to pay the rental on the rented quarters for the first year, as well as secure necessary operating expenses for such things as utilities, the library board will conduct a city-wide ticket book sale. Main prize of the fund effort will be a Webcor Moderne stereo fidelity radio and phonograph console with stereo mate. Other prizes will also be available.

Tentative plans of the group call for the distribution of two ticket books to each home in the city. Aiding in the ticket distribution will be youth groups.

LIBRARY BOARD spokesmen have emphasized the need for cooperation from all city home owners in the fund-raising campaign so that the library program may be activated. The board has stressed the success of the fund campaign will determine how soon the library may be opened.

The group has pointed out that plans for the fund campaign were undertaken in order to open the library this summer or fall, rather than waiting until next summer when first tax money would be available.

In addition to cooperation in the ticket sale, the board is seeking volunteer help from city residents, particularly from those who may have previous library training. A need for furniture for the rented quarters is also listed. High on the list of needed furnishings are desks, tables, chairs, desk lamps and book shelves or bookcases.

Residents interested in aiding the library board in any way, either with volunteer help, contributions, aid in the sale of ticket books or in furniture donations, are asked to contact Mrs. John O'Malley, board secretary, CL 3-9103.

True Bills Voted in County Grand Jury Cases Tuesday

Two Rolling Meadows court cases were heard by the Cook County grand jury Tuesday, with true bills voted in both instances.

Charged with driving after revocation of a driving license as well as speeding before Rolling Meadows Justice of the Peace Liston Pennington was Robert R. Lueder, 21. JP Pennington found Lueder of 1010 W. Campbell st., Arlington Heights, guilty on the speeding charge and fined him $10. The charge of driving after revocation of a license was sent to the grand jury who voted a true bill. The original license revocation was the result of three moving violations within a one-year period. Bond was set at $300 by the grand jury pending hearing of the case in criminal court.

A TRUE BILL for grand larceny was voted by the grand jury in a case involving Ralph Weingart, 24, of 6415 Nashville, Chicago. Weingart was charged with theft of a $150 welding machine from the Rolling Meadows bowling alley construction project by the machine owner Harry Reuse of Reuse Lathing company, Chicago. Weingart was also charged by Chicago police with the theft of a 1959 Oldsmobile from the Belpark Auto agency, Chicago. Weingart used the stolen car in stealing the welding machine in Rolling Meadows.

The original hearing before Police Magistrate Robert T. Casey, prosecuted by Assistant States Attorney Eldred Benz, resulted in Weingart being bound over to the grand jury. He was held in county jail on $5,000 bond prior to the grand jury hearing, when the bond was increased to $5,000 on each of the two thefts.

ROLLING MEADOWS police investigation of the welding machine theft resulted in Weingart's arrest on June 9. Off. James Ruggio, who observed Weingart's theft of the machine, questioned the suspect at the time, but al-lowed him to leave pending further investigation.

During the Rolling Meadows court session it was stated Weingart had stolen a cabin cruiser from Montrose Harbor last summer. After taking the boat out into Lake Michigan Weingart discovered the owner sleeping on the boat. Attempting to keep the owner in the cabin by bracing his back against the door, Weingart was shot in the lower back when the owner shot through the door.

No date for prosecution of either case in criminal court was set.

Slum Dwellings Case Continued to July 1

A hearing concerning the living conditions on property at 1404 E. Euclid, where 20 persons have been using an outhouse for several months, has been continued by Arlington Heights Police Magistrate Robert Buckley to Wednesday, July 1, at 9 a.m. in the village hall.

Summonses were served on the owner of the property and the head of one of the four families occupying the property Monday. The summonses listed complaints of violation of three village ordinances:

—Permitting waste to accumulate on the property.

—Permitting a privy to be used on the property.

—More than one family sharing a house in a single-family area.

THE ATTORNEY for T. Karavidas, owner of the property according to police records, was granted a continuance to next week when he informed Buckley his client was not aware he was to appear last Wednesday.

L. Velasquez, an occupant of the house at 1404 E. Euclid and also served with a summons, appeared Wednesday, but was granted a continuance on the court's motion.

Conditions on the property in question were revealed by the Herald earlier in the month. Four families were found to be sharing a two-story house, a shed, and a former pig barn. The only toilet facility for 12 children and eight adults is an outhouse located in the corner of the backyard. A total of $150 a month is paid for the structures, according to Velasquez.

CONTACTED BY the Herald, Karavidas said the occupants of the quarters work on his four farms in the area. He also revealed that the property is part of a 20-acre tract on which the Staltzner Construction company has an option.

Stoltzner said his company will purchase the land on July 1, tear down the buildings and subdivide the property.

Plan Commission Sports 'New Look'

With the election of new officers and the determination of terms of office, Rolling Meadows Plan commission is sporting a "new look."

Elected as the new chairman of the group is Donald C. Carp, 2210 Heron ct. Carp served as vice-chairman of the commission prior to the election of former chairman Thomas Waldron as a city alderman and his subsequent resignation from the commission.

Chosen as the new vice-chairman was Donald Winn, 3709 Meadow dr., with Richard Carlson, 3103 Thrush lane, serving as secretary. The three new officers are the only remaining "hold-over" members of the commission from the previous administration.

OTHER MEMBERS of the commission, recently appointed to their posts by Mayor John J. Woods with the approval of the city council, are Herbert Menier, 2805 Flicker lane; Frederick Bartels, 3502 Sigwalt st.; and Frank Bohac, 2209 Heron ct.

The resignation of Boubene Jaremus, a member of the commission since its organization almost four years ago, was accepted this week. Jaremus resigned his post when he moved from the city this month.

City Council Approves New Shield Fence

Spurred by complaints of property owners along the east side of Owl dr. south of Kirchhoff rd., Hills Homes sought permission from the city council Tuesday night for the erection of an ornamental and screening fence six feet high to shield their Moderncrete plant on Kirchhoff rd. from view of the residential area.

The council approved the fence erection plan with only Ald. James Rush and Ald. "Bud" Freiburger dissenting.

The fence will be placed along the Moderncrete property line, inside the utility easement at the backs of the lots on Owl. dr. In addition the council gave permission for continuance of the fence along Kirchhoff rd. only five feet from the front property line. Under the fence ordinance normally a 30-foot setback would have been required. This would have stopped the fence in the middle of one of the Owl dr. yards and the variation was allowed for the convenience of the home owner.

Jealousy Blamed for Brutal Teen Beating

Jealousy over a teenage girl led to a brutal beating of a village youth Saturday night, and spotlighted what one policeman refers to as a small but hard core of "fringe delinquents" in Arlington Heights.

Timothy Lonergan, 17, 1002 Mayfair, started this week in Evanston hospital with a broken nose, a dislocated shoulder, five stitches under his right eye, a closed left eye whose future vision was in doubt, and multiple bruises and cuts about his head and face.

He arrived at this state via a party he was attending with his date last Saturday night at a friend's house at 1503 W. Miner. The party, according to police reports, was quiet and well supervised. That is, until three Arlington Heights youths and a Wheeling friend arrived on the scene.

THE YOUTHS, Albert (Bud) Millbratz, 17, 1431 N. State rd.; Thomas Acker, 18, 233 Fletcher, Wheeling; Kenneth Mueller, 16, 414 N. Haddow; and Donald Clark, 16, 129 S. Vail, told police they were attending a carnival at St. James when they got bored around 11 p. m., remembered the party, and decided to "crash" it.

Acker talked with Lonergan's date, and then had Millbratz ask Lonergan to step out into the front yard, according to police reports. There, Lonergan told police from his hospital bed, Acker, accompanied by his three friends, warned him to stop dating the girl he was with. He refused and a fight between the two followed.

When asked by police if he tried to stop the fight, Millbratz, in a signed statement, quoted himself as saying, "Hit him in the nose, hit him in the head, hit him!"

Following the fight, Lonergan was taken to Resurrection hospital for emergency surgery.

MONDAY, Mrs. Lonergan signed a complaint charging Acker with assault and battery. He was picked up by Wheeling police Tuesday morning, turned over to Arlington Heights police and lodged in the village jail until released under $50 bond, set by Police Magistrate Buckley. His court appearance is set for July 1.

Police are checking with the state's attorney's office for advice on what charges may be brought against the three youths with Acker when the assault occurred.

Police records indicate Mueller has been involved in reckless driving, speeding, and disorderly conduct cases in the past month. Acker's record includes a charge of auto larceny in Park Ridge. Millbratz's police record includes four traffic violations and two disorderly conduct scrapes. Clark has only a nuisance complaint listed against him.

A HEARTSICK father, Mr. Lonergan told the Herald he has retained a lawyer and is going to "see this thing through."

He told of a phone call from one of the boy's parents at 6 a. m. Tuesday, asking if he would forget the incident if his son's medical bills were paid.

"What's a medical bill when you see your son torn to pieces. These toughs have had it their way too long, it's time somebody stood up to them and we're going to do it. We're going to push this all the way," he said.

Keep Children Away From Spraying Trucks

Warning to parents from the Northwest Mosquito Abatement District:

Children should not be allowed to follow the spraying trucks. Inhaling of too much of the foggy fumes can cause them to become nauseated. Also, cars crossing or following behind the fogging trucks may not be able to see the children in time to avoid hitting them.

New Shopping Center Complete in 60 Days

Centex Construction company officials announced this week that the new "Park and Shop" shopping center should be completed within sixty days.

Notice Anything 'Different'?

Your hometown newspaper has put on a new face!

Our new headline appearance is that "something different" you notice in this week's newspaper. Our new type face is part of Paddock Publications' expansion program to keep plant, equipment, and personnel in step with the growth of our communities. This is the first of many changes and innovations planned as part of our continuing effort to provide interesting, readable and modern newspapers for the northwest suburbs.

Our new type is known as Bodoni Bold. It was designed by Giambattista (John the Baptist) Bodoni, who was born in Saluzzo, Italy, on February 16, 1740. The son of a master printer, Bodoni learned the trade at an early age and was summoned by the Duke of Parma in 1768 to take charge of his library and printing presses. Dissatisfied with the type faces then available, Bodoni began cutting punches for new types, and, after several years, he issued his first complete book of type specimens, which contained a new design that became known as Modern Roman, the most famous and widely-used of which is Bodoni.

Its popularity as a headline type for use in newspapers has increased rapidly in recent years because it has a clear, crisp, clean-cut appearance that is very pleasing. Among metropolitan daily newspapers which use Bodoni type for headlines are the Washington Post-Times Herald, New York Herald-Tribune, Louisville Courier-Journal, and the Chicago Daily News.

It was a real surprise when Ray's sister brought their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wever, of Bedford, Ind., as it was their first visit to Rolling Meadows.

Julie and Bob Reynolds, 2807 Wilke rd., and children Bobbie and Carol, had a family barbecue on Father's day. Enjoying the food and badminton were Julie's father and sister, Grandpa Long and Mary Jane Long, the William J. Longs, John Long and the Thomas Leisten families of Forest Park.

It was two busy weekends for Jim and Linda Tyl, 2700 George ct. Their daughters, Terry and Vickie were in a dance recital June 14, which was attended by their grandmother, Mrs. Eugenia Schoblaske, and son, David, and their great grandmother, Mrs. Sophronia Schoblaske. Last weekend Jim and Linda attended a dinner dance which was the 10th class reunion of Jim's school, Riverside-Brookfield. They were accompanied by Ken and Caryll Carrick, 2615 Park st.

Jim and Helen Brod, 2807 Campbell, are entertaining their nephew, Ricky Brod, of Chicago this week.

IT HAS BEEN a busy week at the John W. Morris home, 3409 Bobolink lane. June 10 Paralee Bugarewicz of Lisle came to spend four days and June 11 grandfather Paul Bugarewicz came to spend the weekend.

Eight-year-old Timothy made his first communion at St. Colette church June 13 and an aunt, Dorothy Morris, and Grandmother Morris attended the communion breakfast with the other guests. Sunday afternoon a buffet supper was given for 26 guests. Tim's brother, Tommy John, 17 months, couldn't figure out what all the goings on were about, but enjoyed the weekend.

It has been a busy week for Bob and Dorothy Wirth, 2511 George st. Their daughter, Sheryl, 13, was a bridesmaid for her cousin, Barbara Wirth, of Wauconda, who was married Saturday to Robert Hinze at the Confederated church of Wauconda. After the ceremony a reception was held at the VFW hall in Lake Zurich.

Bob and Dorothy's infant daughter, Theresa, was baptized Sunday in the chapel of St. Colette Catholic church by Father Feller. After the ceremony they had a buffet supper for Theresa and another daughter, Kathy, who received her first holy communion at St. Colette's June 13.

Steven Engstrom, son of Don and Mary Engstrom, 2310 Wing st., was taken to Resurrection hospital June 21, where he stayed overnight, after slipping in the wading pool at Pioneer park and cutting his head. He is home now and doing nicely.

Connie Lasheff, 2204 Wing st., pulled a muscle in her back last Sunday and had to spend two days in bed. She is up and about now and feeling much better.

Picnic Set For August 2

Jewel park, Barrington, has been selected as the site for the annual Rolling Meadows Lions club picnic for the second year. The picnic is scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 2, starting at noon.

Free picnic lunch will be provided for Lions members and their families, with guests permitted at a nominal charge. Beer will be available for the adults, with at least one-half barrel to be donated to the event by the losing team of club members in the 1958-59 membership contest.

Plans include a softball game for men and games for children.

Picnic plans are being made under the direction of Jack O'Malley, third vice-president.

Park Board Outlines Plans for Development

A statement of the proposed plan of development and procedure by the Rolling Meadows park board was issued this week, including revelation of a referendum for approximately $350,000 to be used for park development and a 5-mill recreation tax.

Full text of the park board proposal follows:

In the course of a series of meetings of the Rolling Meadows Park board considerable business has been transacted pertaining to the pros and cons of a park with all the necessary facilities now or at some distant date.

Shortly Rolling Meadows voters will be asked by the park board to make this decision and to approve park board plans and recommendations as they will be submitted.

Before a formal referendum some preliminary details must be cleared with the law firm of Chapman and Cutler whose approval of any governmental subdivision proposal is virtually mandatory before any bond purchasers will even consider negotiations.

THE PARK BOARD feels meeting of prepared schedules is vital in order to permit as much preparatory work on the park area as possible during the desirable early-fall season, making some of the park area usable by next spring or early summer.

If the proposals are approved by voters the board hopes to have ready for public use by early summer, 1960, a swimming pool complete with all necessary facilities and equipment as well as suitably planned and graded areas for a park recreation program to be directed and supervised by expert and competent personnel.

The board will place before the voters a bond issue referendum for $350,000, with the referendum date to be announced in subsequent issues of the Rolling Meadows Herald as well as other media as soon as a "go ahead" is received from Chapman and Cutler.

Among items to be covered as initial expenditures would be grading, leveling, contouring, fine grading and seeding. One of the major items to be covered by the bond issue would be the swimming pool and related buildings. The need for a pool is extremely vital to the youth of Rolling Meadows as apparent from the large number of city residents who have purchased family season passes at the Arlington Heights park district. A pool, together with a well-rounded park program, would make it possible to bring to the residents park facilities "at home."

IN ADDITION TO the $350,000 bond authority the park board will ask for a five mill recreation tax approval along with an additional corporate tax of five mills. The corporate tax will meet costs of maintaining the park and providing an adequate budget for salaries and wages of competent maintenance personnel. The recreation tax will provide funds for the planned recreation programs.

Cost to the average Rolling Meadows home owner would be $16.80 for homes with an average tax bill of $300. This would include $10.80 for the bond issue, $3 for the recreation tax and $3 for the corporate tax increase.

A $6 tax for the park district is now included in the average $300 tax bill. This would produce a revenue of about $16,000 annually—a negligible amount to establish a park and a park program. If present tax revenue were the entire proceeds to the park district a complete park would be possibly 20 years away.

The decision will be left to the residents of the city. Is a park vital or not? Will it complete our city. Does the city want a park soon, or not.

The people will be asked to decide.

Sicems Plan Gala Picnic This Sunday

The Sicems are getting sociable.

"Sicem" stands for Suburban Imported Car Engine Mites; and the next event on their calendar is a picnic this Sunday.

The Mites plan to meet at the Rolling Meadows shopping center at 9 a. m. and tool up to Druce Lake.

Plans include games for both children and adults, and a picnic for members and prospective members, according to Richard E. Kinney, 33 Evergreen st., Elk Grove Village.

THE MITES are also planning a twilight rallye for July 11, with the Bob Tipples, winners of the May 24 navigational rallye, being honored with their choice of a route. Starting time is 7:30 a. m.

Advantages to Mites' membership are numerable, these foreign car owners say. There are: 1) rallyes; 2) meeting with other owners to compare mileage, handling qualities; 3) a compatibility of interests.

For further information, Rich Kinney can be contacted at HE 7-0132.

Council Opposes Transit Tax Bills

COUNCIL OPPOSES 2-30 ital

Rolling Meadows city council took a unanimous strong stand Tuesday night opposing pending bills in the state legislature designed to tax Cook county residents and home owners to provide financial relief for the Chicago Transit Authority.

The bills, discussed at length by Paddock Publications in a special full-page news and editorial round-up several weeks ago, would tax residents of the city and general area at a rate of one cent on each gallon of gasoline sold.

TEXT OF THE resolution adopted by the council was:

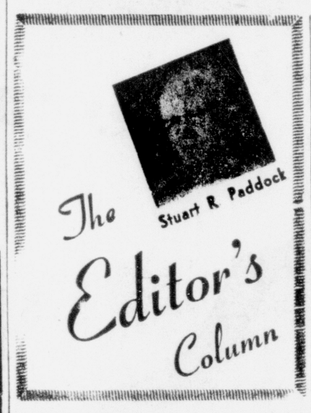
WHEREAS there are presently pending in the Illinois Legislature, bills to extend the authority of the C.T.A. to include the four Northwest Townships including Palatine Township, and to grant the C.T.A. revenue of one cent per gallon on the sale of gasoline within Cook County, and possible real estate tax assessment at the rate of five cents per $100.00, and

WHEREAS it is the belief of this council that decades would pass before any Chicago Transit Authority facilities would be able to provide any service for the Northwest Suburban area, and then only after the expenditure of huge sums of money, and that taxes for existing and growing municipal and school needs now impose a burden on the Citizens of this and nearby communities, and

WHEREAS there is generally available to most of the residents of the Northwest Suburban area existing railroad and bus facilities,

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the City Council of the City of Rolling Meadows:

1.) That this council go on record as being strongly opposed to the pending legislation to provide tax and other relief to the C.T.A.
2.) That the Mayor be and hereby is directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to the legislators in both the Illinois House and the Illinois Senate representing the citizens of the City of Rolling Meadows.
3.) That said legislators consider the resolution a mandate of the people of the City of Rolling Meadows with respect to action on the proposed legislation.



After sitting-in at an off-the cuff interview with Vice President Nixon and members of the National Editorial Association at Colorado Springs last week, we discovered that there is not much difference in the manner in which Congress operates and the governing bodies back home.

Worth while projects often fail because of politics or pressure groups.

Nixon answered a batter of questions which covered almost every national question except one—desegregation.

It was the one subject that we did not hear discussed in the bull sessions of the editors who had come from all parts of the country.

We can not imagine a reporter missing such a controversial subject, but the interviewers were only editors!

During preceding days the editors had been given briefings on NORAD, the joint defense operation of the United States and Canada, as well as the new U. S. Air Force Academy, both located near Colorado Springs.

If an unidentified aircraft passes the DEW line near the Arctic Circle, that fact is known by NORAD in the matter of minutes.

The progress of the plane southward is checked, as well as the measures taken to correctly identify the approaching aircraft, and if necessary, destroy it.

This watchfulness is going on 24 hours of the day. Upon a huge screen we could see why aircraft thousands of miles distant is not a secret to NORAD.

Electric computers greatly speed up air defense reaction and can semi-automatically control much of the air battle situation.

When we asked a colonel how many congressmen had visited NORAD, the center of our air defense, we were told "Very few."

The USAF Chief of Staff, Major General J. V. Crabb, made it clear that the Air Force, the Navy including the Marines, the Army and the Royal Canadian Air Force have a fine effective working relationship on their plans for the North American Air Defense Command. Each officer of the four sections of the NORAD made it clear that branches of the armed service can and are working as a powerful unit.

Admittance to the Air Academy is now easy. Less than a third of those who apply are admitted. It all starts back in their baby days, an officer told us. He said, "The baby who is allowed to say 'no' when he is told to eat his breakfast, will not be good material for the Academy when he is a man."

The entire Nixon interview was devoid of politics and he did not request that his remarks be considered "off the record."

When asked "is there a need for the United Nations?" He countered with "Is it not better to talk than to shoot?"

Nixon said that he likes a good fight when it is in the other party. He looks for a Republican victory. He has not yet officially announced his own candidacy. It is his opinion that Russia does not want a war any more than the Allies, but preparedness is the only thing that will curb Soviet plans to conquer the world.

- A City That Isn't There
- 10,000 'Ghost' Residents
- Our Place on the Map

BY HELENE BRISTOL

A town that isn't there.

Several years ago a very popular musical titled Brigadoon told the story of a town that just wasn't there except for one day each 100 years. Brigadoon was popular with the public, with critics and particularly with the producers as the "town that wasn't there" proved to be very profitable.

Unfortunately, the "town that wasn't there" title appears to be true for Rolling Meadows as well — and is not popular or profitable for residents, developers or businessmen.

Almost five years since the incorporation of the city, just try to find it on an official State of Illinois road map!

The city's actual recorded population is more than 8,400 (and now estimated at more than 10,000) but try to find a road direction sign that will lead you to the community.

Mention the name of the city in Chicago — or Elgin — or any town outside of the immediate area — and chances are 99 in 100 you will be greeted with a blank stare or a query of "Where is that?"

According to the major gasoline companies there must not be any motorists in Rolling Meadows for the town does not appear on their maps. Since they do not recognize the city's existence one wonders if they similarly are uninterested in selling gasoline to the city's motorists.

About a year ago — long after the official incorporation date of the city duly recorded with the official state departments — former Mayor John S. Northcote received a huge "official" state map. Apparently the state was aware that Rolling Meadows had a mayor to whom such documents should be sent, but the map very nicely "forgot" to show the City of Rolling Meadows in any manner, shape or form (as you can imagine to the great delight of city officials!).

Inquiries to the state highway department regarding road direction signs has brought a reply that the "matter would be investigated." This is the similar reply to questions about inclusion of the community on official state maps.

The Route 53 exit from the Illinois Northwest Tollway, about 3 blocks from the present Rolling Meadows city limits, is marked "Arlington Heights."

Road signs in all directions from Rolling Meadows plainly mark Arlington Heights as well as Palatine (with an almost exact population figure). Road signs also are erected showing the direction of Cloverdale (1,432), Addison (1,354), Cary (1,267), Fox River Grove (1,313), Bartlett (716) or even Bloomingdale (339).

The 10,000 residents of Rolling Meadows still must send detailed directions by mail to visiting relatives or friends — because they would never find the city by means of road signs!

The only state office which seems to be completely aware of the location, number of residents, number of homes and all similar vital statistics is the office of the tax collector. Tax bills are correctly and regularly sent to the right homes.

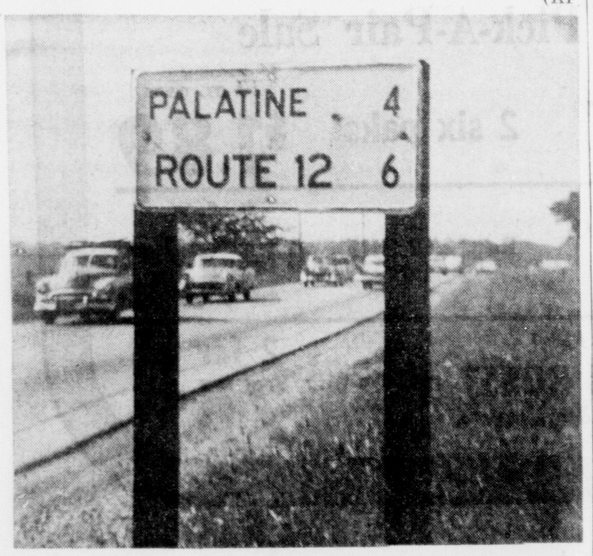
The "where-is-it?" location of Rolling Meadows is inconvenient to individual families and home owners, but proves to be a far greater problem (and discouragement) to potential commercial and industrial development. As a young community Rolling Meadows has literally "pulled itself up by the bootstraps" in establishment of needed governmental services, churches, schools and community programs. The individual residential areas have taken on a "cared-for" look and beautification. The community deserves recognition — certainly at least recognition as to its existence if not recognition for its accomplishments.

It is time the highway department relieved visiting motorists of the necessity of carrying compass, sextant or following the direction of the stars to find Rolling Meadows. In the fast pace of today's living (and driving) this is a little (?) inconvenient compared to adequate road direction signs.

It is also time the State of Illinois took inventory of its most important assets — its citizens and its growing communities.

Rolling Meadows may not yet deserve a "place in the sun" but it certainly deserves a place on its own official state map.

(KF



RESIDENTS OF ROLLING MEADOWS frequently complain that their city name and location is not familiar to motorists, stores or the general public. This situation is ably abetted by the lack of any road direction signs to the city. This sign, on Rohlwing rd., a short distance from the heart of the city commercial area, directs passing motorists to Palatine and Rt. 12—with not a mention of the city of 10,000 residents lying directly ahead.

MOTORISTS AT THE INTERSECTION of Rts. 53 and 62 are carefully directed to Palatine, Lombard and Des Plaines—but Rolling Meadows with city boundaries less than 1 block away is not even mentioned. This "find it yourself" atmosphere on road direction signs is universally prevalent in all directions of the city with a population of more than 10,000—to the confusion of all visiting motorists. City Authorizes New U.S. Census

A federal census to accurately determine the present population of Rolling Meadows was authorized by the city council Tuesday night.

City officials estimate the present population of the city to be in excess of 10,000 people, a substantial increase from the approximate 8,400 population figure established in the last census two years ago.

Major advantage for establishing a larger census figure is the return of state motor fuel tax funds to the city for repair and maintenance of streets.

Other possible uses of these funds, as stated by Ald. Tom Waldron who introduced the census resolution, is the construction of bridges, sidewalks, curbs, storm sewers under streets and other projects related to streets and roads maintained under the motor fuel tax funds.

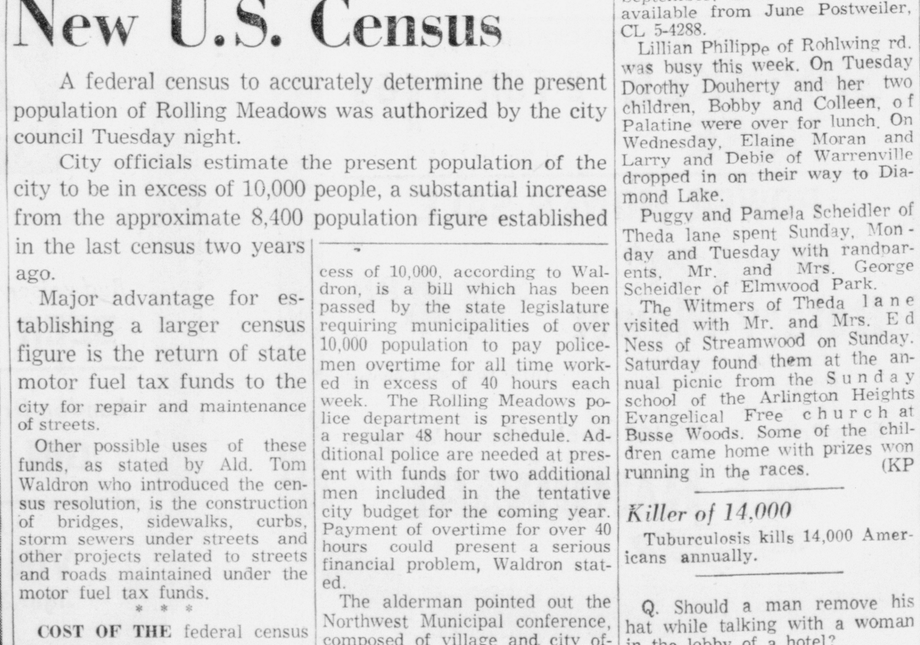
COST OF THE federal census was set at $1,760. Motor fuel tax payments, at approximately $5 per person each year, could bring an additional $10,000 into the Rolling Meadows motor fuel tax account prior to the next regular census in 1960, Ald. Waldron stated.

One possible disadvantage of establishing a population in excess of 10,000, according to Waldron, is a bill which has been passed by the state legislature requiring municipalities of over 10,000 population to pay policemen overtime for all time worked in excess of 40 hours each week. The Rolling Meadows police department is presently on a regular 48 hour schedule. Additional police are needed at present with funds for two additional men included in the tentative city budget for the coming year. Payment of overtime for over 40 hours could present a serious financial problem, Waldron stated.

The alderman pointed out the Northwest Municipal conference, composed of village and city officials of the northwest Cook county area, had petitioned Governor Stratton to veto the bill, but the action of the governor is in doubt.

The aldermen stressed they felt city police were entitled to overtime payments but pointed to the financial problems facing the city should this become a necessity. (KF



A CHECK FOR $7,500 to be used for a roadway to the new St. Colette church, Rolling Meadows, is presented to Fr. James F. Halpin, pastor, by George Mahoney, retiring president of the Holy Name Society. Obviously pleased at the success of their fund-raising efforts and the inclusion in the presentation ceremonies were the other society officers—Harold Hill (seated) and Edward Brown, Al Morphey, John Connor and Robert Bochte.

Street Resurfacing Approved by Council

Resurfacing of Meadow dr. from Kirchhoff rd. to Grouse ln. from Pheasant dr. to Jay ln. was approved by Rolling Meadows city aldermen Tuesday night at their regular council session.

The resurfacing project, estimated at a $20,000 cost, will be paid for through state motor fuel tax funds. Approval of the resurfacing project will be needed from the state agency prior to the start of construction.

PRIOR TO THE vote to resurface Grouse lane, the aldermen designated Grouse lane from Meadow dr. to Wilke rd. as an arterial street. The portion of Grouse between Pheasant and Meadow dr. had previously been so designated. By labeling a street as an arterial road a larger portion of the city's motor fuel tax money is available for use on that roadway.

In other action the aldermen approved the subdivision plat of unit 19 for Hill Homes. Unit 19 lies along the south side of Kirchhoff rd., running west from Wilke rd. to an area west of the extension of Oriole lane. This particular section had been designated for small apartment row houses several months ago by the builder. The approved plat is for single family dwellings with all lots above the minimum 7,500 square feet set by city statute.

The plat had been approved by the city plan commission. A discussion of possible change in the subdivision layout to provide for a possible school site almost brought the tabling of the plat. A statement by John Hayes of the Hill Homes firm that the builder would be forced to cancel construction and temporarily lay off workers within one and a half weeks if the plat was not approved brought further consideration. This school site was described as a "third choice" in the present program of the local school board to find a junior high school site by Joel Meyer, Rolling Meadows member of the school board.

THE ALDERMEN unanimously adopted a resolution objecting to the proposed new Cook County zoning ordinance. Particularly noted as objectionable by the councilmen was the R-6, general residential zoning, of the land at Euclid and Wilke rd. Major objection with the proposed rezoning planned for Palatine township was the zoning of the race track property for light manufacturing. Ald. Tom Waldron, former chairman of the plan commission, noted that both these rezoning proposals conflicted with the Rolling Meadows' master plan which lists these areas as single family residential zones.

The council also instructed the city plan commission to meet with the Arlington Heights plan commission to discuss mutual problems, both of a local nature and in connection with the proposed county rezoning.

The council approved the appointment of Ald. Edward Potaniec as a representative to the D.A.M.P. water commission. The D.A.M.P. group is a cooperative investigation by Des Plaines, Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Palatine on the bringing of Lake Michigan water to the area.

PERMISSION FOR the city's two package liquor stores to open for business at 9 a.m. on Saturday, July 4, instead of noon as set by the liquor ordinance for legal holidays resulted in a tie, broken by Mayor Woods who cast an affirmative vote. Ald. Jack Mackin who suggested the variation for this individual holiday stated surrounding communities permitted their package liquor stores to open early on such holidays to service residence wishing to go on picnics for the day. He pointed out the liquor stores estimated on such holidays they did 50 per cent of their business before noon and to keep the city's stores closed would merely send customers to other communities.

Ald. Tom Waldron, George Hamm and Charles Haley approved the early opening with Mackin. Stressing the basic ordinance should be revised, if such action was needed, even though this would not permit action in time for this July 4, Ald. Lee Enger, "Bud" Freiburger, Phil Prete and Ed Pontaniec voted against the measure, with Mayor Woods again casting an affirmative tie-breaking vote. (KF

Growing Juvenile, Liquor Crises Here

Liquor, disorderly conduct and Dram shop violations are appearing in greater numbers on Rolling Meadows police records and in police magistrate court, to the extent that Police Magistrate Robert T. Casey this week issued a statement that a "serious juvenile and liquor problem is apparently growing in the city."

Close of a case involving three teenagers came Monday night when Magistrate Casey found Michael E. Banks, 19, guilty of disorderly conduct, fining him $25 and placing him on probation for a six month period in his father's custody. Banks and two younger youths were picked up by the Arlington police at 2 a. m. in Rolling Meadows while the Arlington squad was on its way to the Rolling Meadows police station.

THE TRIO WAS described as noisy and suspicious in their conduct. Taken to the Rolling Meadows police station Banks iti, Stone Park, and one of the other youths (a minor) became disorderly and abusive according to police testimony. In addition Banks admitted drinking and taking some merchandise from an Arlington Heights service station. When police detained the trio pending the arrival of their parents, Banks who lives at 755 Division st., Barrington, fled the station and was picked up by Arlington police two days later. Cases against the younger youths had been heard and settled earlier.

A $50 fine for violation of the dram shop act (carrying open liquor in an automobile) was levied Monday against Richard Semmens, 215 Miner st. A passenger in the automobile, Harace W. Miller, Hosimer Motel, Palatine, was fined $50 for drunk and disorderly conduct.

Also fined for drunk and disorderly conduct was Raymond Cen-

News Of Rolling Meadows

STRICT DISCIPLINE and rote learning were important characteristics of the early American educational system as ably dramatized by Jonas Salk school seventh grade students in their production of "May We Remember," a musical-drama play on the merits (and demerits) of the present-day educational system. Flashing an 1848 sign is Robert Fielding, with Susan Lenmann, Carolyn Anderson and Robert Zietz (front) and Larry Sims, James Quinn and Marcia Michalek acting as students in the typical 1848 classroom.

DAVID PHILIPPE in the role of a teacher in a nineteenth century American school severly reprimands Robert Zietz for daring to try to learn on his own initiative an individual method of determining square root rather than the memory system being taught in the class. The scene was one of the highlights of the "May We Remember" program presented by seventh grade students of Jonas Salk school, Rolling Meadows, shortly before the close of school last week. Other "students" in the old-time schoolroom scene are (front row) Susan Lenmann and Carolyn Anderson and (rear) Larry Sims, James Quinn, Dale LeFevre and Marcia Michalek.

First Communion Held For 155 at Two Masses

First communion masses for the past two Saturdays have been held by St. Colette Catholic church, Rolling Meadows, with 155 children participating in the communion sacrament for the first time.

The first mass, held at 8 a.m. June 13, was conducted by Rev. James F. Halpin, pastor. There were 78 first communicants in the group, with the great majority students of the second grade. At a similar mass at 8 a.m. June 20 Rev. Richard Feller, assistant pastor, served first communion to a class of 77 children.

The children were attired in white veils and dresses or white shirts and ties. They had successfully completed a year of weekly one-hour study periods under the supervision of 34 volunteer teachers. Children were divided unto 17 classes of approximately seven to 10 members.

Volunteer teacher-mothers for the first communion were Mmes. ever you indicate a group of Kay Albin, Pat Komosa, Ruth Brown, Carolyn Curtis, Pat Hoffmann, Lorraine Schoenfeld, Pat Cashin, Louise Byrne, Peggy Maher, Virginia Henaughan, Joyce Costello, Lucille Martin, Doris Sales, Annette Guaglianone, Pat Schmit, Mary Johnson, Ann White, Marie Langhoff, Mary Clare McCormick, Lois DuBois and Claudia Hoss. PRIOR TO THEIR first communion the children were enrolled in the "Brown Scapular" according to the custom of the Catholic church. The Brown Scapular, made of two small pieces of woolen cloth about two inches square connected by string, is worn with one piece on the back and another on the chest. According to Catholic tradition in 1250 A. D. the blessed Virgin appeared to St. Simon Stock, general of the Carmelite Order at that time, giving him a scapular. The tradition states She promised that everyone who wore the scapular and lived piously should escape damnation, should have Her protection in all dangers and should quickly be released from Purgatory.

Saints Edge Hawks; Tie For Third

The Garden Liquor Saints edged the Hawks, 13-12, in 11 innings Sunday to pull into a third place tie with the Hawks in the Rolling Meadows Men's Softball league.

Frank Streng produced the winning hit for the Saints although Ron Feiereisel with four for five had a great deal to do for five had a great deal to do in the win.

Tom Rife led the Hawks with a home run and missed a second hit when he ran into the Saints first baseman, was injured, and forced to leave the game.

Sigwalt remained unbeaten by defeating the American Legion, 12-2, behind the hurling of Don Dahlquist. Dahlquist aided his own cause with three hits. Ed Jaske had two hits for Sigwalt, including a triple. Lou Winslow was Sigwalt's defensive star.

Bruns and Payne Bluebirds remained right on Sigwalt's heels a game behind with a 30-13 thumping of the winless Owls. Jim Wilson's bases loaded home run provided the big punch for the Bluebirds although Dick Zmich, Howie Zaccard, Gordon Granger and Chuck Hansen caused their share of trouble. Bob Evensen with three for five, including a home run, paced the Owls.

Parish Education Wing Is Completed

Less than a year since the dedication of their original church plant, Bethel Lutheran church, Plum Grove, will hold dedication services Sunday for their new 14-room parish education wing.

The service is set for 10:30 a.m. in the church, Rohlwing rd. and Briarwood lane. An "open house" for members, friends and community residents will be held from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

PARTICIPATING in the dedication service will be Dr. P. S. Dybvig director of the home mission department of the Evangelical Lutheran church. Dr. Dybvig will conduct the rite of dedication and preach at the service. Also participating will be Rev. Otto Hesla, regional director of the home mission department, and Rev. J. L. Olson, church pastor.

A 9 a.m. service will also be held with Rev. Hesla preaching. New members will be received into the congregation at the 9 a.m. service.

Other distinguished guests slated to participate in the dedication are Clarence Hagen, lay assistant of the First English Lutheran church of Whitewater, Wisc., and Harvey Peterson, representing the Grace Lutheran church of Winchester, Wisc. These congregations have extended their credit to the Rolling Meadows-Plum Grove area church to erect the new building.

THE FOUR CHURCH choirs will participate in the service under the direction of Mrs. George Westby of Arlington Heights.

An invitation to "friends in the area" to attend the dedication or open house has been extended by the church. The open house will afford all interested residents to inspect the new church facilities. Refreshments will be served by members of the Women's guild.

The parish education section includes 13 classrooms, two offices, lavatory facilities and a recreation room. The first unit of the church—the present church and fellowship hall—was dedicated last September. Ground was broken for the new addition in October.

Plans call for the eventual construction of a permanent church on the three-acre wooded site to the south of the existing buildings. The congregation was organized in March, 1958.

Braves Keep Ahead in Meadows LL

Pitcher Ken Peters kept the Braves in first place in the Rolling Meadows Little League by pitching and hitting his team to a 16-2 victory over the Sox Sunday. The win kept the Braves a half game ahead of the Yanks.

Peters set the Sox down on five hits and banged out a homerun in the Braves' 15-hit attack. Six of the Braves' hits were doubles.

Despite Indian home runs by Gilreath and Hundrieser, the Yanks scored in all but one inning Sunday to defeat the Indians, 12-4, and keep on the Braves' tail.

Bob Prucha gave up seven hits in receiving credit for the Yank triumph. This was the first time Prucha pitched and he walked none and fanned 11. He and Larry Sims and Ricky Ulbrich all qbad doubles but yielded Schmick's triple.

The Cubs moved into third place with a 15-7 thumping of the Cardinals. A 10-run first inning aided the cause no end. Kottarz and Lynch led the Cubs, each getting a double though Zographos homered for the losers.

The Yanks suffered a severe blow Friday when the Cards scored a run in the last of the seventh to defeat the Cards, 10-9. Prucha's two home runs couldn't offset doubles by Zographos, Rowbottom, and Tatar of the Cards.

The Cards also dropped a one-run, 3-2, decision in seven innings whenthe Sox scored in the top of the frame to win. Liga received credit for the triumph in the June 16 game.

In a battle of first place, Wednesday, June 17, Peters homered to pace the Braves to a 6-3 triumph over the Yanks. Ulbrich set down the Yanks on three hits, one of which was Sims' triple. (Sp

Park Ridge Rally Beats Meadows, 7-3

Rolling Meadows' Legion team, sponsored by Charles Bruning, came the closest to victory so far this season.

Coach Charles Kelly's nine held a 3-2 lead on highly regarded Park Ridge before the Ridge team exploded for four runs in the sixth inning off Meadows hurler Hildebrandt for a 7-3 triumph last Thursday at Lindheimer field.

Rolling Meadows scored all three runs on a triple by Rusty Neuman. Scoring were Bob Broge who had single, Joe Wortheimer who also singled and Bill McFeggan who was safe on an error.

Park Ridge got back two runs in the third on a single by Don Humay, a walk to Rowlee, a single by Wagner driving Humay across, and a single by Dick Kunkel, scoring, Rowlee.

Humay opened the "black fifth" with a triple and Rowlee doubled him home. On a ground out by Wagner, Rowlee scored Park Ridge's lead run. The visitors added two insurance runs on a double by Kunkel, an error on which Fidley was safe and permitted Kunkel to score, and a single by Halpenney which drove Fridley across.

Coach Kelly cited Dave Zimmerman of Wheeling, Tom Broderick and Rusty Neuman for their play for the Meadows nine.

Workers Win High Praise From Firemen

High praise for the aid of volunteer workers at the Rolling Meadows firemen's carnival last week came this week from both the Volunteer firemen and their women's auxiliary.

The carnival and prize presentation raised an estimated $9,000 for the purchase of additional fire equipment and payment of annual mortgage charges on one of the present fire trucks.

MRS ELMER JOHNSON, president of the Rolling Meadows Volunteer Fire department Women's auxiliary, stressed the volunteer aid given by city residents had done much to insure the success of the carnival. Mrs. Johnson stated "without the help of the volunteer workers we would have been "up the creek" and praised their help.
